The Movies
 A synopsis of pictures to be shown locally in the near future, for the information of moviegoers.

An American legend which had been deteriorating at the hands of time and rumor, has finally been brought back into exciting focus in Paramount's "The Great Missouri Raid."
 Probably no epic in history has been so garbled and misunderstood as the story of Frank and Jesse James, and this film in color by Technicolor which will be shown at the Richmond Friday and Saturday, September 21 and 22, performs an important public service by presenting the first true account of the circumstances that led a band of peaceable farmers into a life of crime, and of the bloody events that followed.

To set matters aright, top historical novelist Frank Gruber performed extensive research before he committed the screenplay to paper. He travelled to the old James farm at Kearney, Missouri, and talked to descendants of the famed outlaw pair. Not satisfied, he dug up old correspondence and records, sifted rare newspaper clippings and examined the yellowed records of old time railroads.

After careful selection of the most dramatic episodes in this grim chapter in American history, the script was written. The result is a startling historical revelation, as well as spine-tingling proof that truth is more stirring than fiction. It marks the farewell appearance of a grand old lady of the rails. The iron woman chugging her swan song in this rugged drama of the old Middle West is Smoky Sue, a stubby but dignified locomotive who drew her first breath of steam in 1869.

"The Great Missouri Raid" produced by Nat Holt, has Wendell Corey, Macdonald Carey, Ward Bond and Ellen Drew heading a big stellar cast.

"Mad Wednesday"
 Acclaimed the funniest picture of Harold Lloyd's mirth-making career, RKO Radio's new "Mad Wednesday" will be showing at the Richmond on Monday and Tuesday, September 24 and 25.

It stars the famous comic as a mild-mannered book-keeper who gets fired, goes on a toot, winds up as the frantic owner of a poverty-stricken circus. With a pal and one of his hungry lions, Lloyd sets out to raise some money, and the results are side-splitting.

Frances Ramsden makes her debut as the heroine, and Jimmy Conlin, Raymond Walburn and Edgar Kennedy are featured. Preston Sturges wrote and directed the comedy.
 And on the same program the Richmond will have the "Petty Girl" in technicolor, starring Robert Cummings and Joan Caulfield.

Robt. Cummings gets mixed up with a "quick-change" act in the picture and in whirlwind style gets hustled into and out of 14 character makeups in hectic, hilarious fashion. And for the grand finale Cummings finds himself in the hoopskirts and curls of La Belle O'Hara.

"The Petty Girl" is the gay, romantic story of the famous Petty Girl. The film features Elsa Lanchester and Melville Cooper, and introduces Hollywood's loveliest, the 12 glamorous Petty Girls.
 Please note "The Petty Girl" showings for Monday and Tuesday will be at 8.35 p.m. only.

"Tea For Two"
 "Tea for Two," from the studio that produced some of the greatest musical films the screen has ever seen through the years, from "42nd Street" to "Look for the Silver Lining" opens at the Richmond Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, September 26 and 27.

Starring Doris Day and Gordon MacRae, the Warner Bros. Technicolor extravaganza has been spared nothing in the way of production values, and big numbers, gay tunes and beautiful chorus lines to fill the screen, according to the glowing advance reports. The film also introduces two outstanding Broadway musical stars, Patricia Wymore and Virginia Gibson, fresh from recent successes on the New York stage.

Most of the hit songs in the film are handled by MacRae, as a singing composer, and Miss Day, in the role of a career-bent heiress who loses her money in the stock market crash.
 Gene Nelson, who won acclaim for his nimble footwork in "Roxie O'Grady," is highlighted in an amazing staircase dance and unusual African rhythm number atop a huge drum, while comedians Billy De Wolfe and Eved Arden go through their respective routines to key the film's laughs.

"Tea for Two" is set in the nostalgic 1929 period, and concerns a band of vaudevillians whose efforts to produce a show are hampered by the Wall Street panic. It's the events leading up to their finding a backer that makes for the romance and music that predominate in the story.

Among the songs heard are Oh Me! Oh My!; Do, Do, Do; I Know That You Know; Crazy Rhythms; I Want To Be Happy; then, No, No, Nanette, and the title song number "Tea for Two."
 David Butler directed the film for Warner Bros.

