OBITUARY

MISS MARY ELMA DEAN

Miss Mary Elma Dean, daughter of Mrs. Dean and the late George Dean died at her home in Thornhill on Thursday, June 18th, in her 47th year. She was born on her parents' farm at Headford. After graduating from Richmond Hill High School she entered the Toronto firm of A. Bradshaw and Sons as a stenographer, and soon became a valued employee. Besides her secretarial duties she sponsored the introduction of group benefits for insurance and medical services, organized the Quarter Century Club, arranged staff dinners, and did personnel work which brought her in touch with all members of the large staff. Her warm interest in people and her bright personality won her many friends both in, and outside the business world, and during the illness which she bore with such courage and cheerfulness she was besieged by visitors.

The following quotation is from a long and moving bulletin issued by her employers. "But the important fact is not that Miss Dean has died, but rather that she lived, and that we had the real privilege of working with her and enjoying her acquaintance and friendship. Hers was a full life. She enjoyed her work and her motive was not governed by hours or time, but by satisfaction that comes in completing a job well done. She made herself quite indispensable to the Company by giving a full measure of service and loyalty — pressed down and running over — as the Good Book says. There is no way of calculating the countless little acts she did for others. Time will not soon blur nor memory forget the kindly smile and gracious personality of Mary Dean."

Toronto Cars Involved In Week-end Accident

Cause of the accident, it was alleged, was blocking of traffic by a car endeavouring to make a left hand turn against heavy southbound movement. Becoming impatient at the delay, other motorists endeavoured to turn out past the standing vehicle, with the collision resulting.
