

Christian Love Only Can End Wars, O.M. Martin Tells Village

"May this Remembrance Day service help us to realize that wars will end only when we have learned to love one another and may the Great Spirit who rules the universe guide us and teach us to do unto others as we would have them do unto us."

Such were the concluding words of the stirring address delivered by Brigadier O. M. Martin, V.D. before the village war memorial last Sunday to more than 1,000 people.

"On this day our thoughts go back to those comrades who were with us in the mud and filth of the trenches of Belgium and France, and of those who until a few months ago fought not only in France and Belgium, but in Holland, Africa, Sicily and Italy whose numbers were up and who are with us no longer. They died that we might live.

"This community played an outstanding part in both first and second world wars, and many of your sons have paid the supreme sacrifice. My heart goes out to the mothers, wives and sweethearts whose loved ones lie buried in far off fields because they believed in an ideal. Not many of your homes have been left untouched, and this is a trying day for many of you.

"Your courage in turning out to this Remembrance Day service in spite of your sorrow is an indication of your strength as a people, of the strength of the Canadian people, and without such strength no nation can long survive.

"In this Day of Remembrance when we gather to pay tribute to those who have died for us and for our ideals we must not, however, forget the living who, because of the ravages of war, are broken in spirit, mind and body and who need care and sympathetic understanding. War has left them unable to compete with their fellow man in the struggle to live, and they must have our help, all of it we can give them.

"Active fighting in this war is not long over, and yet already we have the forgotten man. Do not let our army of 25,000 boys now in Germany as an occupation force, and who must remain in Germany for some considerable time under difficult conditions, become an army of forgotten men. The war is not over for them so write to them and remember that they are still serving so that we may continue to enjoy the privilege of life in a free country."

Many wreaths were placed by relatives and friends of boys who have paid the Supreme Sacrifice in this last war.

Acclamation Seen For Village Council

Reeve Bill Neal and members of the Richmond Hill municipal council will be elected this year end by acclamation so far as present indications go. All have agreed to accept office again, and no new comers have been so far mentioned. Nomination will be held November 23rd and elections on Monday, December 3rd.

In Vaughan and Markham townships, however, contests are promised. Bert Phelps of May Avenue, Richvale, zone commander for the Canadian Legion, announced nearly a year ago that he would be a candidate, and his friends say he will certainly be in the field.

YOUTH CONTROL PROBLEM IS LARGELY ONE OF GUIDANCE

During the memorial service in the front of the Cenotaph last Sunday afternoon, 16 windows were broken in the rear of the school building. A few weeks ago a fire was started in the arena that might have threatened the destruction of that building if it had not been extinguished. Halloween destruction of property was more general. The list of articles removed from the homes of owners, some of the articles smashed and otherwise damaged, represents unnecessary loss and shouldn't be "laughed off."

Many things that may inconvenience or cause discomfort to older people may be ascribed to the high spirits of youth, but the attacks made on private property here during the past few weeks are not of such classification. It is a harsh but inescapable fact that such acts put the perpetrators in the class of law breakers.

Prosecutions would involve the removal to police custody of the youths charged, and their appearance before a police magistrate who could demand guarantees of their future good behavior or, in his discretion, send them to reform schools. And the right to insist on such procedure is in the hands of anyone who has suffered loss as a result of the misconduct of such youths.

The control of youth rests primarily with parents, but if that control is not exercised the necessary police machinery already exists and can be readily invoked. But, as is often the case in connection with youthful depredations, an effective preventive influence rests also with friends and neighbors.

Only a few short months ago everyone in the village rejoiced over the formation of the Richmond Hill youth council, and everyone is still rejoicing that the youth of the village have found a way of providing for their own entertainment. Everyone knows that the boys and girls who are members of the council are respectable and law abiding, and no one wants that organization to receive a black eye from the misconduct of others or even from the reprehensible activities of a few of the council's own members.

We would suggest, therefore, to the Youth Council that, if for no other reason than the preservation of its own good name, it should take a hand in the prevention of further outbursts of such lawlessness as those we have here reported. We are still our brother's keeper, and our hand would rest less heavily on the shoulder of a misguided youngster than would the hand of a policeman. The counsel of one youth to another is probably all that would be necessary to check much annoying youthful exuberance.

Orillia Terriers Make Arena Gives Council Challenge To Local Plenty Of Headaches Box Lacrosse Team

Much speculation over the hockey situation in the Village has arisen over the Village Council's decision to give the Richmond Hill teams one night a week for practising. Last year every available night was taken with three nights skating and the Toronto Hockey League using it on Tuesday nights (three teams are scheduled to play in this league this year). Richmond Hill and District League on Thursday night and the Jr. O.H.A. team on Friday. If all these organizations are operating in the arena this year another night will have to be added to the week to accommodate them. One suggestion is to drop Saturday night skating and allow the Jr. O.H.A. team the use of the Arena that night for their games. Saturday night is known as hockey night in this section and why not make it known so in Richmond Hill?