Twin Daughters
 On August 9 twin daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flanagan, 4th con. King, at the Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton. It was not until September 9 that the babies, who were premature, were allowed to go home. There are four older children in the family of two boys and two girls. The eldest is 7 years and Linda who is the baby, is 2 years old. The little twins have been named Kathleen and Madelene, and everyone is pleased with the progress they are making.

Percy Adam, who has been employed at the CNR here, and who has lived at the McBride farm for the past two months, has returned to his home in Parry Sound.

Attack of Mumps
 Billy Wannamaker and Jimmie Nicols had been looking forward to going back to school. However, they are now enjoying an enforced vacation, for after only 3 days at school both boys got the mumps. Billy and Jimmie are wards of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dent.

Weaving
 On Wednesday afternoon the weavers' group of Kingcrafts met at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Denton. Mrs. Frank Pogue of Toronto was present to give instruction. She brought colored photographic slides of fine weaving made by herself and her pupils, and showed them on a small screen.
 Mrs. Pogue was the winner of 3 prizes for her weaving at the CNE. The group will meet again on October 3.

Interesting Visitors
 Interesting visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Parker, 5th con. King, on Sunday last were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson of York, England. Mr. Patterson came to Canada this summer from the museum at Halifax, Eng., where he was on the staff bringing a special exhibit to the CNE in the form of a weaver's cottage in the year 1750. This cottage was set up in the British Building and the furnishings are authentic. The old loom, though fragile, is still workable. When Mr. Patterson returns the exhibit to its home museum, he will join the staff of the Castle Museum, York, on October 1. Besides being interested in weaving and antiques, Mr. Patterson is a zoologist, and he and Mrs. Patterson were very interested in the insect life they found in this part of the world. They hope to return to visit Mr. and Mrs. Parker next year.

Mrs. Parker is a well known member of the Spinners and Weavers Guild of Canada, and she was present at the Exhibition representing the Guild when she met Mr. and Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. Parker has been spinning wool from the combings of Chow dogs. She has been invited to send a skein of this wool to the Spinners and Weavers as part of their endeavor to interest the government in what can be accomplished in fine, cottage handicrafts.

Enjoyable Ocean Trip
 It is just like travelling on a private yacht," said Miss Julia Jarvis, when asked about her trip to England and return, aboard a freighter. "You cannot get service on the Queen Mary at any price," to equal what we received with four stewards to six passengers on the outward trip, and only twelve passengers on the return. I had a single cabin both ways," she said. Miss Jarvis told of the ship, the Manchester Commerce, that she boarded in Montreal on July 11. After a 17-days trip which included 2 days at Three Rivers, Que, where grain was put on, and a trip up the Saguenay to lead aluminum, and the final day spent in the Manchester Canal from Liverpool to the home port. The return trip was shorter as the Manchester Port, was a new ship of the line, and there was no time lost in stopovers. Among 12 passengers were two friends of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Baker, King.

Miss Jarvis was met in Manchester by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Cavanagh and their four children who took her to their cottage in North Wales. The Cavanagh children were war guests of the Jarvis family at King, and it was a wonderful re-union. Miss Jarvis visited her sister, Miss Stephanie Jarvis at Hurst, near Reading, and they went on motor and bicycle trips, taking in the Pleasure Gardens at the Festival of Britain in London. "England is looking beautiful and the flowers in the hanging pots and the window boxes are glorious decoration," said Miss Jarvis. "I did not see a traffic jam all the time I was away. The traffic moves with incredible smoothness, and nobody toots a horn. You can scarcely believe that driving could be so pleasant," she said.

Miss Martha Scott, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Scott of Bar-mar, 5th con., King, left this week for Whithy, where she will attend the Ontario Ladies College.

Banker Transferred
 Ted Rose, who has been a member of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff since December, left for Ilderton, Ont., where he will be on the relieving staff for two weeks. He will then be relieving at the Theford branch for two weeks before being posted to a more permanent branch. Ted was an enthusiastic member of the King City Softball team this past summer.

