COLOR THEORY TENNIS
Mercer Beasley, the well-known American tennis coach, is responsible for color-theory in tennis. It is a simple guide which can be a tremendous help to your game. It will help you decide when to hit ball hard, when to go after a point, when to be satisfied with a safe return, and other items of strategy.

The idea is this. Imagine your court is divided into three strips running parallel to the net, each one 13 feet wide. The strip closest to the net is designated as the green zone; the middle one is the yellow zone; the third, back at the baseline, is the red zone.

Red Zone:
When the ball is taken in the red zone, it should be returned as safely and steadily as possible. Don't try a placement or forcing shot from this area.

Yellow Zone:
The score governs your play in this area. If the game is close and the point important, play it safe. Return the ball carefully. If you can afford to take a chance, however, try a placement or a hard shot.

Green Zone:
This zone, next to the net, gives you the go-ahead to go after points. Here the odds are on your side when you try a placement or forcing shot.

ARE YOU A SPRINTER?
Sprinting is an event in which natural ability is one of the most important elements. If you haven't got a high degree of natural speed, all the training in the world won't help you.

The sprints are by far the most popular events in track and field. Most young athletes like the idea of running faster than the other fellow, and it appears to be an event requiring less work than distance running.

If the speed just isn't there, however, you're running up a dead-end street. If you cannot reach the following standards after one month's training, you would be wise to give up sprinting and go in for longer distances or field events.

Midget (under 16) - 11.3 seconds for 100 yards. Juvenile (under 18) - 10.5 seconds. Junior (under 20) - 10.4 seconds. If you can reach these standards, then you have a good chance to become a sprinter. Otherwise you will save yourself a lot of unrewarded effort by switching events.

RELIEVING FATIGUE
Quick recovery from fatigue is important to any athlete, particularly the track and field man. Here is a simple way to bring back some life to legs that feel dead and lousy.

Between events, if you are a track man, or between innings in baseball or sets in tennis, lie flat on your back with your legs propped as high in the air as you can get them. This helps clear the venal blood from the legs, and with it the fatigue acids that have accumulated.

Another excellent trick to help you throw off fatigue is cold towels, preferably wrapped around ice, applied to the chest area over the heart. Twenty minutes of ice-packing treatment can do wonders in assisting heart-recovery. It is used by many College and professional football teams in the United States.

Improve your athletic ability by joining Sports College. Membership is free and can be obtained by writing to "Sports College, Box 99, Toronto 1, Ontario." Simply state that you wish to join, and mention this newspaper. Services include clinics, special literature, and a radio program carried coast-to-coast every Saturday afternoon. Look up the time and station in your area, and hear famous athletes and coaches give tips on how to play.

York Centre Ladies
In the semi-finals Elgin Mills qualified to go on to the finals by defeating Aurora three straight games.

Peaches and Stouffville have each won two and Wednesday at Stouffville should decide which of these teams will have the honor of going against Elgin Mills for the league title.

Final series, 3 out of 5 games will get under way at Richmond Hill Park on Friday, August 24, with the third game back at the park on Wednesday, August 29. If any further games are needed to decide the winner of the trophy, watch this column next week for dates of game.

Markham Township League Buttonville Takes Opener
Before a good crowd at Unionville last Tuesday, Buttonville took the first game of the best of seven playoff games for the championship from Markham by a close score of 4-2.

Markham started off well scoring their two runs in the first inning but the steady pitching of Jack Rumney for Buttonville held them scoreless from there on, although Morley Petch did hit one of his six innings offerings out of the park. The score at this stage was 3-2 in Buttonville's favour but Morley missed second base on his trip round the sacks and so the run didn't count.

Buttonville took advantage of this break and scored their 4th and deciding run in their half of the sixth. "Peggy" O'Neil pitched good ball for Markham.

Buttonville take their one game lead into the next game Thursday at Markham with the third game Saturday at Unionville and the fourth next Tuesday at Markham.

Richmond Hill In 2nd Place
Winning five matches to Aurora's three at a tournament at Aurora last week, Richmond Hill still holds second place in the North York Tennis League. Newmarket is ahead with three wins and no losses, Richmond Hill has two wins, one loss, with Aurora losing all matches. The August 22 games held at Newmarket will be the deciding factor as to whether the local team will move up to first place.

