Price Control And Rationing Information

Typical questions consumers have asked the Wartime Prices and Trade Board this week are answered by the Central Ontario Consumer Council Committee.

I understand that unsweetened canned fruit is rationed. How is it then that my grocer is selling 105 ounce tins of canned peaches without coupons?

A. Your grocer is right. Canned fruit, both sweetened and unsweetened is rationed with one exception. That is, tins of 105 ounces or over, do not require coupons. These very big tins are made up for the convenience of restaurants and it is seldom they are sold in the retail stores. So if you are lucky enough to run across this size, you won't need to give coupons for a tin.

Q. Is there a ceiling on drapery material? We bought some from a Toronto store for $2.95 a yard. While in Kitchener Saturday I priced the exact same material at $1.69 yard.

A. Yes, there is a ceiling price on drapery material. That seems to be quite a difference in price between stores. If you will be good enough to send us a sample of the material along with your sales slip which gives evidence of the price you paid at the Toronto store, we'll be glad to have the matter investigated.

Q. I have two rooms in my home rented to a family of three by the month. Is the use of vile language considered sufficient cause for giving notice. If so, how much would I have to give?

A. Yes, it could certainly be grounds for proof of obnoxious tenants. But you should go at once or write your nearest WPTB Rentals Office and fill out the forms which give written evidence of your complaint. Your case will come up in the court of Rental Appeals and if the decision is in your favour you will be able to give a month's notice under Provincial law.

Q. I seem to be completely puzzled about my sugar coupons. I have some yellow preserves coupons left on a temporary card and also some of the "P" coupons in a ration book. The grocer will not accept any of these which I think is unfair as I had carefully saved these for extra sugar which I need now. Must I lose the value of all these coupons?

A. In this case your grocer is quite right...the preserves coupons and "P" coupons which you still have are invalid...they expired on Jan. 31. The expiry date of these coupons was widely publicized in newspapers and on the radio throughout Canada so everyone had the opportunity of using them before Jan. 31. It would be impossible for the Board to personally notify the holder of every ration book in Canada regarding dates when coupons expire.

Q. Last Saturday I paid 52c. for a peck of potatoes. They were not very good ones and I would like to know if there is still a ceiling price on potatoes?

A. Potatoes are a very important item in our diets and there certainly is a ceiling price on them. The maximum price for potatoes in the Toronto area is 25c. a peck for No. 1 large.

Q. Last year tickets for Junior O.H.A. playoff games were $1 and 50c. This year the price was raised to $1 for seats which were only 50c. last year. Also students were always given a special section of the best seats and this year they were given very poor seats. Does the Board allow such price increases and changes?

A. There is no ceiling on the price of admission to hockey games. As far as the students are concerned it would seem that it is up to the management of the arena to allocate whatever section they wish. We are afraid the Board could not undertake to set up regulations controlling the seating arrangement at all the hockey arenas throughout the country. Your letter also mentions the fact that "scalpers" were selling tickets above the regular price. This would be a matter for police investigation and if you noticed such sales being made, it was up to you to notify the nearest police officer.

Q. On July 10, 1945, I purchased a house and gave the tenants notice to vacate. When the notice was due the Wartime Prices and Trade Board told me I could not put these people out. I have been back several times but they still say the same thing. When can I give notice and how much must I give as I desperately need this house?

A. While we appreciate the acute housing shortage we must tell you that you cannot give these tenants notice to vacate. The WPTB "Freezing Order" prohibits the giving of notice to tenants in self-contained housing accommodation, except in some special cases...your case would not be one of these.

Potatoes Fill Important Need
With the world shortage of food-stuffs and urgent demands for maximum production during the coming season, the importance of planning for this year's potato crop should not be overlooked, says R. E. Goodin, Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. A good supply of high quality potatoes, following the crop season, would supplement short supplies of cereals and other food products.
Potato growers would be well advised, says Mr. Goodin, to give special attention to their potato crop this year, by way of using good seed, providing sufficient amounts of plant food, and protection of the growing plants from insects and disease. Experience has amply shown that potato growing has now become a very specialized business.
From the standpoint of growers obtaining profitable returns, careful consideration should first be given to selection and preparation of suitable soil, also the use of labour saving machinery and the amount of attention which might be given to the production and marketing of the crop. With labour supply short, and seed and fertilizer also none too plentiful, plans should be made to use these important requisites to the best advantage. Substantial cash outlays are required to get the crop under way, and most satisfactory returns may be expected by growers who secure above average yields per acre. Not more acres, but higher yield per acre is the objective that many Ontario growers have decided to follow this coming season.
In order to supply consumers with potatoes, 5,406 carloads were brought into the Province of Ontario in 1945. Of this amount, 2,229 carloads were imported from sources outside Canada. Substantial amounts have also been arriving since the beginning of the present year and additional supplies will be required before the 1946 crop is available.

