Mark Time for Few Years Advice of Former Councillor to North Yonge Municipalities

FRED W. KEMP ARGUES AGAINST HASTE IN DECIDING BEST MODE OF TRANSPORTATION

Fred W. Kemp, a member of the legal profession and for many years a member of North York Township municipal council in a letter to the Lansing Enterprise last week gives some good advice to the people of the North Yonge Street district on the current transportation controversy.

In his letter Mr. Kemp says: "Since its inception I have been a patron of the radials. I was also a patron of the short-lived bus service that served the area between the abandonment of the former Metropolitan Radials and the commencement of the present system. From that experience I formed a preference for travelling on the radial as against travelling on buses. With this background there are a few observations I should like to make.

In Toronto it is now proposed to expend some thirty million dollars to construct five miles of subway. The purpose of this subway is to separate the public passenger carrying street car from the privately owned automobile. More space for Yonge street traffic is required and the solution recommended by the experts is to separate these two forms of traffic. In the case of the North Yonge Radial these two forms of traffic are now separate save at intersections. The radials travel on their own right of way. They do not compete with automobiles for highway space, nor are they affected by the congestion of motor traffic that is found on North Yonge Street at holiday and summer week ends. Yet it is now suggested that this private right of way be abandoned and that the radials be discarded in favor of a form of public transportation that will compete with the privately owned motor vehicle and that will occupy pavement space already at a premium at certain periods.

I notice from the report of the Commission that a fair proportion of the equipment of this radial line has an estimated life of usefulness remaining of about five years and that signals and telephones are the two items in need of some immediate attention. I have the impression that the estimated cost of rehabilitation as shown in the commission's report was made in contemplation of a fifteen year extension of service. I should like to suggest that consideration be given to a five-year extension.

In the first place the new Barrie highway should then be completed, and the motor traffic on Yonge St. would be appreciably reduced. Added to the reduced Yonge Street motor traffic a heavy bus service would not be so likely to encounter highway traffic difficulty as if it were instituted before the completion of the new Barrie Highway.

I notice too that the new bus route is to follow Yonge Boulevard instead of travelling Yonge Street through the hollow. I understand that the Provincial Highway Department has plans for a new east and west distributor highway that will use Hogg's Hollow Bridge. I believe this is to be a limited access highway with clover leaves at main intersections. I understand there is to be a clover leaf at Yonge Street but I do not know what provision there will be for access to this new highway from Yonge Boulevard.

Perhaps within a five year period this highway will have become an actuality and the possibility of the proposed route as a permanent one will be known.

Recently the Toronto and York Planning Board retained Mr. Norman D. Wilson to study and report upon the transportation situation in the Metropolitan area. Arising out of this report and studies given to the problems of the larger area by the Toronto Transportation Commission, there may be recommendations made affecting the transit systems of all municipalities in greater Toronto. I suggest that with plans of this magnitude in the making it might be well for the four owners of this radial to mark time for a few years."

WEDDING
PROWSE-CASTATOR
In the United Church, Woodbridge, Rev. T. V. Hart solemnized the marriage of Helen Louise Castator, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Castator and Charles Allen Prowse, son of Mrs. Prowse, Lansing, and the late W. C. Prowse.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace with satin bodice, a lace bertha framing the nylon yoke. The skirt swept into a circular train and had side pleplums edged with satin. A tiara of orange blossoms held her floor-length veil. White roses and maiden hair fern formed the bridal bouquet.

Jean Phillips was maid of honor, wearing Nile green moire taffeta and Shirley Roe, Muriel Snider, Alele Wardlaw were the bridesmaids. All wore daffodil yellow, fashioned in the same style as the bride's dress. The bridesmaids carried colonial nosegays of harmonizing sweet peas centred with yellow snapdragon and pink carnations.

Leslie Hart was best man with Ray Castator, Bill Wilton and Bruce Kefey as ushers. Mr. Lester Hartley of Oshawa sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and during the signing of the register "Until." For the reception at "Maple Villa" the bride's mother wore turquoise crepe with navy-blue accessories and corsage of coral gladioli petals, while the mother of the groom chose pale blue with gray and corsage of pink carnations.

