PROCEEDS OF TAG DAY FOR THE BLIND $236.52

Unusual tag day weather greeted the avid group of young girls last Saturday in the annual campaign for funds for the Canadian Institute for the Blind. Their unceasing efforts netted a record amount of $350.52 which along with cheques and other cash contributions amounting to $106 resulted in a total of $236.52. As Mr. Robinson, one of the district representatives who called on us before the campaign stated "The Institute does a wonderful work but only as the result of the generosity of people, like those in Richmond Hill, from coast to coast." The interest and eagerness of the young girls who are responsible every year in giving you the opportunity to aid this worthy cause is very encouraging. They are entirely cognizant of the importance of their efforts.

The committee in charge is very grateful to all who contributed and to the following girls for their splendid co-operation: Betty Wilson, Beatrice Wilson, Jill Pritchard, Heather McLean, Joan Bourne, Janet Paris, Joyce Wilde, Ruth Ann Armstrong, Mary Ellen Glass, Dorothy Harding, Betty Svanefelt, Margaret Horwood, Mary Cottril, Pauline Lecuyer and Eleanor Smith. Temporary receipts have been sent to those contributing by cheque or cash apart from the tag day. Official receipts from headquarters will be forthcoming at a later date. Further donations will be forwarded immediately upon receipt to the Toronto office and announcement of complete results will be published in this paper.

The Royal Meteorological Society predicts a cycle of bitter seasons for Britain during the next two or three decades.
