During last winter's coal crisis in England the British Government, which uses advertisements extensively to warn, instruct, or pacify the populace when new crises or ration orders impend, gave this eye-opening counsel to the nation's businessmen: "Owing to the shortage of fuel, employers are asked to take advantage of their typists between the hours of 12 and 2."

OVER $56 MILLION BET AT RACE TRACKS IN CANADA

During the 349 days horse racing in Canada at 34 meetings in 1948, a total of $56,178,491 was wagered, an increase of $7,658,582 over the amount wagered at 329 days racing at 36 meetings in 1947. Prize money in 1948 totalled $2,755,400, an increase of $431,725 over 1947.

Of the total of $56,178,491 wagered in 1948 Ontario accounted for $37,368,215 with 144 days racing. British Columbia was second with $7,213,980 wagered during 70 days racing; Manitoba was third with $4,216,707 wagered at 28 days racing; Alberta fourth with $3,447,711 at 39 days racing; Quebec fifth with $3,157,975 and 56 days racing; Saskatchewan, sixth with $773,903 wagered during 12 days racing.

The statistics for cities show that Toronto was the leader in the amount wagered by a big margin with $26,283,059. Vancouver was second with $6,225,283; Fort Erie third with $4,815,389, followed by Winnipeg, $4,216,707; Hamilton $3,974,369; Montreal, $2,579,913; Niagara Falls, $2,290,418; Edmonton, $1,994,172; Calgary $1,453,539; Victoria, $988,697; Ottawa, $578,962; Regina, $421,977, and Saskatoon with $351,926.

The largest amount wagered at any one meet, was at the fall seven-day meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club, Woodbine Park, Toronto, Ont., when $2,280,007 was wagered.

All betting at race meetings in Canada for what is known as running horses, must be under the pari-mutuel system. Taxes deducted by the provinces range from five to ten per cent, and each racing association is allowed a percentage ranging from nine down to five per cent according to the total amount wagered.

JANUARY FIRST

The new trail shines, untrodden, high and white

Though there the old griefs wait by old delight

And peaks of yesterday still rise: no bars

To young adventures reaching for new stars.

There, noon and dark bide on and spring and snows,

Hunger and bread, the thorn beside the rose.

Tomorrow, cradled there, with newborn breath

Inherits ancient ecstasy and death.

Yet time's slow march is an up-climbing,

The years mount bravely to a happier sun.

So — with glad drums and gallant flags unfurled —

Ascend to Life indomitable world! — Lillian White Spencer

Dr. J. M. Buckley, well-known Methodist preacher, was asked one day to conduct an "experience meeting" at a Negro church in the South.

A woman arose and bore witness to the preciousness of her religion as a lightbringer and comfort-giver.

"That's good, sister!" approved Dr. Buckley. "But how about the practical side? Does your religion make you a more considerate and loyal wife? Does it make you a better mother?"

Just then Dr. Buckley felt a yank at his coat tails by the Negro preacher, who whispered earnestly: "Press them questions, doctor; press them questions. That's my wife."
