TEMPERANCEVILLE

The Women's Institute held their monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon, September 8, at the home of Mrs. Chalk. The program was devoted to the topic of Health and Social Welfare and was introduced by an article entitled Health and the Soil read by Mrs. C. Beynon. Many helpful suggestions for Sickroom Nursing were contained in an excellent paper given by Mrs. Palmer. Home nursing made be made more efficient by suitable position of the bed, proper ventilation and light. The Roll call answered by First Aid Hints, also brought forth many reliable remedies. An invalid's tray was prepared by Mrs. Baldwin who emphasized that it must be appetizing as well as nourishing.

In an article Nine Ways to Stop Wars, Mrs. Caine stressed the importance of understanding children, proper environment and relationships, and the implanting of high ideals and desires. The causes of our social problems to-day, can invariably be traced to the home.

Mrs. Davis reported on her visits to the patient in Christie Street Hospital whom our Institute has adopted and Mrs. Clark has kindly offered to look after the next gift parcel. We were glad to have as a visitor, one of our former members, Miss Mae Harman, who was home on vacation. At the close of the meeting the hostess and lunch committee served a delicious tea.

Temperanceville Branch extends hearty congratulations to our neighbouring W. I. of King City for their splendid achievement in the C. N.E. competition which featured the modelling of early styles.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Wilkins has had the misfortune of breaking some bones in her wrist. We sincerely hope that both she and Mr. Wilkins will soon be well again and be able once more to be back in our midst.

Maple Defeats Newmarket 9-2

Blue Shirts Easily Defeat Red Men
In the first of the play-offs, Maple defeated Newmarket 9-2 in a poorly played game. There was little to cheer for as Maple built up an early lead, and the play became ragged. The 'Blue Shirts' even in victory did not look as well as we have seen them in many of their defeats. The scoring was evenly divided among the 'Blue shirts'. The Burton Bros., Jim Jones, Cherry, White, Armitage McNair, Harry Cooper, shared the scoring for Maple. Johnston and Heffner scored for Newmarket. Maple play the return game with Newmarket at Newmarket on Friday of this week.

VELLORE

Vellore Sr. W. I. met at Vellore Memorial Hall for their September meeting. Some of the members met in the forenoon as quilting was the order of the day. During the afternoon, the gathering was called to order by the President, Mrs. D. Jarrett, for the business meeting. Plans were made for the booth at the official opening of the Maple Cattle Breeders Association, also for family night to be held next month in the Hall.

During the day two quilts were quilted. Many thanks to Mrs. Peelar Sr., who donated the tops for these quilts which are for sale at the Bazaar to be held November 20. The Roll Call was a shower of articles for the bazaar. Don't forget Family Night in Vellore Hall on Tuesday, October 5th. At eight o'clock sharp, the members and their families and the Junior Farmers and Institute will meet when an interesting program will be given after which a sumptuous lunch is to be served. Let us all be present to hear the play, "Sister Sue Swings It" being presented by some of the members. Much time is being spent in practice so let the rest show their appreciation by their presence.
