King W.I. Sixth Birthday
 Never has a six year old child seemed so healthy, remarks made by Rev. M. Jenkinson in reply to the visitors' toast made by Miss Dennis at the sixth birthday of King W.I., describes the form in which the Institute finds itself at the present time. It is not a matter of self congratulation but an expression of gratitude on the part of officers and members alike that war years have proven adequately that unity of purpose can be readily converted into the peace time program lying ahead. More than 100 participated in the banquet, with most of the 65 members present. The supper tables and careful planning were conveined by Mrs. Wells McDonald and a staff of live helpers.

The tone of the birthday party was one of enjoyment and procedure manifested thought on the part of the executive. Following the toast to the King, in her opening address, the president, Mrs. D. Rawlings, pointed out some of the achievements of the branch with a challenge to embrace new vision, new ventures and fresh inspiration for the immediate years that are coming. Organized in 1939, chiefly for war work, the field of labor in the community points to worth while efforts along definite lines. A library club has been established; a dental service in the school set up and the Memorial Park project set up by the Athletic Association will provide ample activity for community endeavour.

The toast to the Institute was given by Mrs. H. Wilson with the reply by Mrs. J. Boak, district president who brought greetings from 21 branches.

A summary of war effort work was outlined by the secretary, Miss E. G. McClure and in remarks made by Mrs. C. W. Marchant, Schomberg, district secretary-treasurer, she stated King W.I. was second to none in its war effort of the district. Mrs. Marchant also portrayed her experience with a variety of friendly people who make up part of the rank and file of today's citizens. Let us extend the hospitality and genuine friendship that others would crave to find in us. There is a treasure in store for such.

The highlight of the occasion was the presence of Miss Ethel Chapman, noted authoress and lecturer. Long associated with rural problems and Women's Institutes, she put fresh vigor into the minds of her hearers and impetus to action. She explained how discussion groups could improve and stimulate knowledge. How thinking women may voice wise opinion and help shape important projects toward betterment of the locality in which they live. The field of agriculture, social welfare, citizenship and health need the best brain power and intellect of its women. She spoke of group hospitalization as an unique opportunity for the W.I. Promotion of adult education movement will produce the type of Canadian citizen needed to make an impact on the larger field of citizenship.

Excellent musical numbers were rendered by vocalists, Dr. Jack Shepard, Maple; Miss L. Fierheller, Aurora and L./Cpl. Alfred Barker, Miss Dorothy Armstrong accompanied at the piano.

L./Cpl. Barker thanked the W.I. for letters, parcels, gifts sent out to King boys in the forces. They were like pennies from heaven, filling a need which bolstered morale and made the lads feel it was all worth while. Present also at the banquet was Pte. Dave Glass, and happy reunion meetings there were.

The birthday occasion was one to be remembered, its inspirations put into practice.

Schomberg W.I. will visit King on November 13th.
 King W.I. will visit Kettleby Branch on November 14th.

St. Andrew's Anniversary
 The 108th anniversary of the founding of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Strange, was held with large congregations at both services. The preacher, Rev. M. E. Burch, Mimico, was warmly welcomed to his former charge and he in turn was delighted to be among old friends again. Mr. Burch appears in excellent health and delivered outstanding sermons. The music was supplied by Maple Presbyterian choir with Mrs. Eldon Wade at the organ. In all respects the day was successful and the church gave back some of its old age memories. The colored Oak leaves decorating the interior seemed symbolic of its steadfastness. Many visitors were there and the choir was entertained by the ladies of the church.

Schomberg Fair
 Inclement weather, and a night's rain somewhat reduced attendance at Schomberg annual fair held on October 13th. Horse racing, riding and jumping events were not held but other features compensated partially. The innovation of a bicycle race and exhibition by Schomberg Boys' Calf Club interested many.

Georgetown Girls' Pipe Band found ready applause from the crowd and a variety of midway attractions, machine demonstrations and three refreshment stands as well a minor cold drink booth increased ways of money spending. Two merry-go-rounds brought the fair up to heyday order.

The baby show attracted many spectators and the babies loved the whole event. Pretty Shiela Lloyd, 8 months old, won the coveted first in under one year class. David Bateman, Bradford, a real general in the baby line, won first in the 2 year old class.

Hall exhibitions were good, scarce in vegetable and flower and fruit classes but better than most fairs for domestic science and needlecraft. Children's classes were very interesting. Blake Lloyd did outstanding work in pencil drawings.

In the stock classes, horses were heavy and some new exhibitors showed. Fair officials were pleased with the results considering the cold weather and damp grounds, they said.

Addressing Laskay Institute Mrs. Usher spoke on "Making the Most of What We Have" and by illustration pointed out in various ways how an opportunity or even a handicap may prove a definite step forward. The use of talent, time, the franchise and other gifts will increase the fruits and surprise ourselves if rightly applied.
