FREEZING HINTS

To help you with your cold storage problems we propose to offer from time to time hints which will be of use to you in preserving your fresh fruits, vegetables, etc. This is the second of the series. Others will appear at the appropriate times. Clip and save these for reference.

STRAWBERRIES

To process strawberries:

- (1) Choose solid, well-formed fruit.
- (2) Hull and wash.
- (3) Drain well.
- (4) Add three tablespoons of sugar for each three quarts of berries.
- (5) Pack in cartons and rush to your locker plant to be frozen.

It is as well to make a cycle of the above-mentioned processes by taking about three boxes of berries at a time and processing them in three steps.

First hull and wash the first three boxes and let them drain while you do three more. The first lot is then ready for the sugar.

It is better to spread the berries out in a flat pan and sprinkle the sugar over them, letting them stand while you hull and wash three more boxes. Then pack in cartons.

Phone, write or drop in with your preserving problems.

King City District News

A large number of guests from this vicinity attended the trossseau tea on Saturday, June 18th, given by Mrs. Elmer Hadwen of Maple for her daughter, Jean, whose marriage takes place in Teston United Church on June 25th. The guests were numerous in the afternoon and evening. They viewed the trossseau appointments and gifts with delight. The tea table was decorated with fine taste and flowers adorned the house effectively.

Rain Welcomed

A good hour's heavy rainfall occurred at Schomberg and the western portion of the Holland Marsh early Sunday night giving some relief to parched crops. The fall penetrated about two inches bringing hope to Marsh farmers. In the Bradford and Ansonveldt Marsh areas there was very little rain and farther south none at all. The carrot crop has been hard hit by drought and farmers are hard at work re-seeding. Carrot seeding has been carried on for the third time. Those lands nearest the canal are not so badly off, according to Mrs. John Ruple. Pumps are at work filling the ditches allowing enough moisture to penetrate. This system of irrigation has greatly helped these areas. Because the rain fell in the evening moisture was retained longer. The drought situation is now so serious and devastating to the future of many crops there is little left to talk about and weariness and anxiety are getting folks down. Fall wheat shows good prospects, while spring grain is heading.

New Shingles Disappear

Forty bundles of asphalt shingles were stolen from the premises of Leonard Bishop, Nobleton, who is building a new home. They were removed during the night last week, and apparently unloaded on the roadside of the eighth concession near the Bishop farm gate. Seen there by a passing motorist it was not thought unusual, probably the truck transporting them had broken down. That night they were removed once again to an unknown destination. Police said tire marks of two trucks did not correspond. Apparently they had been handled by different vehicles. Mr. Bishop said neighbors had heard sounds at the Bishop premises during the night but thought they were traffic sounds on highway 27. Along with the shingles was 100 feet of rubber hose. Loss was estimated at upwards of $150. No insurance was in force. A new supply of shingles was delivered to Mr. Bishop early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Willis of Uxbridge spent a day recently with Mrs. T. L. Williams. Also visiting here were her brother, Mr. Duncan Sinclair and his wife of Lindsay who spent three days at King last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Meades, Toronto, will celebrate their ninth wedding anniversary on June 28th. On the same day their daughter, Carol, will be three years old and their son, Neil, two years.

On June 30th, Mr. and Mrs. William Walker of Teston, will be 52 years married.

At Newmarket hospital, on Sunday, June 12th, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Ash of Lake Wilcox. They have now three children, Carol, Kenneth and the new son.

Torrid heat drove Toronto and district residents lakeward on Saturday and Sunday. So many thronged at Lake Wilcox on Sunday truckloads of vacationers were forced to turn back for less populated resorts. Many made enquiries for directions to Preston's Lake. Highway traffic was termed one of the heaviest of any season. Aurora Provincial Police described it "terrible" while police at Bradford found little time for anything but traffic supervision. Four chartered buses from Langdon Coach Lines at King transported loads to Musselman's Lake. Nine were chartered from Langdon's for Sunday trips. Innisfil Beach, Lake Simcoe; Woodland Park, Markham, and other resorts were reached. B. J. Langdon has a standing fleet of 17 coaches, ten being used for steady charter work. It is expected that charter work will reach a peak this summer. Drivers are Jim Gillham, Bill Cooper, Don McQuarrie, Laurence Scott, Walter Aitchison of Schomberg, Wilfred Orr of Bond Head, Dick Wilson of Maple, Murray Duncan of Oak Ridges.

Four buses from Oak Ridges school section travelled to Woodland Park this week.

Mr. Winter was born 72 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Winter. Retiring from the homestead farm here about 25 years ago, he built a fine home, engaging in the florist industry on a small scale which he operated very successfully. Six nephews, sons of the late Norman Winter were pall bearers for deceased. They had acted in that capacity when Mr. John Winter was laid to rest in the family plot at King. Earlier in the month the W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church at Strange of which Doris Hollinshead Willoughby had been an active member presented her with a handsome small table and lamp.
