Carrville United Church congregational meeting was held on Friday, January 19, at 8 p.m. in the church with 20 people present. Rev. E. E. Kent called the meeting to order and in the absence of Mr. J. Oliver, Mr. Wm. George was appointed secretary for the meeting.

During 1950 was celebrated the 100th anniversary of the first church located at the corner of Carrville Road and Bathurst St. The church shed was also sold and removed and considerable improvement was made by willing hands in a couple of months, meeting on Monday nights.

The Woman's Association and the Carrville Girls Club received mention for their work for the church in the past year.

The first cemetery Sunday was held in June. It is to be a yearly event, and will be held on the last Sunday of June, which this year will be June 24.

The church lost a very valued worker in the church, Sunday School and W. A. in the person of Mrs. Frank Woolcott. Her passing is keenly felt by all.

Various reports were given and approved. The church treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $219.82.

A Fellowship Group held only 5 meetings but they were quite successful and interesting.

Mr. Bert Middleton spoke on the Sunday School. It is to continue in the morning until June. Mr. Middleton was appointed superintendent this year and is to appoint his own helpers and teachers.

The church organ needs some repairs and this was left in the hands of the Board of Stewards. This board is to consider doing something toward putting a room on the back of the church. Mr. George gave an estimate of what a basement and room would cost approximately.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kirk were appointed auditors for 1951 for all treasurers' books.

The following are the various boards of the church:

Elders: Mr. Bert Middleton, Mr. Jack Oliver, Mr. Jack McEwen, Mr. Wm. George and Mr. Ernest Bone.
Stewards: Mr. Walter Bone, Mr. Robt. Kirk, Mr. Wm. George, Mr. Jack Barton, Mr. Ernest Bone, and Mr. Jack Oliver.
Organist: Mrs. Wm. George.
Assistant Organist: Mrs. Jack Oliver.
Rev. Kent closed the meeting with the benediction and lunch was served by members of the W. A.

Fellowship Group meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 31, at 8 p.m. in the church. This meeting should prove very interesting as the special feature will be Mr. Gordon Everingham of Toronto showing the films of the weddings of Ken Haugh and Ann Wood; Frank Purves and Frances Wood; and Fred Broom Jr. and Margaret Wood; and also Mr. and Mrs. Perri-ers.

There will also be a film for the children. The group M to Z will be in charge of the refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barton and son John had tea Sunday evening in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Williams and George and Margaret spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayter.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kirk of Toronto spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Kirk.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whittamore visited with Mr. and Mrs. A. Read on Monday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Randall, Carrville Road, on the birth of a daughter.

At the Sanction Show put on by the Boston Terrier Club in Toronto last week, Ming Toy, owned by Mrs. Harold Ince won the Silver Cup for best of breed.

Little Miss Jacqueline Einboden is somewhat better after an attack of scarlet fever, we are glad to report.

Young Barrie Smith, Oak Ave., is getting around cautiously again following his brush with death on the highway last week.

There is a happier statement on the water situation for the school which will be found elsewhere in this issue.

The Richvale Public School girls played the Thornhill girls in a good game at Thornhill on Monday. The first goal was Thornhill's shot by Carolyn Jennings. With 15 minutes to go Richvale tied it up with a goal scored by Norma Turnbull, with an assist by Carol Hirtz, and the winning goal was scored by Carol a few minutes later.

The next game planned is with Langstaff, for the 29th, after school at Thornhill.

Our readers are asked to remember the paper drive on February 10.

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

An ideal sport for this time of the year is the ancient and honorable game of "tree-chumping." Almost anyone can play it; all you do is select the tallest tree in your locality, climb it, and, when you reach the highest limb, ease yourself carefully out to the end. Then, facing in toward the trunk, you pull out a heavy whittling-knife from your belt and gouge out the names of the three hockey players in the NHL whom you think should win this year's Hart, the Lady Byng and the Calder trophies.

If you have chosen the right players and avoided digging too deeply into the branch on which you perch, the chances are your name will be remembered along with those of the prophets of old. However, should you misjudge the signs of the times or your whittling ability, you will undoubtedly learn that "tree-chumping" can be highly dangerous. Want to play? Okay. We'll lead off.

Lady Byng Trophy
For the Lady Byng Trophy (1950-51) we nominate Max Bentley of the Maple Leafs. Low on penalty-minutes, Max should be able to maintain his pace in the scoring-race and thereby take the trophy. The colourful career of the Byng Trophy once already in his career. And that, in his third season in the NHL (1942-43), with the Chicago Black Hawks.

The idea of Max Bentley's retirement was kicked around in the rumor-mill at the end of last season but the way the "Weaver" has been going throughout the current year, we will likely hear that he plans to retire not before 1972-73. Besides, Max and brother Douglas have always intended to retire together from the hockey wars and we can't imagine both Conn Smythe and Bill Tobin going soft simultaneously. Tobin and the Major could likely never decide on who thought of retiring their Bentley first—so both Max and Doug will probably have to play on for years and years!

Hart Trophy
We call on Gord Howe, the whipping right-winger of the Red Wings, to walk off with the Hart Trophy for 1950-51. With the Abel; Lindsay and Howe going like a three-headed rabbit through the NHL turnip patch, it is not likely that the experts will overlook twenty-two year old Gord Howe.

So, now you can easily see how the rarified atmosphere of the high "tree-chumping" game can affect the so-called mind of a sports-writer. We had intended to pick only the Lady Byng, Calder and Hart trophy winners but a second ago we decided to use an axe on our extended branch up the "chump-tree." So for the STANLEY CUP winners of the 1950-51 season... chop, chop, chop... we pick the Otonorot-Tiorted-Sregnar to win Lord Stanley's cup! We've made our play. Now it's your turn. But careful with that axe.

Calder Trophy
Undoubtedly, twenty-one year old Terrence Gordon Sawchuk of the Detroit Red Wings will win the Calder Trophy of 1950-51. A red hot goaltender, young Sawchuk has the added advantage of being a genius.

He won the "Outstanding Rookie Award" of the USHL in 1947-48, while completing his first pro season with Omaha; previously, he had starred as an amateur with the Windsor Spitfires. In his second pro year, Sawchuk again won a rookie

This Week a Year Ago
This week, a year ago, in Earl's Court, London, Joey Maxim of Cleveland stunned a record indoor British boxing crowd by hanging a K.O. on the world's light heavyweight champ, Freddie Mills. Joey is now back in the news as a likely contender for Ezzard Charles' heavyweight crown—despite the difference in weight. Might be an interesting scrap at that!