DOUBLE DUTY
One of the busiest conductors and violinists in radio is Albert Steinberg of Toronto, who since Christmas has been delighting Ontario students as director of the school series, "Music for Young Folk." Currently he is heard as concertmaster on "Let There be Music," Wednesday, at 9 p.m. EST, on the CBC Trans-Canada network, and on Friday, April 12, he begins a new program, "Three Violins" at 8.45 p.m. EST.

EDGELEY

A very urgent invitation is extended to everyone to attend church next Sunday and Easter Sunday. Rev. C. E. Fockler is receiving into the church several new members.

The annual meeting of the Edgeley Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. William Dalziel last Thursday afternoon. The program consisted of a report of Directors meeting by Mrs. E. Phillips and a report of the meeting of Federation by Mrs. Paul Snider. The roll call consisted of the payment of fees. Ten ladies joined that day. After the reports of the various convenors Mrs. Phillips took charge of the election of officers. The only change in the officers was that of secretary-treasurer and District Director. The officers' names will be given later.

A splendid time was enjoyed Monday evening when about a hundred friends from Emery and Edgeley of Miss Evelyn Espey and Mr. Charles Summerfeldt gathered to give them a shower at the home of the bride-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Espey. There were many lovely and useful gifts. A mock ceremony took place with Miss Margaret Humphrey as the officiating minister. A poem of special interest to a bride and groom was read by Miss Violet Currie. A pleasant evening was brought to a close by a very substantial lunch served by the ladies.
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mortson and family, Mrs. Mortson Sr. were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stong.
Mr. and Mrs. Cleland Thompson have moved to their new home recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stong. Mr. Thompson has rented the farm.

Buttonville Airport Held Up As Model

The magazine, "Aircraft and Airport", published by the Shell Oil Co. in its current issue holds up as a model the Gillies Airport at Buttonville. The featured article purports to show that communities could have serviceable airports, adequate for most needs for a moderate figure, NOT at a prohibitive cost as most people believe, according to the writer.

The article gives the cost of this airport at $3500—no mention was made of cost of land. The site is said to contain 130 acres, which has the advantage of suitable drainage. There are three runways, 2500 feet long, which are grass covered. It is stated that these are kept mowed in exchange for hay on the property. There is a metal covered hangar, 75x42, maintenance shop and office. The proprietor is a veteran airman, Fred Gillies. The Field offers a charter service, flying training, aerial photography and minor repairs.

Horticultural Societies Back Food Gardens

In accordance with a programme adopted at the annual convention held in Niagara Falls recently, the Ontario Horticultural Association is asking all of its societies to back an aggressive programme of promoting food gardens for the 1946 season, according to J. A. Carroll, Secretary of the Association. In view of the grave world food shortage, an appeal has gone out to these societies, as well as to the people of Ontario generally, to make just as great an effort in food production as they did in their Victory Gardens during the war. This appeal is backed up by the statement that a federal Food Information Committee recently appointed by the Dominion Government is planning an active campaign for the growing of food in home gardens and community plots, it being felt that every pound of food grown at home will release supplies to feed the hungry and starving people of Europe.
During the war the majority of horticultural societies sponsored Victory Gardens, and their production amounted to millions of pounds of vegetables. Guelph had over 400 gardeners on a community garden plot. Ottawa not only had hundreds of Victory Gardens, but also operated a pressure cooker plan for the preservation of vegetables. The little town of Newmarket had 150 entries in its Victory Garden competition.
With the need for food production even greater than it was during the war, said Mr. Carroll, it is felt that the people of Ontario should cooperate as actively as possible in the cultivation of food gardens, while horticultural societies are being encouraged, where conditions make it possible, to sponsor community garden plots for the use of citizens.

Committee Named In Contest For Malting Barley

John D. McLeod, Director of the Ontario Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, announces that a committee has been appointed to take charge of the Ontario Section of the National Malting Barley Competition, in which fifteen Ontario counties are eligible to take part, and in which a sum of $3,150 is available for prize money for Ontario and Quebec. The Committee which has been appointed is composed of the following:
Chairman, John O. McLeod; Secretary, H. R. Shaver, Canada Malting Company; W. J. Lennox, Plant Products Division, Ottawa; Dr. G. P. McRostie, O.A.C., Guelph; Prof. J. Laughland, O.A.C., Guelph; R. Sibbitt, Plant Products Division, Ottawa; R. E. Goodin, Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Toronto; A. H. Martin, Assistant Director of Agricultural Representatives, Toronto; J. L. Percy, Ontario Brewers' Association; M. Cowan, Cereal Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture; Peter Stewart, Canada Malting Company and J. W. MacKay, Plant Products Division, Ottawa.
