Thornhill District News

Thornhill Salvage Committee is appealing to the people of the Thornhill district to become more "salvage conscious", and urges that in the coming week a special effort be made to bring in all kinds of waste material. This waste material is needed in vital industries, and there is plenty of it in this district. The committee asks you to take a look right now, look in the attic, the woodshed and around the barn, look everywhere about the place. Don't leave it until tomorrow, or next week, and don't wait for someone to come and get it. Do a job for Victory right now. Gather up all the Salvage you can find and bring it to the Depot located in the barn at the rear of Thornhill Meat Market. The committee especially asks for scrap metal, rubber and rags. Paper is not required right now, but citizens are asked to save it for the next appeal. Waste material can be made into war weapons. Save them, give them to your salvage committee and Canada will use them to make tanks, guns, planes and ships. This is a war job everyone can do. Get busy right now.

THE KIND WE LIKE!

He came in this morning to pay for his paper, apologizing that he was more than two years behind. To make up for that, instead of paying to October, 1942, he said he would pay to October 1943, more than one year ahead. Then he said if he had been more than two years behind, he'd better pay more than two years ahead, so he gave us ten dollars to pay to October, 1944.—(Fergus News-Record).

Bowling, in case you don't know, is the second oldest sport on record.

Sir Francis Drake and the Spanish Armada are stamped on the mind of everyone of us since we handled dog-eared history texts at school, and with that great mariner the Field hockey has the distinction of being first. Its exact origin is a major mystery. Historians believed it came down from antiquity to become a game of some import in early Egypt, later in Greece and Rome. Ancient vases and plaques prove this but only the aristocracy seems to have played it and those mostly of the elderly class.

game of bowls too. Actually, however, as early as 1299 a group of players formed the Southampton lawn bowling club. This pioneer among clubs still exists and games are played regularly on the original green that was laid out over 600 years ago. We have talked to those who have played upon this same green and on Drake's too.

Henry the Wife-killer issued an edict in 1511 in which he declared "the game of bowls is an evil because the greens are operating in conjunction with saloons or dissolute places and bowling has ceased to be sport and rather a form of vicious gambling." Henry was no angel and even if on that particular day he was on the outs with one of his wives, things must have been really low-down. The ban wasn't officially lifted until 1854 but as you can guess the game continued without interruption but on a higher moral plain.

King James in his "The Book of Sports" 1618 recommended the game to his son. King Charles I was a great bowler and fancied himself too, reputedly losing $5,000 on a single game to one Richard Shute, a merchant, who had a super-fast green on Barking Hill.

Scotland took up the game in the 16th century and it was for a long time the national game. It was the Scots who improved the game and made many of the rules which exist today. In 1848 the first rules were set down as a code for the game by W. W. Mitchell, one of the greatest bowls authorities ever known.

America saw bowling as early as 1690, with Boston and New York the early strongholds. As early as 1714 in Boston there was even advertising in the paper about it. When it came to Canada is not known, earlier in the Maritimes than elsewhere probably, but certainly soon after the fall of Quebec and the English occupation. The French-Canadians for sure didn't bowl.

With Hall's Service Station gas in the tank of your motor you can start the car with quick confidence and be off with a z—zip! Use it regularly.
