King City District News

Mr. James Snelgrove has graduated with second class honors in honor chemistry at the University of Toronto ceremonies which were attended by his wife. He will teach chemistry at the University this fall as he enters on a three-year course for a doctor of philosophy degree. He is at present engaged in special work at the school. The after-graduation dance was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Snelgrove at Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burt were present for ceremonies held in Convocation Hall last Friday evening when their son, Terence, attained his honor course, completing two years in one. He will teach subject in a Toronto school. Mr. Burt, who is an accomplished musician, is again substituting for Mr. John Weatherseed, organist at Deer Park Anglican church, Toronto, who takes leave of absence at this time of year.

Miss Jean Hadwen of Maple was given a shower at the home of Mrs. Mervin Wilson at King one evening last week and other pre-wedding showers were held on a large scale at Teston and Toronto. The popularity of the bride-elect whose marriage to Mr. Harold Kirby, Vaughan township takes place on June 25th, was clearly shown by appreciative friends over a wide district. The couple will live in King after their marriage where Mr. Kirby has almost completed their new home.

For Miss Doris Hollinshead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hollinshead of King, a tea and gift shower was held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Grew last week when the 1949 dramatic club presented the bride to be with four lovely cups and saucers and a framed painting done by Miss M. Jarvis. Miss Hollinshead will become the bride of Mr. William J. Wilby who is now at Washago, where they will make their home. Doris has been a star in the dramatic presentations given by King Women's Institute for the past two seasons. A still greater event was held on Wednesday evening, June 15, at King United Church when the bride-elect was given a community shower attended by a large number of friends.

Mrs. S. Armitage of Maple entertained a number of ladies from King and Maple for luncheon and bridge held at Maple Villa Monday afternoon. Mrs. A. E. Kelley of King won the high gift prize.

Announcement
The strawberry festival dated for Wednesday, June 29th, at All Saints Church, King, has been cancelled. Mrs. Ivan Specht, president of the W.A. has announced. The reasons are now obvious, as the dry season has made such inroads on the prospects for the strawberry crop, the W. A. considered it unwise to run the risk of entertaining the public in this form. Those tickets which have already been sold will be refunded. A congregational picnic will suffice under the circumstances.

While engaged in a Y.P.U. ball game recently, Miss Audrey Eves, teacher of Strange school had the misfortune to sprain ligaments and is being motored to the school by Mrs. Alfred Gillham, in whose home Miss Eves resides.

King W. I. euchre and bridge, on June 17, at Mrs. Kyle's.

The water tank in its silver coat makes an imposing structure viewed by motorists approaching King village. The opening of new streets and construction of new homes, are definite signs of growth. Alex Campbell is making progress with his house.

The evidence of an increase in population for the village brings out in clearer relief the value of the community park.

New Look For Park Site
As seen at present King Memorial Park is rapidly approaching the recreation centre anticipated. A new power mower is doing good work in trimming the grounds to a smooth grass surface. A new and substantial picket fence faces the main street and swings and teeters are now being completed. $1,000 has been spent toward improved facilities and still there is much to be done before the playground has become equipped to the full satisfaction of the community and district. There is need of virile support and visible demonstration of assistance to the society sponsoring the project. The park and will become the source of sports and recreation achievement. Table and benches will be set up for picnics.

Street Dance and Carnival
In aid of King Memorial Hall, for which a fund has been started, the Lake Marie and King Athletic Association will sponsor this event on July 20, in the customary well organized manner, the Street Dance and Carnival at which lucky draws will be made. Last year everyone wanted the Bermuda ticket, and this year they may stay at home wherever it is and try for the electric refrigerator, electric vacuum cleaner and attachments; boys or girls bicycle, and so on down through seven amazing prizes.

President George Agar, the executive and committees understand how to organize for a street dance and carnival where Leo Paxton's orchestra will play, and they are using the third week in July as has been their custom for several years. It has become an established fact that King street dance will be held at this time in July each year, and always on a Wednesday night. The Women's Institute sponsor the refreshment booth each year.

Strawberry Supper at Laskay
At Laskay Institute Hall grounds on Friday, June 24, the Women's Institute will sponsor a strawberry festival and entertainment. Supper from 5 to 8 p.m. If weather is inclement supper will be served in the spacious hall. An entertainment of unusual variety will be given to include a film and personal narration given by Dr. R. A. Bigford and Mrs. Bigford of Maple showing views of Nassau and Jamaica where they visited this year. Musical talent from the community, ballet dances, etc. will feature the entertainment. June 1949 marks the 41st anniversary year of Laskay W. I.

