Confinement Growing Mash or Pellets

This has been a very dry, hot month, thus most poultry ranges are dried up with little or no tender grass available for the birds.

Under these conditions birds will not do well if fed on ordinary growing mash. Therefore we recommend changing to MASTER CONFINE-MENT GROWING MASH or PELLETS, which have been built to meet the special requirements of vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates, when good range is not available.

Ancient Bible Given. To Sharon Temple By D. C. and Miss Burr

Back in the days when Markham Township, parts of which are now fast becoming urbanized, was almost solid bush two brothers, David and Daniel Leek, settled on what is now the 3rd Concession of Markham.

That was around 1837 and, about that time, there came into the possession of David Leek an old Bible, printed in 1793. The name of her brother, David Cline Burr, appears therein as the donor, says Miss Olive Burr of 61 Richmond Street, Richmond Hill, who states that David Leek was her grandfather.

After David and Daniel Leek had completed some of the preliminary work on their land, Miss Burr says also, they returned to New York state and, when they came back, brought with them into the wilderness their two brides.