The Orillia Terriers Box Lacrosse team of a few years ago are very anxious to have an exhibition game with the Richmond Hill team. At present plans are being made to this effect and by next week more definite plans might be given.

The Terriers are willing to play in Richmond Hill or any arena which is available so long as they get a game. Come on boys now is your chance to see how good you really can handle the stick.

The annual meeting of the Richmond Hill and District Hockey League will be held in the Municipal Hall on Tuesday evening, November 20th at 8.30 p.m. Teams from Woodbridge, Maple, Richmond Hill, Langstaff and Richvale are considering entering teams this year. A ruling which will most likely be brought up at this meeting will be the advisability of making it purely local with no imports from Toronto.

Last Thursday night Richmond Hill Minor hockey teams had their first practice of the season at the Iceland Arena in Toronto. Over 30 boys attended and were given a real work-out by Mr. Nighswander the coach. It has been definitely decided that two teams will be entered in the T.H.L. minor-midget and minor-bantam.

Our Junior team will take the ice this Saturday afternoon at Ravina Gardens from the hour of 4 to 5 p.m. It is expected that several new faces will be trying to make the team at this practice.

"Two of last year's Junior team, John Sullivan and Bob Hassard, played for Marlboro Junior A's on Monday against the strong St. Mike's team and were defeated by the score of 11-0. These two boys are still undecided as to their decision whether it will be B. or A. hockey. They are allowed to play two games in A. and then can drop back.

Garage Entered This Morning

Thieves early this morning entered the Cities Service Garage but to their disappointment were unsuccessful in obtaining any merchandise. Entrance was gained by forcing the back door. Apparently the would-be burglars were after cash as several cars are stored in the basement and none were molested.

Richmond Hill Girls Promise To Outclass Even Mother Now In Making Grandest Apple Pie

Apple pie such as even mother couldn't outclass is promised by the pupils of grades 7 and 8 in the public school when they have mastered the principles, or some of them, set down in their new domestic science course.

The course is the outcome of a decision by the principal, Walter Scott, and has been approved by the school board. It will be in charge of Mrs. Frank Tate and Mrs. H. Hickson, and will consist at the outset of one class per week.

"It will no doubt grow in popularity as time goes on," said Mrs. Hickson.

Mothers of girls attending the school are most enthusiastic about the innovation. "The one thing about which a girl should know most is housekeeping," said a prominent Richmond Hill matron to The Liberal, "and that is the one thing about which most young brides know least. The proper and economic management of a home is certainly something that should be taught in school."

Churchmen Make A Thousand Calls

A. E. Plewman, Secretary of the census committee reports that with 90 per cent of the returns in that there is every indication that at least one thousand calls will have been made by the men of the various churches. Tabulations have not yet been made as to the proportion of adherents to the various Faiths in the Richmond Hill area, but the number of people resident here will be a great surprise to many.

Canvassers reported that almost without exception they had been accorded the most cordial reception. Most householders appeared to be awaiting their visit and were sincerely pleased to know that they were being registered in the various church records. The very foggy weather on Monday night made it very hard, if not impossible, for some canvassers to complete their work. However, most calls were made on schedule even if weather conditions were rather trying.

Rev. C. B. Brethen and the Rev. W. F. Wrixon thanked the men for the splendid job they had done when they gathered at St. Mary's Parish Hall to make their returns. The Clergy felt that this had been a grand piece of community work and a demonstration of the great good fellowship which existed among the various congregations. The results of this work will become more apparent as the months go by.

Refreshments were served by a group of ladies representative of the three congregations under the convener'ship of Mrs. Douglas Boyd. Ladies who assisted were: Mrs. C. B. Brethen, Mrs. Roy Herrington, Mrs. J. Beresford, Mrs. H. H. MacKay, Mrs. N. J. Glass and Mrs. W. F. Wrixon.

District Deputy At Lions Tonight

An entertainment meeting of the Richmond Hill Lions Club will be held at the Lions Den tonight at 7.30. The guest speaker will be Rev. B. Newman of Markham, District Deputy Governor. Every member is urged to attend.

Neighbors Honour Veterans And Kin At Holland Landing

Holland Landing's population turned out a few nights ago to honor 46 returned servicemen and their families.

After a dinner served by the ladies in the basement of the United Church and a tribute paid by five clergy of the district, gold wrist watches were presented to each of the servicemen present. Of the 46 watches, four were accepted by the families of those who died in service overseas.

