"Literally Speaking" About Books

As a special feature for readers of The Liberal, we are with this week's edition beginning a column entitled "Literally Speaking."

The Precipice

With a theme familiar to small-town inhabitants and big-city dwellers, the Precipice, whose Canadian author is also responsible for two previous award winning novels Barometer Rising and Two Solitudes, contrasts these vastly different existences.

This is the story of Lucy Cameron who lived with her two sisters in a small Ontario town still under the shadow of a Calvinist father seven years dead.

Like her fellow-citizens, Lucy might have lived and died in these unglamorous surroundings had not Stephen Lassiter come from New York, to manage the only big plant in the town.

It was a shattering life for Lucy but she was able to uphold herself in her new environment with the dignity and poise her first surroundings had instilled within her.

"THE KON-TIKI EXPEDITION"

For a modern day adventure this story has everything, especially as it is true, taking place in 1947.

The author, Thor Heyerdahl and his five fellow Scandinavians set out from Peru in South America on a home-made raft of Balsa logs.

"Kon-Tiki" is a god, and represents the wind that steadily blew the raft of the original migrants from Peru to the islands, just as it did Thor Heyerdahl and his companions in 1947 to prove their theory.

"Diamonds To Amsterdam" Manning Coles I didn't think Manning Coles did quite so good a job with this one as he did with "The Fifth Man"

They did get themselves mixed up with home-made gold-making machines and tracking some diamonds from London to Amsterdam, and a gang of thugs, but no knives, guns or Gestapo.

Very well written and full of interest, Kon-Tiki is a must for adventure story fans.

The Turkey Supper Group Asks What Of Richmond Hills' Needs? - All Are To Give Their Views

The turkey supper held for the people of Richmond Hill and district every autumn by the Church of St. Mary immaculate promises this year to outclass all previous efforts.

It has been decided to hold the event at the Arena as usual, the date being October 3, and arrangements are about completed for an excellent supply of young turkey.

An unusual feature this year will be the introduction of a survey on municipal government suggested by the dean of the Richmond Hill council, Councillor West-Middleton.

"One of the most difficult things in life," Councillor Middleton said to a member of the supper committee, "is to see ourselves as others see us. I think it would be a fine thing if at some such event as yours a poll were taken showing us what our folks think about our community. Why not try it?"

Following the Councillor's proposal a number of questions were prepared. The best answers will entitle those making them to prizes at the turkey supper. The questions are:

Do you like living in Richmond Hill area? Give reasons for your answer.

What do you think is the greatest need of the village at the present time? Give reasons.

Would you like to see the village more highly industrialized and an effort made to have new businesses locate here?

Is the present public transportation system to and from the city satisfactory? Is there anything in this connection you would like council to do?

Is the time ripe in your opinion to make an effort to include more territory north, south, east or west, within the village? Go fully into detail.

Do you favor continuation of the contract to have the village policed by the provincial force or should we inaugurate a Richmond Hill force?

There are no strings attached. All residents are invited to enter the contest, sending their replies to the questions or any one of the questions addressed to "Turkey Supper," care of the Richmond Hill Liberal. Replies may be used for public discussion but the names of the contestants will not be disclosed and the prizes will be awarded on the evening of October 3 at the Arena.

Local Boy In Korea In Need Of Books

During the past week we of The Liberal office were very pleased to receive a letter from a Richmond Hill boy at present serving in Korea with the artillery. In his letter Gunner W. A. Woodcock stated that he and his family moved near Richmond Hill about three years ago and had grown to like the community very much.

Gunner Woodcock and his buddies are very anxious to receive old books from the citizens of Richmond Hill, for Korea today is a land very short of suitable reading material. If any one has any reading material they care to donate to Gnr. Woodcock's Battery just drop it into the Liberal office and we shall gladly see that it reaches Gunner Woodcock and his friends.

When interviewed by the Liberal Mrs. Woodcock who resides on Rutledge Avenue stated that her 28 year old husband had re-enlisted for service in Korea in July 1950. After completing his training in Canada he sailed for the Far East from Seattle in May, and subsequently went into the front lines on May 24. Mr. Woodcock is already a veteran of six years in World War II.

DEPT. OF HEALTH TOWNSHIP OF NORTH YORK Health Hints

Between-meal snacks of sweet foods can lead to definite malnutrition, because sweet foods tend to satisfy the appetite before enough protective foods have been eaten.

The human body is similar to a machine — its various parts are not wearproof. The only way to make the body continue to function well is to give it a rest once in a while.

For better health, include whole grain products in your daily diet. Cereals and breads made from whole grains are splendid energy producers.
