"TO THE INFANT JESUS"
Give me Thy wondrous faith,
O Little Child,
That I may be
Re-born in faith this Christmastide
Even as thee.
Show me Thy trustfulness,
O Little Child,
That I may find
The secret of Thy wondrous love
Toward mankind.
Make me as pure in thought
O Little Child,
On this, Thy day
As Thine own spotless mind,
For this I pray.

Guide me the selfless way,
O Little Child,
So may I give
A life of service and a heart of love
Thus would I live.

—Jean Gay Roech
To The Liberal, its staff and its readers we extend greetings and best wishes for a bright and cheerful Christmas.

Services will be held next Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. in Newtonbrook United Church conducted by the pastor. Sunday School meets at 10 a.m. A hearty invitation is extended to all.

A triple christening took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pinder when Ross Wallace, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pinder (nee Bessie Brett), Jo-Anna and June, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brett (nee Eva Lockyer) were baptized by Rev. A. H. Halbert. Mr. and Mrs. Pinder entertained the guests numbering twelve to a dinner afterwards.

Mrs. Murdie Campbell and daughter Miss Mary Campbell entertained at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Dorothy Hurd last Friday evening. Miss Hurd was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts.

Mr. Martin, architect of Ellerslie Ave., was the purchaser of the York Mills Baptist Parsonage at the auction sale last Saturday afternoon which was conducted by Clarke Prentice.

Pte. Harold Copeland arrived home last Saturday morning from Vancouver Island on a three weeks furlough. He said the roses were blooming at Vancouver when he left. Nine trains left Winnipeg together, filled with soldiers coming home on Xmas leave last Thursday, many of whom had been in the Alaska district for six months or more. There will be many happy home-comings this week. We hope by Christmas 1943 the war will be over and families will be re-united once more.

Never in its 101 years of weather recording did Toronto have such a cold snap so early in the winter as last Sunday. The mercury dropped to 16.5 below zero at 9.30 Sunday morning. It was the coldest since 1934 when it was 21 below zero on February 10th.

According to reports the mercury sank to 28 below zero at Newtonbrook last Sunday morning. The attendance at Sunday School at 10 a.m. was down to 45, less than half the regular attendance. A few came with their ears frozen.

Christmas services were held in the United Church with a very good attendance. The choir was out in full force and gave special Christmas anthems which were very much appreciated by all. The pastor spoke on 'The Hope that Christmas Brings'. At 7 p.m. there was a carol service after which the Young Ladies' Bible Class presented a Christmas pageant. This was repeated by request. The title was "The Coming of the Prince of Peace". Those taking part in the pageant were: Reader, Hazel Campbell; Prophets, Frances Schmidt, Ann and Elise Wells; Shepherds, Betty Reid, Jean Lockhart, Marjorie Rowe and Hazel Peeling; Reciter, Reta Hurd; Mary, Gladys Rowe; The Messenger of Peace, Phyllis Duggan; Pianist, Mrs. W. E. Hick. A tableau followed, while the congregation sang "Joy to the World the Lord is come."

The Christmas meeting of the G. R. Goulding Memorial Home and School Association was held in the Newtonbrook school with Mrs. G. Booth presiding. Christmas carols were sung by Grades 7 and 8 under the direction of Miss H. Bentley. The Religious Education convener, Mrs. Stuart Saver, then took over the meeting and introduced Rev. A. H. Halbert, the guest speaker, who gave an inspirational address. Mrs. R. Catherwood extended thanks to Mr. Halbert for his helpful address and for coming to speak to friends and members of the Home and School Association. Mrs. Chester Brett gave four very interesting readings. A prize is given each month to the teacher for the largest attendance of parents at the Home and School Association. In November Mrs. Lorrie Hammond's class (Primary) received the prize. In December Mr. A. McRoberts' class won the attendance prize. There are eight teachers in the G. R. Goulding Memorial School. All gathered in the assembly room for refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Newtonbrook United Church Sunday School held its annual Christmas Tree and Concert last Thursday evening in the church school room with a fine attendance. The heavy snowfall that came in the afternoon provided splendid sleighing for Santa Claus who arrived just in time to distribute the gifts off a prettily decorated Christmas tree. The gifts were piled all around the tree as well, and on the mantel over the fireplace which gave out a friendly glow and a homey atmosphere. The S.S. room looked very gay with Christmas decorations. Rev. A. H. Halbert was chairman and in his remarks welcomed the parents and friends to the annual Christmas party. Gordon Hurd gave the formal address of welcome. Three songs in a group were given by the members of the Primary classes. Two playlets "The coming of Christmas" and "A Christmas letter from Santa Claus" with Wilma Adair singing the solo part and all joining in the chorus, were well received. A play "A Changed Christmas" was also very interesting when a group of selfish children were transformed by the Christmas Fairy and decided to become more loving and unselfish. Recitations were given by Fred Chalkin, Ronald Sneed, David Brett, Douglas Hurd, Jimmie Campbell, Georgina Plain and Laurie Taylor. Nancy Cole sang a solo and gave a piano solo. Robert Connor, our outstanding boy soloist, sang twice and was heartily encored each time. A play "Miss Christmas acquitted" was well presented by Miss Mabel Brett's class. Mrs. McGregor's S.S. class gave a very colorful play, gaily dressed in paper dresses and hats of pastel shades and all took their parts very creditably. The closing number was a sacred pageant "The Coming of the Prince of Peace" by Mrs. Halbert's class of fourteen young ladies which was followed by a tableau.
