War Brides Hold Seventh Meeting

The seventh meeting of the local War Brides Association was held at the home of Mrs. J. Evelyn, Elgin Mills, on July 25, with the Chairman, Mrs. H. J. Stroud presiding.

There are now twenty members in the group and as more than this number cannot be comfortably accommodated in most of the homes, it was decided to close the membership until the beginning of the next year which will be in March. Other girls who would like to join are invited to contact the secretary, Mrs. L. G. Riley at Thornhill 69W, and list their name and address and the possibility of forming two groups will be considered at the end of the present year's activities.

Mrs. M. Marples won a bon bon dish which was donated by the hostess and Mrs. Riley's name was drawn for the overseas parcel. Initial plans were discussed for a bazaar which is to be held on November 3 at Thornhill United Church.

The next meeting will be on August 22 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. C. Rollinson, 102 Wood Lane (off Mill Street), Richmond Hill.

Salads For Summer

"Keep cool with cool cooking and cool eating", is the sound advice passed on by the home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture. They suggest that the way to avoid that mid-day heat frustration is to do the cooking early in the morning before the sun turns on the heat. This is where jellied salads come into the picture for they may be made in the freshness of the early morning and allowed to set in the refrigerator. Then they will be ready with a minimum of last minute preparation for supper or dinner. Refreshing jellied salads may be as simple or as fancy as anyone wants to make them and almost any combination of fruits, meats or vegetables may be used in their making.

Tomatoes also make delightfully cool and appetizing salads. They are plentiful these days and the home economists advise that everyone will want to serve them as often as possible. An ideal way of serving them is as Stuffed Tomatoes. There is such a variety of fillings that may be used for the purpose that it would be easy to serve a different stuffed tomato salad for each day of the week. For example, a filling of diced celery, diced cucumber, sliced radishes and chopped green onions combined with a small amount of whipped cream, a little vinegar and seasoning to taste and gives a salad which is sure to banish any Monday blues. For Tuesday the tomatoes may be filled with cottage cheese which has been mixed with diced celery, chopped parsley and salad dressing. This will certainly be a winner with any family. Wednesday's stuffed tomato salad might boast a filling of diced chicken, diced hard-cooked eggs and celery and chopped pickle moistened with salad dressing. For variety, ham or other meat may be used instead of chicken. Why not try an Italian type of salad for Thursday? The filling would be cooked left over macaroni, spaghetti mixed with diced celery and well seasoned tomato pulp. Cole slaw, which adds interesting contrast of colour and texture, may be the choice for Friday's filling for stuffed tomatoes. The last filling the home economists suggest is devilled eggs, on a bed of salad dressing spread on tomato petals.

To make these petals cut a tomato in quarters to within one-half inch of the bottom and spread out the quarters to form petals.

Regardless of the type, any salad has greater eye appeal if attractively garnished. As a bouquet of flowers pinned to the shoulder lifts the spirits, so a gay garnish brightens the salad. Simplicity is the key-note in garnishes and one rule to remember is that all garnishes should be edible.

Most folks know how to make radish roses, but not everyone has tried tomato roses. This is the way to make them. Cut a slice across the bottom of a tomato leaving about 1-inch attached, then turn the knife downward and pare the tomato round and round, as if peeling an apple to get a continuous peeling. Coil the tomato peeling around and over the bottom slice. The end should drop down naturally into the centre to form the heart of a rose.

The home economists suggest that sprigs of parsley or watercress, slices of cucumbers or tomatoes, green pepper rings, stuffed eggs or carrot or celery curls may also be used as other edible garnishes for your favourite salad.

Instead of peeling a cucumber before slicing it, try scoring it lengthwise with the tines of a fork. Then cut in diagonal slices. The cut in diagonal slices. The dark green of the skin adds much to the colour of this edible garnish.

OBITUARIES

ANTHONY PARISI
Born in Cassino, Italy, in 1871, Anthony Parisi died at the home of his daughter Mrs. Lucie Quintile Ruggles Avenue, Richmond Hill on August 9, 1951, in his 81st year. He predeceased his wife, Carmine Rossi, who resides in Richmond Hill with a daughter, Mrs. Connie Muzzone, Baker Avenue.

At a very young age he came to the United States where he remained for thirty years, going back to Cassino, Italy, with his family in 1911. While in Italy he was an olive grower. In 1935 he visited relatives in the United States and in Toronto, coming in May 1949 to take up permanent residence in Richmond Hill.

He is survived by four sons, Angelo and John of the United States, Joseph and Melville of Richmond Hill; five daughters, Mrs. Lucie Quintile and Mrs. Connie Muzzone of Richmond Hill, Mrs. Florence Minghella of Newtonbrook, Rose and Elinor of Italy.

There are twenty-five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. The funeral was held Saturday, August 11, with services at Wright and Taylor Funeral Chapel and St. Mary's Catholic Church, Richmond Hill, with interment in St. Luke's Cemetery, Thornhill. Pallbearers were grandchildren Victor and John Parisi, sons-in-law John Quintile and John Muzzone, as well as John Margiotta and Samuel Montana from the United States.

Surviving relatives are a sister, Mrs. John Ash of Gormley and two brothers, George of Gormley and Emerson of Toronto. Pall bearers were four nephews, Meredith and Wm. Ash of Gormley, Clarence Stiles of Toronto, James Ash of Holt, as well as George Baker of Holt and Kenneth Forsythe of Aurora.

PETER A. COBER

A life-long resident of Vaughan Township, Peter Anthony Cober, succumbed to a heart attack at his home on August 2, 1951. He was born June 22, 1870, on lot 12, concession 2, Vaughan where he farmed for many years. He was the son of the late George and Nancy (Heise) Cober. In the "History of York County" the Cobers are listed as being among the earliest settlers of Vaughan Township arriving in 1797. The deceased was unmarried and was the last of his family to survive. He leaves several nieces and nephews.

With his passing is severed another link with pioneer days. His grandfather was said to be the fifth white child born on Yonge Street, then merely a trail.

The funeral was held Saturday, August 4, in the Cober church and interment was in adjoining cemetery. The service was conducted by Elder P. J. Wiebe and Bishop Alvin Winger. Pallbearers were: Gerd Hercher, Samuel Winger, Percy Harrison, Johnathon Baker, Isaac Baker and William Baker.