Red Shield Canvass
Lieut. Ivany, Aurora Salvation Army headquarters has expressed his appreciation for collections for the annual Red Shield Appeal made in this district by six members of King W. I. branch, amounting to $126.90. Funds were turned over to the Lieutenant by Miss Annie McBride, one of those canvassing.

Laskay Field Day
The annual Field Day sponsored by Laskay Old Boys' Association will be held in Taffy Hollow Park, proceeds in aid of Women's Institute Hall, with a full program of sports events to include a baseball tournament, swims, horse-shoe pitching, wrestling on raft, tug of war, old time fiddling contest and other events of equal importance. The oldest couple on grounds and the largest family will be selected. In the evening Taffy Hollow will be the setting for an open air dance to Leo Paxton's orchestra. Laskay W. I. hall is being improved, with basement, paint job, and other jobs, and the whole community has banded to undertake the project. Everyone is enthusiastic, realizing the need for greater facilities. Fergus Lawson is president; Neil Grav, secretary; and Pearson Smeltzer the treasurer.

At the recent re-opening services held in Laskay United Church the flowers were outstanding. Besides large baskets of choice flowers there were boxes in colorful arrangement donated from George Williams' greenhouse by Mr. and Mrs. Williams. After the services these boxes were sold and proceeds turned over to the church. They were eagerly sought after.

Show Winners
In the Women's Division of Aurora Horse Show, held June 11th, many prizes came to King Township. Snowball Women's Institute won the most points in the W.I. special, an award of $5.00 to the organization whose members take the highest number of points in the show. Temperanceville Branch was runner-up in this class.

To Mrs. George Hatley, King, R. R. 3, Eaton Hall Farm, went the Robert Simpson Co. special for sweepstakes in the domestic science section of the show. The award was a silver plated tray valued at $1.00 plus tax. Mrs. Hatley won second prize, a china cake plate, the Aurora Belle special for the birthday cake, also the miscellaneous special.

Joyce Hatley won the senior girls' home economic award. Their brother, George, won a second place for wood lathe article in industrial arts section for boys. Capson, Snowball, special in masonry classes; Mrs. J. D. Storey, Snowball, birthday cake special; Mrs. Phillips won Women's Clothing Special, King Legion Frolic.

Wednesday, June 22nd, is the date of King Legion Carnival and Dance in King Memorial Park, at 6 p.m. D. O. Judd is legion president and a cordial invitation is extended to attend this attractive event, well supervised and arranged. The Ainslie Sheep Dogs in action will create more than enough interest. These have been seen elsewhere and are always well received. A ball-game, carnival attractions, games, and the big open air dance to Paxton's Orchestra form part of the big show where everyone has fun and action.

The Late Oliver Kerr
The tragic death caused by fire, of Oliver Kerr, 70, living at Martin Siding, is recorded in the Huntsville weekly newspaper. Early Saturday morning, May 28th, fire of unknown origin destroyed the Douglas fir cabin occupied by Mr. Kerr, who was apparently asleep in the small building at the time. In fifteen minutes the cabin burned to the ground as neighbors called frantically to arouse Mr. Kerr, whose partially burned body was found in the smoking ruins. The heavy door was locked on the inside. Crowbars were used to break in.

The remains were placed in a sealed casket and sent to King cemetery for burial. Mrs. Emma Farren and Mr. A. Farren, brother and sister, of King township are survivors. Mr. Kerr was unmarried.

Described as "every inch a gentleman" the Huntsville paper states deceased had left his "native town of Aurora, for Elbow, Sask., where he engaged in farming for a number of years. He later came east and settled in Muskoka living at Allensville. His later years were spent at Martin's Siding community. During the past year he had lived in a neat cabin on the shore of West Lake, also known as Round Lake. He was a man of clean habits, a non-drinker, a man of kind and generous nature."

Once Lived at King
The death of Frank H. Latchford, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Latchford of King, which occurred on May 29th, removed one of Walkerton's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens. He was 93, the eldest of a family of eight children. As a small boy he moved with his parents near Walkerville and when a young man became employed with the Grand Trunk Railway, now the C.N.R. He retired from this service 26 years ago. His wife died several years ago. Deceased is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Emma McPhail of Walkerton and a brother, Wesley Latchford, of Souris, Man., who is 85 years old. The family name of Latchford will be remembered by older residents at King.
