Fine Programme Presented By Thornhill United Church Group

A two hour well-rounded programme was presented in Richmond Hill United Church Hall on Wednesday of last week by the Young People's Union of Thornhill United Church, and assisting artists. The deluge which lasted all day and night in no way marred the success of the evening for the hall was filled to capacity and an excellent performance was the fare enjoyed by the many who braved the elements.

The programme began with a one-act play entitled "Teacher's Pet" and directed by Mrs. E. Kent Jr. The scene was a classroom in a small town schoolhouse with Joan Cooper convincingly portraying "Libby Lawrence," the poor teacher, and Virginia Jones, "Goodie Fairweather," the teacher's pet. The remainder of the equally-effective cast consisted of: Barbara Statton as "Iva Fish," a dumb girl; Patricia Mitchell as "Betty Knowlson," a flirtatious girl; Jean Campbell as "Hortense Allen," a studious girl; Ralph Nuttall as "Winston Ringrose," an English boy; Charles Russell as "Sam (Shrimp) Brown," smallest boy in school; Arthur Bone as "Chuck Hicks," a tough boy; Ernest Kent as "Penrod (Fatty) Fuller," a stout boy; Miriam Kent as "Ramona Goldstein," a Jewish girl; Douglas Kemp as "Alonzo Pettie," the principal; and Sylvia Kent as "Hetty Grey," the principal's hard-worked assistant.

Following that, Elaine Burke and Marie Jones, dressed as farm boys, complete with milking pails and stools, gave a pleasing interpretation in duet of two songs, "Mocking Bird Hill" and "Tennessee Waltz." They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. L. Burke. Carol Frye, in costume, delighted with a Scottish dance.

Miss Hilda Thibert of Richmond Hill, in spite of the cold from which she was suffering, very acceptably rendered a group of soprano solos: "In My Garden by Ida-bell Firestone; If My Songs Were Only Winged by Reynoldo Hahn, and sung in French, and "Mighty Lak a Rose by Ethelbert Nevins. Dramatic Sketch

The second of the plays presented by the Thornhill Young People featured a Pair of Lunatics in a dramatic sketch. Two guests leave the dance being held in the auditorium of a lunatic asylum and decide to rest in the drawing room which sets the scene. He, otherwise known as Captain Fieuing, played by Ralph Nuttall and She, otherwise known as Clara Manners, portrayed by Betty Empringham, believe each other to be inmates, with hilarious results. Both parts were excellently taken.

Miss Thibert then added pleasantly to the programme with a group of songs in lighter vein. These were "My Blue Heaven" and "Alice Blue Gown." In this, as in her first group, she was accompanied by Mrs. E. Kent, Jr.

The grand finale, was the third play by the Young People. This was "The Proposal," a Russian farce by Checov, directed by Mr. T. Pherrill. The setting was a drawing-room in Chubukovs house and the three characters were cleverly handled by Wilbert C. Smith as Stephan Stepanovich, a landowner; Dilys Whately as Natalya Stepanovna, his daughter; and Ernest Kent as Ivan Vassilevitch Lomov, a neighbour of Chubukov.

minimum of disruption of the immunization schedule, and a great deal of credit is due to the school boards and to the school teachers who have given their full co-operation and have assisted the Health Unit immunization team to carry on its program.

Protection against Diphtheria by the use of Diphtheria Toxoid has been responsible for the enviable reputation of such communities as the city of Brantford, which boasts of having no cases of Diphtheria for over 20 years. Such communities give credit for this achievement entirely to the use of Diphtheria Toxoid. Fortunately, intermittent use of Diphtheria Toxoid in previous years in York County has partially reduced the danger here from Diphtheria. But unfortunately many parents are taking for granted the apparent absence of Diphtheria in their communities and are thus raising another generation of incompletely-protected young citizens. This is shown by the fact that, in addition to re-inforcing doses of Diphtheria Toxoid, and original doses of Tetanus Toxoid, up to the end of March, the Health Unit has given Diphtheria Toxoid before. This illustrates the closing of a dangerous gap in our defenses against one of the disastrous illnesses. No child should be denied the protection of Toxoid against Diphtheria after he passes the age of 6 months. The Health Unit hopes all parents in the Health Unit will see that their children are properly protected against Diphtheria at the earliest age possible, either by visiting their family physician, or by taking advantage of the services offered by the York County Health Unit.

