OBITUARY

LATE HARVEY JACKSON

The many friends of Harvey Jackson of Three Hills, formerly of Gadsby, Alta., will be sorry to learn that he passed away in a Calgary Hospital on July 31st, at the age of sixty-six. He had been in failing health for over a year.

He was born at Maple, Ont., and resided there until moving to Alberta in 1908. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, Daisy Ethel Saigeon, two sons, John William of Three Hills and Stanley of Gadsby, and one daughter, Myrtle (Mrs. Fiore Mastri) of Chicago.

Funeral services were under Masonic auspices, and burial took place in Gadsby on Wednesday, August 4th, at 2:30 p.m.

THE LATE C. J. BRODIE

In the passing of Charles James Brodie on August 8th, the district loses a man intimately associated with the life of the community for 83 years, and a sheep breeder of more than provincial renown. One hundred and thirteen years ago his grandparents emigrated with their children from Peterhead in Aberdeenshire, Scotland; and settled on what is known as the Brodie homestead just north of the Markham-Whitchurch Township on the 5th of Whitchurch. This farm is now owned by a descendant, John C. Steckley.

Here Mr. Brodie was born on December 29th, 1864, his parents being Charles John Brodie and Sarah Ellen Spofford. He attended Almira and Bethesda Public Schools, Newmarket High School and the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. The late Mr. Isaac Pike was one of his school-masters and a life-long friend.

In 1880 Mr. Brodie's father bought Invergie Farm, and here James Brodie farmed for many years, as well as operating the farm directly opposite in Whitchurch for a time, now owned by Edgerton Clubine. As a young man James Brodie was keenly interested in sports, and played football with the Gormley Bluebells. He was vitally interested in the improvement of farm soils, seed grains and livestock, and was a pioneer in growing corn to make ensilage for better balanced stock feeding. His flock of Southdown sheep gained a wide reputation, and won many honours in the International Livestock Show at Chicago, and the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. Reformation was also one of his practical projects.

Fifty-four years ago he was united in marriage with LaVina Allison Wells of Eversley who survives him. Also surviving are two daughters, Mary (Mrs. Robert Kelly) of Oakwood P.O., Janet Gray of Stouffville; one son, William James, of Invergie Farm; and two granddaughters and three grandsons. Another daughter, Edith Frances, died 15 years ago. A sister, Mabel Alice (Mrs. Albert A. Kennedy, Toronto) also survives.
