OBITUARIES

John Rumble

One of Richmond Hill's oldest inhabitants, John Rumble of 7 Arnold Street, was laid to rest on August 9.

Mr. Rumble, who was 85 on June 22, was born at Patterson on a farm which is now part of the Don Head Farms. He lived all his life there until 1913 when he moved to Richmond Hill, and engaged in carpentering.

Mrs. Rumble predeceased him in September, 1941 and a son, Raymond, died in 1945. Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. S. Adams of Richmond Hill.

The service was conducted by Rev. J. T. Taylor, M.A., D.D., and pallbearers were Art, Frank and Dave Rumble; Warren and Isaac Reaman and Wm. Neal.

Mrs. Marjory Mecredy

Mrs. Marjory Mecredy, widow of Harold Gordon Mecredy, died suddenly at her home on Yonge St. north, Richmond Hill, on Wednesday evening, July 27. She was born at Port Stanley in 1888, married at Cranbrook, B.C., in 1915, and came here to live in 1924.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Arthur Adams of Port Credit and four daughters: Mrs. Richard Sliger of Michigan (Joan), Katherine of Washington D.C., Alice and Sylvia, and two grand-daughters, Carolyn and Jodi Sliger.

'WAY BACK WHEN
 (Excerpts from the LIBERAL Files of December 19, 1889)

"It is expected that the rails of the Northern Pacific Railway will be laid into Brandon, Man., by Christmas."

"A circular issued by an Ottawa house indicates that the manufacturers of clothes pins have formed a trust."

"It is rumoured that next summer about 10,000 of Canada's militia will be massed in Kingston as an experiment, to see with what despatch a large body of troops can be gathered in one place."

"The New York grand jury brought in a presentment last Thursday against the methods adopted by the electric light companies in tearing up the streets promiscuously."

"In a little town of Schleswig-Holstein there is a tax exemption for dogs that sleep with their masters and mistresses and so preserve them from gout, rheumatism and like pains."

"The frame work of the Agricultural Hall at the Park was raised on Monday and a fine framework it is. The building is well braced and will be a credit to the village and the association when finished. There are nearly fifty windows so it is safe to say it will be well lighted."

"The village fire brigade will hold their annual supper and entertainment in the Masonic Hall on New Year's night. The Brigade band will head a torchlight procession,

Poor Storage Apples Should Be Used First

The storage life of apples can be prolonged by good orchard management. Such things as the application of fertilizer and pruning, for example, may be the determining factors between good keeping and poor keeping fruit.

What is desired for long storage life is a sound well-coloured apple of medium size, harvested at the proper stage of maturity, says W. R. Phillips, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ontario. Such apples are usually produced on healthy trees of normal vigour, and not too dense foliage. Orchardists can accomplish such conditions through careful observation

IN MEMORIAM

READ — In loving memory of James Read who passed away August 8, 1947.
 Gone, dear father, gone to rest,
 Away from sorrow care and pain,
 May you rest in peace dear father,
 Until we meet again.
 —Sadly missed by son William, daughters, Mrs. J. Eastley and Mrs. A. Cowie. *1w6

RECORD CENTRE
 WESTERN MUSIC

Western, hillbilly, cowboy, folk music, country music — call it what you wish this music is always in popular demand. New RCA Victor releases of western songs on Bluebird Records promise pleasant summer listening for those who like this type of music. Eddy Arnold with his guitar sings "I'm Throwing Rice" coupled with "Show Me The Way Back To Your Heart" and "The Echo of Your Footsteps" backed by "One Kiss Too Many."

Hank Snow (the Singing Ranger) does "Marriage Vow" and "The Star Spangled Waltz."

A song which received attention last winter is "There's a Bluebird on Your Window Sill." Written by Elizabeth Clarke, a nurse in the Children's Hospital in Vancouver, all proceeds from the song are being donated by Mrs. Clarke to the Children's Hospital. Wilf Carter and the Calgary Stampede have recorded the cheerful ditty coupled with "All I Need Is Some More Lovin'." This record should be popular with Wilf Carter fans.
