Last Thursday evening Mr. C. W.

Caskey of the Fire Marshall's Department, Parliament Bldgs., Toronto, addressed the Richmond Hill Lions Club on the subject "Development of the Modern Fire Department". His address was one of extreme interest and delivered in a manner of friendly understanding that created an atmosphere of expectancy from one moment to another. He spoke on fire fighting equipment from the very earliest time right up to the most modern and stressed the need for up-to-date efficient equipment in order to protect life and property. He said the first five minutes of any fire was the most important and the time in which the fire gained its momentum, therefore it was so important that alarm systems and equipment were in first class working condition and firemen well trained. His explanation of various ensignia on firemen's uniforms was most interesting and edu-
