Record Crowds Expected To Enjoy A Day's Program Of Fun And Frolic For All

The stage is all set for Richmond Hill's big day of the year, Civic Holiday, Monday, August 6, and Richmond Hill Lions Club members are looking forward to the most successful carnival and dance in the long history of this annual celebration. Many thousand visitors are expected to take in the fine afternoon and evening program which has been arranged, and every possible provision is being made for their entertainment.

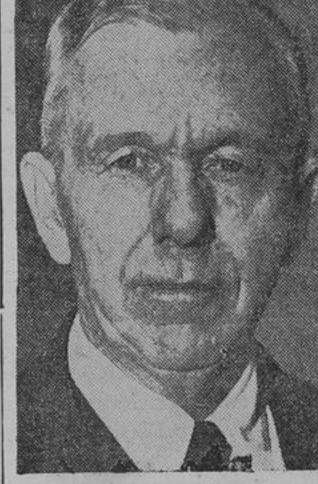

This coming carnival and dance is the big event of the Lions Club year. It is the one big money-raising project sponsored by the local service club on which it largely depends to support its public service program. The Lions Club as a service organization contributes with a generous hand to community welfare work and to undertakings in the interest of the progress and development of the village and district. On its record of service to this community the Lions Club merits the all-out support and co-operation of all the people of the district, and this annual carnival and dance gives to all the people an excellent opportunity to share in this community service.

the support of the members of the popular with visitors to the carniclub have this year arranged a really outstanding program of attractions and entertainment. The day's celebration will start with a monster parade which will leave the north end of the village at 1.30 p.m. It will be headed by the famous St. Andrews Girls Pipe Band

In the parade will be many floats by local and district business places and local organizations, and an entertaining and keen contest. decorated bicycles. Boys and girls are invited to enter their decorated bicycles and attractive prizes will popular Bingo heading a long list be awarded.
