Allies did not need him when war was over. The cream of the Baltic civilization is pouring into Canada rich in traditon, professionals in every branch, skilled mechanics, tradesmen and craftsmen, educawith indomitable perserverance, and a will to give Canada the best they have. They are glad, the speaker said, to conform with Canadian government regulations in order to obtain their citizenship. But the English language they must speak before they can fully appreciate the position here and before they are recognized as cit izens. "Let us give them an even break all along the line," said Miss Oliver. We are more interested in discussing these than in examining our own short comings. We profess to be Christians and Canadian citizens yet what in ten years will the new citizens think if we now fail to demonstrate and exemplify these principles."

Mrs. E. J. Kyle, W.I. president, was chairman. The speaker was introduced by vice president, Mrs. A. E. Jarvis. Mrs. Ross Walker, the first president of the organization cut the decorated birthday cake made by King City Bakery. Mrs. Colin Stewart and Mrs. D. Rawlings succeeded Mrs. Walker as president.

As entertainment a group of charades in costume was effectively carried out down to a scene from "Macbeth". They were actually dramatic playlets and were enacted by a group of W.I. mem-
