Weekly News Budget From The Richvale Community

From a standing start it would appear that the program for the younger generation in Richvale has grown to be a project of no mean proportions. At first Wednesday and Tuesday nights were set aside, one for boys and one for girls. Then came the Boy Scouts on Monday, followed by the Cubs on Thursday. Now it is found the Rangers group of Wednesday evening has grown to such an extent that it is necessary to divide them into two groups. This re-organization will take place after the New Year and will be according to age. The full details have not as yet been finally decided upon but the extra group will meet on Friday evenings. The boys forming the younger group will meet earlier and be homeward bound earlier than the older group. The programs will be composed of games better adapted to the age groups than could formerly be achieved and by nature of the fewer members each night attention can be given to individuals making the evening much more personal to the youngsters.

This extra evening brings us to the problem of additional leaders. Any young men in the district who may care to take an active part with Mr. John Gillies, the leader of these boys, are invited to get in touch with him. Their services will be as gratefully welcomed as they are needed. Parents, don't forget the talking pictures in the Richvale school basement this Friday evening, December 17th. Everyone is welcome as guests of the school board.

This Saturday, December 18th, at 7:30 in the school basement will be the setting for the Christmas Bazaar and Bingo of the Vaughan Women Workers. This entertainment will benefit the Community Hall building and it promises to be a hummer of an occasion for as well as a sale of home baking and the bingo game there will also be the raffling of a doll's house and a beautiful doll complete with a wardrobe.

The current year's entertainment will be brought to a grand climax next Monday, December 20th, when the final social evening of 1948 will be a dance and box social in the Richvale School basement.

Come and find out if you have won that really splendid M.P.K. Add-A-Unit sink cabinet, or one of the other prizes for which you have been buying tickets in order to finance the children's groups in our community.

Here is the opportunity for you girls to show the local swains that you are indeed mistresses in the art of cookery. So pretty your lunch boxes up real fancy and don't forget to enclose your name, and you fellows make that bidding hit the roof. Admission will be free with coffee provided for the lunches. The dance will start at 8:45 with the draw taking place at 9:45.

The children are asked not to attend unless accompanied by their parents. Don't forget, next Monday — be seeing you! We shall print the lucky draw winners next week.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "Canada Unlimited"

In 1621, Marie Couillard, daughter of Canada's first farmer, Louis Hebert, cooked her husband's meals in a large iron pot suspended in their big stone fireplace.

50 years later French farmers had a stone open-air cooking oven called a "caboose". This type of oven can still be seen in some parts of Quebec.

In the 18th century, Father Biard suggested using an iron box, such as used in Germany, for a wood fire. This was Canada's first type of stove.

After Canada's first gas company was started in Montreal in 1847, the gas stove was introduced. This, with the electric range which was developed early in this century, changed the Canadian kitchen.

Today, the modern homemaker has at her command many types of sleek, efficient stoves to lighten her work.

These developments portend still greater opportunities, for there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.