To travel by motor to New York the bride wore a navy blue sheer crepe suit, white hat and gloves with a corsage of white roses, pink carnations and blue cornflowers.

Wrestling Bout At Local Arena

Richmond Hill Arena will be the scene of wild excitement on Tuesday, July 20th, when the East Vaughan Ratepayers Association will again present the mayhem boys in a thrilling exhibition of wrestling. Proceeds will be used to benefit the Richvale Community Hall building fund.

Richvale's own "Red" Garner will top the card when he carries on the second local instalment of his feud with "Spider" Shackleton of Hamilton. This is a return match and there appears to be a bit of animosity involved. The match will be to a finish with no time limit.

The semi-final has Ernie Hughson of Toronto in a 45 minute, two out of three, match with Peter Perno, the grappling Greek better known as "The Greek flash in the flesh".

Crop Improvement Association Meeting At Leitchcroft Farm

MORE THAN 125 FARMERS STUDY SMUT CONTROL

In keeping with their loose smut eradication campaign the York County Crop Association last Friday, July 9, held their second twilight Field Meeting at Leitchcroft Farm on No. 7 highway where over 125 interested farmers gathered to learn the latest information on this disease.

Keen interest was shown in the large barn hay drier where green bales of excellent quality have been being dried in apparently comparative safety. This was fully explained by the farm manager, Mr. Joe Lanthier and followed by an inspection of the hay silage drying silo.

Informative comparisons were made with a number of varieties of winter wheat by wheat specialist, W. H. Waddell of the O.A.C., when the tour extended to the variety test plots. While Dawson's and Cornell were favourably recalled the demerits and impurities of the so-called Egyptian Imperial Amber were well illustrated. Completing the plot tour the specialists were loud in their praise of the Cornell variety. Problems were later cleared when Dr. A. G. O. Whiteside of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, discussed the wheat situation. President Murray Macklin of the Crop Improvement Association introduced guests including A. H. Martin, newly appointed Director of the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch and W. Brecken, President of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association. The evening concluded in a reminder by Secretary W. M. Cockburn for all members of the 50 Bushel Wheat Club to give ample warning to his office so that yield cuttings for the competitions would be completed at the most opportune time.

The lucky draw and winner of the 2 bushels of Cornell seed was Clarke Johnson of R. R. 2, Gormley.

Prize Winners at Laskay Field Day WORLD'S STRANGEST ARTIFICIAL LAKE LOCATED NEAR RICHMOND HILL

Lots of Fish But No Fishing
Pity the poor fish! He just hasn't any privacy any more. That is the conclusion reached by experts of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests who are watching, recording and classifying the reaction of various species of fish under controlled conditions near here. The studies take place in one of the world's strangest artificial lakes at the experimental station of the department in Honeyopt, Concession 3, Vaughan, near Richmond Hill.

The "Lake" is a 20-foot steel drum, eight feet in diameter and by a special arrangement of pipes can be layered off in respect to water temperature, pressure and other conditions. It is the only lake of its kind in North America and according to Dr. F. E. J. Fry, assistant professor of zoology at the University of Toronto and closely associated with fisheries research, a season's entire cycle of fish conditions can be reproduced.

Experts are able to look through windows of the tank and observe speckled trout, bass, muskellunge, lake trout, pike and other fish and the underlying purpose of the observations is to "improve and increase game and commercial fish in Ontario". The project is being undertaken jointly by the Lands and Forests Department and the fisheries research laboratory of the U. of T.

The lake was designed by Dr. Fry and is refrigerated on top. A sheet of ice can be formed in a short time. It is illuminated and the action of the fish is watched through port-holes built to withstand a lake pressure of 120 feet.

The scientists are trying to determine what temperatures certain species of fish like best; what reaction there is to certain controlled pressures and the presence of oxygen in varying amounts. Answers to their questions will play an important part in restocking programmes.

Also receiving intensive study is the lamprey eel, long known as an enemy of whitefish and trout. Reaction of the predator fish to temperatures is expected to give the scientists information as to the best time at which to attack the lamprey.
