A question period on Junior Farmers work was conducted by Miss Anna Orr. A paper entitled "Good Parents Make a Nation Great" was given by Mrs. J. Manning. Lacrosse has been wound up and packed away in moth balls for another season. Last Friday night before a crowd of about 1,000 spectators the lads in blue carried Maple's leaf to a three straight victory over the rival team from Woodbridge. As a result of this series the Jack Smith trophy, emblematic of lacrosse in North York, remains the proud possession of the local lads for the second year running.

While Maple boys were victorious, a lot of credit must be given to the members of the Woodbridge and Richmond Hill aggregations. It requires competition to make any sport interesting to spectators. Judging from the attendance and comments of those on the outside looking in the season provided enough excitement to satisfy even the bloodthirsty.

This has been a busy week for the M.R.A. After two games of lacrosse, one being played in the local sports bowl, the executive committee managed to organize a corn roast and members' night. This should signify the beginning of the fall activities.

The corn roast was attended by approximately 100 members. While this number is gratifying it still represents only slightly over half the enrolled members. A further fifty people, guests of members, were in attendance and were most welcome. Only interest on the part of all members can maintain an interested executive to give all members the type of entertainment desired.

A lengthy programme had been planned but this was somewhat curtailed by a heavy downpour about 9.30 p.m. Before the rain however, a lot of excitement and fun was created by a log sawing competition won by A. Rumble and F. Robson. After the contest the runners-up, G. Walker and T. Watson defeated the winners in a grudge match between the raindrops.

Spirits were not dampened by the rain. Plenty of food was served in the club house following which the members, much more ample by then, wended their way to the community hall to complete the evening with motion pictures and later ice cream.
