Child Severely Injured

Hughie Hamby, aged 5, suffered a broken right leg and a bad gash after being kicked by a horse while riding with his father Walter Hamby on a wagon loaded with field stone. Proceeding down grade in a field some distance from the house, it was thought the wagon tongue come loose causing the wagon to roll onto the team, which became frightened. The young lad had no opportunity to free himself from the onslaught of the horse's heels, nor had his father a chance to protect his son. Bleeding profusely the father carried the boy to the house in his arms, assisted by Earl and Archie Campbell who heard the cries of distress and rushed to the scene of the accident. He was removed to York County hospital for treatment, and expects to be returned to his home this week, his leg in a cast. The child displayed great courage offering to walk to the house as his father carried him, no small burden to the distressed parent. Only a few months ago Walter Hamby himself sustained a serious injury to his back, requiring hospitalization. Trouble never comes singly apparently. The boy's mother remained at the hospital until her son's condition was considered good.

Cycle Meets Cow

Lorne Fuller, 22, Lloydtown, and a companion escaped with bruises after a motorcycle they were riding on the 10th concession, King township, collided with a Holstein cow belonging to Arthur Spooner of Lloydtown. The mishap occurred at dusk on Wednesday, Sept. 22, as the riders came over the brow of a hill. Constable Arthur Moody of Schomberg said the animal was not seen by the cyclists in time to avoid collision. Valued at $200, the cow had to be destroyed.

Granary Fire threatened Barn

Fire smouldering in the granary at Crescent Brook Farm, owned by Mr. Walter Wood, Aurora, caused loss of about 20 bushels of oats on Monday morning. It was detected by Jack Wood, a son, and apparently had smouldered for several days in the air-tight grain bin, caused, it was thought by heat from an electric light bulb encased by the grain. Aurora Fire Brigade sprinkled water on the grain as it was shovelled from the bin, saving the remaining large quantity of oats.
