Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hutchinson have motored from their farm in Oxbow, Manitoba, to visit their relatives and friends near King. They have called on Miss Fisher and their cousins, the Tavse family, their relatives near Stouffville, and many friends around Snowball. The old Hutchinson farm is the Everley Farm now owned by Mr. W. A. McLennan. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson both attended Everley School.

Last Thursday evening Mrs. Wilfred Anderson of Oakville entertained at her home, the guest of honor being Miss Louise Kelley, whose marriage to Mrs. Anderson's brother, Mr. E. F. Wilson, takes place on Saturday.

Mrs. Anderson was a classmate of Miss Kelley, when they were nurses in training at St. Joseph's Hospital, and the guests were 24 members of the same class who graduated together. In remembrance of their student days they presented Miss Kelley with a Duncan Fyfe style coffee table.

Dr. David Pinkerton who has been serving as an Anglican missionary in the Peace River, is having a holiday in England. When Dr. Pinkerton lived in King, his home was the building now occupied by the King City Bakery.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tetley were present at a wedding of interest to King people, who have met Capt. Raymond Taylor of the Church Army of the Anglican Church in Canada when he has preached at All Saints Church. Capt. Taylor was the groom and Miss Dorothy Warden the bride. Miss Warden has been a missionary in India for several years, but she and Capt. Taylor will make their home at Church Army Headquarters on Brunswick Avenue, Toronto. The wedding was performed at St. John's Church, West Toronto, and the officiating clergyman was the rector, Rev. C. D. Cross, assisted by Canon Suter. The church was filled and among the guests were six canons of the church.

Capt. Taylor preached at All Saints Church here two weeks ago as substitute for Rev. D. C. H. Mitchell who is on holiday.

There are 104 children attending the Daily Vacation Bible School, and they are having a really good time these two weeks. They will miss the classes and the fun when they graduate at the end of this week. The main theme is to teach the children what a church is, how churches work and how churches care for the people.

One morning this week we looked in at the United Church where 26 little pre-school boys and girls were getting ready for games on the lawn with Mrs. M. Gellately all prepared to throw the balls for them. Mrs. G. Tetley is in charge of the pre-school group and her assistants are Mrs. I. L. Scott, Mrs. A. E. Hobson, Suzanne Grew and Norma Wells.

At the same time Mrs. Jenkinson with her helpers, Rev. M. R. Jenkinson, Mrs. McKay and Miss Helen Hunter had charge of 36 children of 6 to 8 years who were seated at tables in the All Saints Anglican Church basement, making stained glass windows out of cardboard and tissue paper. The children were very quiet and very busy on this important job.

Then up at Crawford Wells hall, Mr. David Watherspoon and Miss Carol Mutch had 42 older and noisier fellows and girls drawing maps of the district, and then having the children draw pictures on the maps of all the churches from Temperanceville to Strange. Some of the boys wanted to include every turn, and wiggle and bump on the road.

Mrs. Beth Anderson is present at 11:30 every morning to close this class with piano music and singing. The older children have made wooden blocks and jigsaw puzzles for the younger ones, and on their altars they have two collections of pennies, one collection being taken for the Blind, and the other to help with the work of the Canadian Bible Schools. The Bible Vacation School is sponsored by all the churches in the neighborhood.

ford-pieced the quilt, which was made up in an attractive pattern with green being the predominating color. The ladies had held several quilting bees at Miss Jessie Gellately's home to get it ready for the carnival. The quilt brought in about $50.00 to the W.I. through the sale of tickets, and at the carnival Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. T. L. Williams were in charge of the ticket selling booth.
