RICHVALE

Correspondent: Norm McDermott, Phone Richmond Hill 364r13

This week we are going to mention an amazing feat. It was the occasion of the first banquet ever to be held in the community of Richvale. The event took place last Friday evening, November 11, and marked the first anniversary of the formation of the 1st Richvale Boy Scout Troop and Cub Pack. It was in the form of a Father and Son Supper and over ninety persons including guests sat down to a feast fit for a king. Comes now the most amazing part — the dinner was a hot one and there isn't a community kitchen in the area. The ladies of the auxiliary under the leadership of Mrs. Harold Ince and Mrs. A. Baskerville each cooked part of the repast in their homes and then hurried it to the school. The timing was such that there was no waiting and the service would have put our larger hotels to shame — right down to apple pie and ice cream.

Now for the evening's program. Mr. Geo. Selkirk, the leader of the Sunday School, opened with Grace followed by the dinner after which the guests of the evening were introduced. Present were Mrs. Terry Jackson, York Central District Cubmaster; Jack Atkinson, Provincial Commissioner of Boy Scouts; Mr. Clarke Locke, District Commissioner of Boy Scouts; Mr. Dick Edmunds, Assistant District Commissioner; Mr. John Snow, York Central District Scout Master and Mr. A. Baskerville, president of the East Vaughan Ratepayers Association. Also present was Corporal Wm. Brawn, I.C.M.P., who proved of great interest to the boys.

Corporal Brawn was everything a boy looks for in a stalwart of the Mounties and they couldn't have been more thrilled if Chris Kringle himself walked in. The Corporal has a special job in the force and that is youth training and welfare. His interest in the future citizens of the Dominion made him an instant friend of the young lads present. After the banquet Cubmasters Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Millard were invested into the Boy Scout Association by Assistant Commissioner Dick Edmunds as were the Group Committee.

The proudest boy of the evening was Cub Jack Underhill who was presented with the shield which is given annually to the most outstanding member of the Cub Pack. This includes his actions during cub meetings, his behaviour at school and also his deportment at home. Jackie's grandmother, Mrs. Sparks, who was serving with the ladies' auxiliary, was so thrilled she would not have changed places with the Queen.

To round the evening out Corporal Brawn showed a film in colour of the training and duties of the Mounted Police.

A hearty vote of thanks is hereby given to Mrs. Ince and her ladies of the Auxiliary and also to Messrs. Jackson Taylor, Cec. Turnbull, Ken Hough, A. Baskerville, Harold Ince and Cliff Nunn of the Group Committee for the success of the evening.

W. A. Bazaar

This Saturday, November 19, in the school basement, the Anglican Women's Auxiliary of Richvale is presenting a bake sale and bazaar. The affair gets under way at 2.30, and includes a lucky fish pond for the children.

Tea and cakes are going to be served and what can be nicer than a refreshing spot of tea after a weary session with the kiddies at Santa's parade. Do drop in on your way home, be refreshed and then take home a masterpiece of the culinary art for Sunday's dinner.

Vocalists

Last Saturday we thought the Leslie Bell Singers or perhaps a wayward group of angels had dropped into the school basement however upon investigating we found that it was the Girl Guides and Brownies vocalizing in preparation for their Christmas Concert. Very nice it was indeed and the community is really in for a treat during the Michaelmas season. More about this later.

Boy Scout News

The ladies auxiliary of the Boy Scouts will meet in the school basement, on Thursday, November 24, at 8.30 p.m.

FOR THAT CHURCH SUPPER we have available a quantity of clean newsprint, in 94 pound bundles, consisting of one thousand sheets each, size 29 1/2 by 43 inches. It would make excellent covering for banquet tables, etc. While it lasts the price is $3.75 per bundle. Telephone the Liberal office, Richmond Hill 9.
