MODERN EQUIPMENT IS VITAL FACTOR IN FULL SCALE FARM PRODUCTION

Canada's agriculture is highly productive. And one of the greatest assets that a nation can have, particularly in these troubled times, is a highly productive agriculture. Our national economy, our industrial production, the health of our people and our security, benefit greatly from the ability of our agriculture to produce great quantities of essential foods.

That Canada's agriculture produces more food than ever before with comparatively less manpower is due to the practical application of scientific developments and the effective use of modern power farming equipment.

Through continuous engineering developments, Massey-Harris has helped make available today tractors, combines and power machines to keep our farms operating at peak efficiency. From your local Massey-Harris dealer get full particulars of the latest in time-saving, labour-saving equipment.

C. E. Blodale Appointed Bell Manager For District

C. E. Blodale has been reappointed Bell Telephone manager at Newmarket and will have supervision over the company's office at Richmond Hill, it was announced this week. He succeeds Victor H. Storey who has been named acting manager at Markham. The change was effective July 1.

Mr. Blodale, who has been manager at Markham since January of this year, is well known to many residents of Newmarket and region, having been manager at Newmarket from February, 1943, until May, 1945, and again for six months last year. A native of Delaware, Ont., he joined the company as a salesman at Guelph in 1926, and before his Newmarket appointment in 1943, he served in staff positions in Windsor, Kitchener and London. He was employed in the company's general offices in Toronto from May, 1948, to June, 1950, when he returned to Newmarket as manager.

In addition to Richmond Hill, Mr. Blodale will have supervision over the company's offices at Newmarket, Aurora, Beeton, Bradford, Roche's Point, Sutton and Tottenham.

Mr. Storey, who has been acting manager at Newmarket since January, has had 27 years' experience in the telephone business. Born and educated at Toronto, he joined the company there in 1923 as a clerk. During the succeeding years he gained a wide variety of experience in the commercial department in both sales and business office work. In 1943 he was appointed a public office manager at Toronto, and in 1948 he became assistant to the central Ontario district manager. He was appointed acting manager at Newmarket in January, 1951.

Richvale Senior Room

A large folio contained an almost exhaustive history of the evolution of the horseless carriage from the first one which was made by Mr. Nicolas Cugnat in Paris in 1769 and the steam one made by Trevithick in England in 1801 to the latest 1950 models. One page was devoted to pictures in colour of the American types of automobiles from 1915 to 1950. Points of interest in the latest models of present popular styles were described with accompanying illustrations.

The Trans-Canada Airlines were made known to the reader in some detail, and a paragraph headed "Skylines Never Grow Old," told how the great air ships are dismantled long before the parts get worn, and constant checking of engines, instruments, propellers and accessories with precision instruments make it possible for the airline companies of Canada to maintain their high standards and safe flying records. At the end of the book were maps showing air routes all over Canada.

The Armed Forces in Canada included a description of the personnel of the Senior Service which is the Royal Canadian Navy, with photographs of H.M.C.S. Magnificent of 18,000 tons and 1,000 officers and men, the R.C.N. Minesweeper Sault Ste. Marie, the R.C.N. Cruiser Ontario and the R.C.N. Destroyer Athabaskan.

The importance of the ground crew, the backbone of the Airforce, was emphasized with photographs of the latest types of fighter aircraft.

An outlined description of Canada's Army Reserve Force included the qualifications, duties of different branches, and pictures showing types of equipment used in training: the Sherman tank, the Carrier, the Anti-tank guns, the Anti-aircraft guns and others.

It was an inspiring collection and represented hours of painstaking work which must have amply repaid the pupils for their pains as well as delighted Mr. E. Dunning, the teacher in charge.

The projects were judged by the teachers and graded according to excellence.
