COMMUNISTIC ACTIVITY THREATENS DEMOCRACIES

A high ranking Lions Club official in speaking to the mem- presided. The worship service "The bers of the Richmond Hill Club gave a timely warning against indifference to the communist activities in Canada. He made some startling references in the course of his remarks telling of the extent of the communist organization and referring to an avowed communist who for some considerable time enjoyed membership in a Lions Club.

Too many Canadians are prone to view lightly the dangers of communism here. To take such an attitude in the face of present day facts is a mistake in good citizenship. There is unmistakable evidence that all across Canada the campaign of the communists, under the guise of the labor progressive party, and under other names and in other ways seeks to confuse the people of Canada on every vital issue. With almost unbelievable hypocracy they infiltrate into organizations with many well-meaning people and under the guise of pacificism or some other ism oppose reasonable preparations for national defence. They try in every way to discredit the United Nations, and the European Recovery plan because a disorganized and starving Europe would assist the spread of communism there. They seek to create suspicion between Canadians and between Canadians and our good neighbours.

Perhaps rightly many believe that communist propaganda will have little effect on Canadians living in an era of comfort and prosperity. This may be true of Canadians of Anglo-Saxon or French descent, but what we are apt to forget is that more than one-quarter of Canadians are of continental European origin. Many of them read what we know as foreign language newspapers which carry much of the propaganda of communism.

While there is increasing awareness of communist' attempts to undermine the morale of Canadians, there is no general agreement on how to combat them. One method is to outlaw the party, but many feel this would help rather than hinder communism and 7.30 p.m. Special music will be - it thrives when underground.

Whatever method is adopted the time has come for stern, decisive and definite action against those who would wreck our way of life and destroy our cherished landmarks and institutions. Communists give first allegiance to a foreign country and wherever found should forfeit every right to Canadian citizenship. it is not advisable to pass a law outlawing communism, it certainly is desirable we outlaw communists by revoking their rights of citizenship.

'Tell it again" was much enjoyed. Mrs. English gave the study book, chapter one, on the story of the West China Mission for the past 56 years. She described the farm homes, farm crops, the life of the people, their utensils and house equipment, the country and the part religion plays in their lives. The sixty million Chinese of this province of China are mostly Buddhists. What faith our pioneer missionaries had when they threw a few puny Canadian lives against these multitudes.

Lunch was served and a social half hour followed the meeting. The thankoffering meeting is on November 3rd in the church, when members of neighbouring groups are The Maple W. I. met at the home of Mr. Wills Maclachlan on October 13th, with a good attendance, A family party will be held in November on the regular meeting date, in place of the annual "At Home." Fifty dollars was donated to M.R.A. for concession at the lacrosse games. the topic Historical Research was given by Mrs. Arnold Rumble. This was an excellent paper on the History of Maple Village, giving dates and humorous remarks. This paper will be published in this paper at a future date). An old map of Maple marked out in streets, also the names of streets of which some never had heard. Ancient photos were also shown. An educational paper on the growing, manufacture and uses of cotton, was given by Mrs. Lloyd Palmer. The making of fancy sandwiches was demonstrated by Mrs. Norman Payne. These were sampled by all and proved very delicious. Greetings were brought from the District by District President, Mrs.

John Snider of Thistletown and Disfrict Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Ed Harris of Maple. Members of M.W.I. attended the lecture given by Mrs. Clarence Hay-