General Sanitation
Investigation of a great variety of complaints and alleged nuisances as well as routine inspection of food handling, milk-pasteurizing plants, etc., has occupied the time of the Sanitary Inspectors. In addition, the taking of 183 routine samples of both raw and pasteurized milk, and of 31 water samples has helped to maintain the close-check system established for supervision of milk and water consumed by the residents of the York County Health Unit.

It is becoming more and more apparent that a major problem for many communities in the Health Unit is the problem of disposal of sanitary waste material. The problem of disposal of human waste from private residences, public wash rooms, and places of business in the more congested communities is rapidly revealing the lack of planning in the past and the necessity for action in the present, to meet these urgent problems. It is gratifying to know that the Village of Richmond Hill, a community with typical unpleasant and unsanitary situations created by rapid building and lack of sufficient septic tank disposal areas has now taken the necessary steps to proceed with the installation of a sewerage system for the entire community. Problems that have come to the attention of the Health Unit during the past few months in the Village of Markham, and in the Village of Thornhill, have revealed the necessity for local authorities to look more closely into their community problems regarding waste disposal and to give serious consideration to Municipal sewerage systems. The Village of Woodbridge located on the Humber River cannot put off much longer the need for proper handling of waste material and proper treatment of these wastes in order to avoid further contamination of local waters. The Village of Stouffville which has long been proud of its water supply has now reached the point where it is necessary to consider, without too much loss of time, the need for protection of its water supply both at the source and by treatment in the water mains before it reaches the consumer.

Community responsibility for safety of water supplies and for sanitary disposal of waste material is gradually encroaching on public consciousness and material encouragement for improvement on a community level is forthcoming from the Provincial treasury. Recognition of the need for Municipal action in problems of community water supplies and waste disposal is a function of the Health Unit, and it is hoped that Municipal authorities concerned will examine their local situations carefully in this regard.

Langstaff Man's Father Active Even Though Blind

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jobe, Langstaff Road, West spent a recent week-end at Owen Sound with Mr. Jobe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jobe.

For twenty-eight years Mr. Wesley Jobe has been blind, having lost the sight of both his eyes when he was kicked by an angry colt. After his accident he immediately began to learn to weave trays, baskets and other wicker articles, under the guidance of an Institute for the Blind teacher, but he wanted to get about his farm and among his animals. Through the patience and understanding of his wife, added to his own tremendous drive, he learned to care for them, to do the general chores around the stable, barn and garden and even to pitch hay as capably as an average man. He gets from house to barn using a wire above his head level as a guide for his cane.

Since his accident closely followed his marriage, Mr. Jobe has never seen any of his four children nor his seven grandchildren. He likes to attend any gatherings for the blind and looks forward with keen anticipation to the annual picnic held at Harrison's Park. He speaks highly of the work of the Club and of the local Advisory Board to the Blind. Since he has never studied Braille, his indoor friend is his radio. The Owen Sound Daily Sun-Times recently reported that his cheerful nature, and his keen interest and his tremendous determination greatly impress all those who come into contact with him. To this could be added that his wife too, must be a wonderful person.

Good Prices Prevail At Cattle Show Here

Some 50 purebred Guernsey cattle, cream of the herds from York and Simcoe counties, brought more than $20,000 in a sale conducted at the Richmond Hill arena last Wednesday.

Buyers from the U.S. and all parts of Canada bid prices as high as $875 for one heifer.

The sale was one of many spring sales throughout the province where members of cattle associations pool their surplus stock and sell them together. Not only do outside buyers compete in the auction, but many members buy stock to improve their own herds.

G. Kenneth Hogg of Thamesville followed bidding to $875 to buy Don Alda Victor's Honey, a two-year-old heifer, for that price. The heifer was owned by Jack Fraser of Concord.

John Kudelka, spokesman for the York-Simcoe Guernsey Club, said proceeds would be used to improve herds in the two counties.

Work Begun On King City Water Extension

During the past week work began on the King City water mains extension, and is being dug to the eastern town limits. Next week it is expected to extend the pipes to the western townline, just west of John Dew's property. From there the next extension of the mains will be placed through Hunter Street, and then for the new street where Alex Campbell's house is built. The cost will be about $15,000 which will include the addition of six new hydrants.

By the end of this week 9 new street lights are to be added to the village. There will be three new lights as far north as the school, and three to the east as well as the west.