The expression of honor by the community started with formation of a Holland Landing welcome-home committee some months ago, its president, Aubrey Stephenson, said. But no such results were foreseen. "It just went out of our hands entirely," he declared, commenting on the presence of some 350 residents.

When the committee started collecting, he said, "the first contribution was $25 and the second was $50. It all went like that and nobody is wealthy. We didn't have anything to do with it, it's just the way we feel."

The way Holland Landing people "felt" about their 46 servicemen finally amounted to $800, and the practical expression of honor resulted.

One of the four women's wrist watches among the 46 was presented to Mrs. Geo. Archibald Riley, formerly Doris Evans, whose family has lived in Holland Landing for four generations. Since her husband's death in Belgium a year ago, Mrs. Riley, in the persons of four sons, Ronald, Lawrence, Earl and John, 12, 10, eight and seven years old, has continued the raising of the fifth generation of her family in Holland Landing.

Son of one of the first 10 Canadians to receive the Military Medal when it was instituted in April 1917 Alex Deans also was presented with a watch. His father, Sam Deans, who was present, was awarded the decoration for rescue of a British officer under fire in an action at the Loos crater.

Home Heating By Gas May Be Blessing For This Village

Residents of municipalities from Steele's Corners to Richmond Hill were disappointed a few days ago when the annual meeting of the Consumers' Gas Co. was held without an announcement being made that the gas mains would be extended northward from Steele's.

"The company will undoubtedly make further extensions to distribution plant when the right time comes," said an official to The Liberal, "but, as with all other companies, the scarcity of labor and the tie-up of materials have been all important factors. Territory north of our present lines won't be overlooked. Many of the residents of suburban districts now served by the Consumers' Gas Co. have solved the home heating problem of recent years by the use of gas. The heating of entire houses by electricity is still much too costly for the ordinary pocketbook. Hydro officials admit, and they have no data as to when such a possibility may develop.

"May be when we get atomic energy in harness we will be able to do something about it," declared an engineer of the Ontario Hydro to The Liberal.

Gas sales of the Consumers Gas Co. for the year are shown in the annual financial statement just issued at $6,917,173, an increase of $274,290.

Sunnybrooke Hospital Room Will Be Equipped By Children Of The Village

As most parents are aware our public school boys and girls are at present selling Christmas cards. There may be some who are inquiring the reason therefore and I feel that the public who during the war supported so generously our many projects, are entitled to an explanation. These cards were ordered last spring when the war was still being waged and when victory appeared remote. We wished to continue the work which we had started. Our list of soldiers' names was growing larger and larger. Our last shipment of parcels cost over $400 and we had been sending several parcels to each soldier per year. Also we were contributing to various other worthwhile causes as well.

In September the question of what to do on Halloween and the matter of Christmas cards came up at one of our staff meetings. One of our teachers suggested that our bank balance in the School War Fund together with what we could make from collecting pennies on Halloween as well as the sale of Christmas cards would probably enable us to make a contribution which would equip one room at the new Sunnybrooke hospital for soldiers.

Suffice to say the children and the staff were in favour of the plan and so the work is being carried on which we hope meets with your approval.

It is not our present intention to have any further sale of Christmas cards in the years to come. Also we are wondering whether or not to carry on with the penny collection on Halloween. Candy will probably be scarce for a year or more and it is my opinion that the work and motive is of benefit to the children themselves. We should be glad to hear the opinion of the parents with regard to this matter.

Further I feel it very necessary to express my sincere thanks, and that of your teaching staff, to all the people of our school section who through the long years of the war continued to support our every project. I am well aware of the inconvenience caused you in those trying times, by the constant ringing of your door bell and the many calls for contributions of time and money.

Your co-operation was very gratifying and if continued in times of peace augurs well for success and improvement in our school generally.

You are probably aware that this is "Education Week". Our contribution in this regard will be to have a parents' day sometime in the early spring when parents will be invited to see their children at work. Also you will be given the opportunity to discuss school problems with the teachers concerned. This should lead to a better understanding of the problems in the home and the school. I trust a sufficient number of parents will show interest in this to make it worth while.

Walter Scott.

Victory Loan Here Over By $20,000

Richmond Hill exceeded its quota for the Victory loan by $20,000, the total subscriptions being $195,000 and the quota for the village being $175,000.

"We are well satisfied," said Bill Neal, reeve, and his opinion was echoed by W. W. A. Trench and J. R. Herrington, associated with the reeve in the campaign. "From every standpoint the loan was an excellent investment, and will help the government bring the boys overseas home more speedily as well as care for those who require hospitalization. It will also aid substantially in restoring post war trade to pre-war levels."