Family Fun Night
 Two big bonfires invited passers-by to the Family Fun Night on Wednesday, when the Credit Union members were hosts to the countryside. A clear warm night and a round moon brought a big crowd to the field at the corner of the new highway and the Parker property midway between the Aurora Side Road and the King Side Road. It was a jolly time and all ages from small boys to grandfathers were enjoying the hot dogs and freshly boiled corn as fast as they could be cooked. A fiddler arrived and played old time tunes until 11 o'clock when everyone left for home after a really good time. Mr. R. G. Reilly was in charge of this evening of fun for the whole family and Mr. John C. Scott, president of the Credit Union was there to offer help. It was such a success that the community will be looking forward to such another good time next summer.

Wedding
 YOUNG-BROWN
 The marriage was solemnized at the United Church, King City, on the afternoon of September 8, by Rev. M. R. Jenkinson of June Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brown and John Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Young, Downsview. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of white lace over taffeta, with net overskirt making a train. Her finger tip veil fell from a little cap, trimmed with soft feathers at each side. She carried a white Bible, with small clusters of white roses and white satin ribbons. The maid of honor was Carol Brown, who wore a yellow taffeta gown with net overskirt, and carried a bouquet of rose coloured glads and blue mums. The bridesmaids were the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Lester Brown and her cousin Audrey Collins who were dressed alike in blue taffeta with net, and similar bouquets of yellow glads and blue mums. The bridesmaids' dresses were ballerina length and their little hats were heart shaped, sitting well back on their heads. The ushers were Fred Brown and Gordon Young.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Brown, Langstaff, where the bridal party received over 60 guests. Mrs. Brown, mother of the bride, wore navy blue sheer and Mrs. Young, mother of the groom was in wine shade. Later the young couple left on a motor trip, the bride wearing a rust colored suit, with rust shoes, and Robbin Hood green hat and purse. Mr. and Mrs. Young will live in Downsview on their return.

Guest Preacher
 Mr. Gordon Tetley preached on Sunday morning at the United Church, King City, in the absence of the minister, Rev. M. R. Jenkinson, who was preaching at the Thanksgiving service at the United Church, Cayuga, Ont. Next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, Mr. Jenkinson will be at his home church, but in the evening he will be in charge of the Thanksgiving service at Snowball. The choir from Teston church will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rule have come to live in King. Mrs. Rule is the new teller in the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Miss Gerry McDonald has returned home after three and a half months spent at St. Andrew's, N. B., where she was on the staff of the Algonquin Hotel during her vacation from Varsity. Miss McDonald visited at Bangor, Maine, last week.

Showers
 Before her marriage on September 8 Mrs. John Young of Downsview, the former June Brown of King City, was the guest of honor at four showers. Miss Olive Young of Toronto, who is an aunt of the groom, entertained on behalf of the groom's family. When 20 guests were present. Mrs. W. Walker of Weston held a miscellaneous shower, when fellow employees of the bride did her honor. Mrs. Young was employed in the offices of the Canadian Acme Screw and Gear Co., Weston, and the staff presented her with a trillite lamp as a wedding gift. In King there was a community shower held in the United Church rooms, when Mrs. Fred Dent and Mrs. Arthur Brown were the hostesses. On August 31 Mrs. L. Brown and Mrs. Arthur Richardson held another party and shower at the home of Mrs. Richardson.

Seven Cars In Trip
 On Sunday morning seven cars set out from Teston to accompany Rev. M. R. Jenkinson who was preaching at the Thanksgiving services of the United Church at Cayuga, Ont. Twenty-three members of the choir of Teston United Church also took part, and altogether there were 33 members of the Teston congregation at the service. Refreshments were served to the congregation and their visitors after the morning Thanksgiving service and later the people from Teston were taken on a tour of the village and its museum. Before they returned home, Mr. and Mrs. Cambden, father and mother of Mrs. Keith Cambden of King, served supper to Rev. and Mrs. Jenkinson and the choir.

Silver Wedding Celebration
 Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green were delightfully entertained by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. Kemp, at their home in Niagara Falls, Ont. The occasion was the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Green. The bride of 25 years ago received her guests smartly attired in a dove grey crepe dress, complimented by a corsage of carnations. She was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Kemp.

A wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom formed the centerpiece for the table. Mrs. L. Veres and Miss Dorothea Hudson assisted the hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Green formerly resided on 5th Ave., Niagara Falls. Before going into the grocery business in King, Mr. Green was a custom's officer at Niagara Falls.