Results of last week's tournament against Aurora are as follows:
Ladies' Doubles: Betty Boulding and Mary Adams, Aurora vs. Win Maudsley and Alverna Smith Richmond Hill, 6-1, 6-2 for Richmond Hill.

Men's Doubles: Frank Wims and Keith Nisbet vs. Harry Hill and Lloyd Grainger, won by Aurora.
Doug Wilson and Gord. Grant vs. Terry McCauley and Keith Teetzel 2-6, 6-5, 6-5 for Richmond Hill.

Playing in the Ontario Junior tournament held at the Hudson Club, Toronto, this week, Terry McCauley and Eleanor Smith both reached the second round but were ousted there, Terry losing in a two set 2-6, 3-6 match to a Toronto boy, and Eleanor losing to an Ottawa girl 1-6, 5-7.

Transport Crashes Truck To Avoid More Serious Accident

(By our Oak Ridges Correspondent, Mrs. L. Stephenson)
Travelling south on Yonge St. at noon on Saturday a McKinley Transport loaded with rock salt crashed in to the back of a dump truck owned by McIntyre's garage, Oak Ridges, which stopped in front of him.

Eric Laver of Cooksville, driver of the transport had to make a quick decision, turn out and hit several women, one with a baby carriage, or crash into the back of the dump truck. He chose the dump truck, knowing he was heavily loaded.

The hood and cab of his truck were sliced off and he was thrown to the road. Carried into the Ridge Inn he was treated by Dr. Rutherford and sent to Newmarket hospital. He sustained injuries to his elbow and knee cap. Several ribs were broken and his face was cut. A married man with two children, his home is in Cooksville.

In 1947 the Department of Highways was petitioned to make this highway through Oak Ridges a 30 mile zone. We were told that until Yonge Street was 50% built up nothing could be done. The number of accidents continues to increase caused by through traffic travelling at 50 miles per hour.

Wrestling Team Is Undefeated

"Action galore" was the byword last Friday at the local Arena as the Langstaff Recreation Committee staged another of their regular Friday wrestling shows.

Bill Clubine and "Farmer" Norm Alexander, local grappling stars, failed in their attempt to defeat the team of "Mangler" Ed Mangotich and The Black Knight, so far undefeated in the Richmond Hill arena. The local duo won the first fall but lost the remaining two falls.

"Bull" Penchoff, Scarboro steam roller, threw popular Cleve Burton of Langstaff in the Semi-Final after 28 minutes of rugged going. Cleve, although outweighed by 15 lbs., gave a good account of himself and if there was a prize for the game loser, he would be sure to cop it.

John "Hot Rod" Parisi and Red Doraty struggled through 30 minutes to a draw in the opener with one and then the other having the advantage.

Clubine To Wrestle Tim Rush East York

"Mangler" Ed Mangotich, No. 1 Public Enemy to Richmond Hill wrestling fans has drawn the main bout assignment on next Friday's show at the local arena and will tangle with Farmer Norm Alexander, the "headlock king". There is no love lost between these two as evidenced by last Friday's team match and this bout should provide the ultimate in action plus.

Paul Penchoff, "Scarboro Steam Roller", will meet Strong Bob Jordan, Richvale Strong Boy in the Semi-Final. Both boys are strong and aggressive and when they collide next Friday, somebody is bound to get hurt. Most fans are of the opinion that Jordan will take the Bull to town Friday, but we'd hate to bet on this one.

In the special bout, Bill Clubine, Richmond Hill star, will grapple a one fall or 30 minute go with Tiny Tim Rush of East York. In the opener, Red Doraty of Richmond Hill and Cleve Burton of Langstaff will also wrestle a one fall or 30 minute time limit bout.

Pine Orchard Home Destroyed By Fire
The residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hayman at Pine Orchard was completely levelled last Tuesday by a fire that originated in their kitchen. The blaze starting from a faulty electric switch quickly spread throughout the whole house and finally burnt it to the ground. The Aurora Fire Brigade was called to the scene and quickly began to fight the blaze. Mrs. Hayman, an elderly lady of 70 years of age, was alone in the house at the time with two young boys who were staying with her. Mr. Hayman was not present at the time as he was at work in Toronto.
