Capacity Crowd In Attendance At Crop Improvement Meeting

The standing room only sign on the Parish Hall at Newmarket turned away a few of the late arrivals when just over 270 York County farmers packed the hall to capacity for the annual meeting of their Crop Improvement Association. With the full day's programme on a variety of subjects there was keen interest throughout the main addresses on soils and brush control as well as the discussion panel by four of the members on harvesting methods.

After the presentation of reports Harold Coakwell of Markham gave a short talk on his successful use of the forage harvester in harvesting his grain. Other members of the panel included Wm. Scott of Don Head Farms, Richmond Hill, where swathing was first practised in the county, Eugene Lemou of Stouffville who used a self-propelled combine with straw shredder and Alfred Bagge, Edgeley, who defended the old reliable binder and thrasher in a humorous and convincing way.

Mr. J. W. Suggett of the Research Department of the Hydro Commission spoke on the use of the new 2-4-5-T dormant or park spray for brush control which can be applied almost any time of the year. Mixed with oil to prevent freezing this can be done in the winter months spraying from the ground or surface of the snow up to breast height, killing the brush growth through the winter breathing pores in the bark. Following his explanation of the spraying he illustrated his points with a number of coloured slides taken along various Hydro right-of-ways which brought forth a great many questions from those present.

The other guest speaker, D. W. Hoffman of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at present attached to the Soils Department of the Ontario Agricultural College, by the use of a large variegated colour soil map and coloured slides described the soils throughout York County and their classification and uses. Mr. Hoffman during his past summer has been in charge of the resurvey of the soils in the county and in answering the many questions advised cautious use of lime and subsoiling. Lime recommendation can best be made following a soil test on the fields concerned.

Cup Of Tea To Give Solace To Trampled In Bake Sale Rush

It is no secret that the ladies of Richmond Hill are excellent cooks, judging by the popularity of the baking sales put on by the different organizations.

One local resident thinks this is carried too far when he delivered his wife's contribution he never got beyond the door, being met by grasping hands and shrill feminine screams. The way he tells it, he just escaped being trampled to death.

One version of a baking sale and tea is a nice "social get-together" for even if we can't get near the counter of baked goodies, there is solace at the tea table. It is just such a "social" that the Ladies Auxiliary of Scouts and Cubs are holding on Saturday, January 20, at 3.30 p.m. in the public school auditorium. Baking sale and silver tea.

Mr. Joseph, an Anglican Priest, is studying at Wyntiffe College, Toronto, for his M. Th. degree.

Oak Ridges Lions Funds Boosted Through Euchre

The funds required to transport Oak Ridges boys to Aurora Arena for hockey every Saturday morning received a boost when the Lions Club held a euchre on Monday night at the Ridge Inn.

President C. L. Stephenson expressed gratitude to the entire community for the support which it has given to the Lions Club, which has enabled the organization to carry on its work among young people and to carry on its welfare work. There have been many calls for assistance in Oak Ridges during recent weeks.

The sum of $52 was realized by the euchre, including donations from Major Snively, his farm manager, Mr. Walls and Frank Bell.

The Lions intend to continue the euchre throughout the season. The next event will take place on January 29 at the Ridge Inn.

THORNLEA

Chicken Finale

A BIT of chicken takes right to a combination with condensed cream of chicken soup and noodles. Fix the last of the holiday fowl this way and it's really a "bird in a gilded cage". Takes just a short time to fix too. You can also make the dish with turkey or ham. And to go with it, how about hot buttered broccoli or peas and a relish dish of celery and olives?

SOUP SCOOPS
Soup for supper is a life-saver when you're in the thick of the holiday rush. Hot canned tomato soup and grilled cheese sandwiches will keep the family happy. Round out the menu with a tossed salad or a fresh-fruit dessert.

Chicken Finale
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
2 cups cooked noodles
Diced cooked chicken

Simmer green pepper in butter in a saucepan until tender. Add soup, noodles—and chicken if desired (1/2 cup or more is good). Mix all together. Cook over low heat for about 10 minutes or until heated through. Serve on a warm platter.

Holiday time is the season to be sure you have a variety-soup shelf. Keep several kinds on hand—vegetable, chicken noodle, cream of celery, etc. Then everyone can fix his own supper when the "chief-cook" is dining out or just too busy.
