The Salvation Army Needs Your Support

The Salvation Army has a saying that the word "hopeless" isn't in God's dictionary. It also believes that God generally works through human instrumentality. Such a belief often involves Salvation Army Officers in works of mercy that test compassion to the limit and faith, to the utmost.

The success, however, that the Salvation Army has had in dealing with the distressed and the despairing, the defeated and the dissolute, has commended its activities to Canadians everywhere. The local Red Shield Campaign Committee highly endorses the international program of The Salvation Army.

Almost every Salvation Army Officer can provide dramatic stories of blasted lives, impoverished families, stories of crime and tragedy, of mistakes and failures. Most of the stories, fortunately, have a happy ending. In Canada more than one hundred Salvation Army social service institutions, plus a multitude of various services, help in assuring that "happy ending" to many a sad and sorry tale.

Residents of Richmond Hill and district have an opportunity in the current Red Shield Appeal to help The Salvation Army maintain its good works. Campaign slogan this year is "Hope for the hopeless." By contributing generously to the Appeal, we more fortunate Canadians can be almoners of hope and dispensers of courage to our less fortunate fellows.

Contributions may be left at the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Richmond Hill or mailed to the Treasurer of The Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal, Richmond Hill.

Our Homelike Village

An interesting inquiry was recently conducted by a committee of the parishioners of the Church of St. Mary Immaculate in charge of a turkey supper and bazaar to be held next Wednesday in the arena. One of the points raised in the committee's questionnaire had to do with the reasons residents have for making their homes in this village or district. The reasons advanced lacked any great variety, the principal one being that the power of the community to attract folks centres in its home-like characteristics. Visitors also have often noted that the art of being a good neighbor Richmond Hill people undoubtedly excel those of many other communities. Self congratulations are, of course, seldom if ever in order, but perhaps the accuracy of this unanimous judgment entitles us to think fairly well of ourselves.

The aforementioned turkey supper in a sense offers us an opportunity to evidence this spirit of good neighborliness. Nowhere in the entire province perhaps will a better meal be served at an extremely attractive price than the one at the arena next Wednesday evening, the price being made possible by the free and loving labor of many hands.

Childrens Camp Has Interesting History

Camp Ahshunyoong was organized in 1931 for the purpose of providing camp privileges for the boys and girls of North York. The first camp site was situated on Georgina Island, the home of the ancient Ojibway Indians. After moving to several rented sites, the committee finally purchased a permanent site on McCrae Beach, Duclous Point.

This summer twenty-one years of service was completed to the boys and girls of York County. This camp belongs to North York and is operated by a Board of Trustees. The chairman of the North York Boys and Girls Work Board is Mr. Elgin Evans of Newmarket. Rev. Douglas Davis has been the business manager for the past twenty years.

The camp site consists of five acres of land with a 200 foot frontage on Lake Simcoe. Cabins that will accommodate eight campers each will take care of 80 campers. There is adequate accommodation for a staff of twenty leaders with special nurses' cabin, directors, cooks and camp supervisor.

There is also a large dining room which easily takes care of 100 people, and an up-to-date kitchen attached. There is a large recreation hall and a leaders' cabin with sleeping accommodation for 12 adults. There is also a library, reading room with a nice stone fireplace.

The camp operates practically from May 24 to the middle of September. During July and August it is in constant use by teen-age boys and girls. Then day camps are conducted at a nominal charge of $12 for the period. In the Spring and early Fall the camp site is used for long week-ends by church Young Peoples Groups and C.G.I.T. The Junior Farmers have for three years had one week around the Labour Day week-end. Occasionally a Sunday School picnic comes here such as Newmarket this summer. Approximately 700 teen-age boys and girls have enjoyed these camp facilities this summer.

The camp is operated on a non-profit basis and is only maintained by considerable voluntary labour and cash donations from interested individuals and organizations. The maintenance of such a camp involves considerable financial help just to keep the buildings in shape and for general expenses. Extra support is still needed for special projects long overdue and which would contribute gaily to an improved program for boys and girls.

Further information is available from Mr. Elgin Evans of Newmarket, R. R. 1 or Rev. Douglas Davis of Stouffville.

Mark-Vaun W.I. When Mark-Vaun W.I. meets next Thursday, October 4, at the home of Mrs. J. Butcher, Cedar Ave., Mrs. L. Campbell, convenor of Community Activities and Public Relations will be in charge of the programme. Members will answer the roll call with a verse from an old school book. Hostesses with Mrs. Butcher will be Mrs. W. J. Armstrong, Mrs. D. Robeson and Mrs. E. Mills.
 Many happy years are wished the former Betty Chenery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Chenery, Garden Avenue, and Mr. Stewart Pattison of Doncaster, whose marriage took place on Saturday. The happy couple are motoring through the States on their honeymoon and on their return will reside at Lang-staff.
 Mrs. Wes. Blackburn of Essex Avenue exhibited some of her Angora rabbits at Cooksville Fair on September 15 winning three firsts.

School News The following are the names of the beginners at Langstaff this term: Karen Allen, Roy Bentley, Gerald Charles, Gloria Jean Fray, Donna Heathcote, Bill Lockhart, Yvonne Mountjoy, Douglas Offen, Gwen Page, Douglas Reid, Billie Roy, Joe Judge, Lynda Walker, Teddy Weavers, Carol Wood, John Perry, Jimmie Beatty, R. J. Brash, Laurence Drew, Elizabeth Ham-blyn, Nancy Knowles, Vivian McKay, April Oddy, Kulla-Reet Ounapu, Trudy Peck, Brian Rowe, Paul Swindle, Marlene Wake, David Watt, Diana Wilson, Richard Woodcock.
 Raters Association West Langstaff Ratepayers Association was to have held its nominations of officers for the forthcoming season at the regular meeting scheduled for last Monday evening. Although all members had been advised by individual notice, there were only 18 present and not sufficient members to form a quorum. The school is available to the association one evening a month and so the executive decided that the nominations would be combined with the elections which the constitution calls for at the regular October meeting.
 Those present Monday evening took part in an informal discussion of points of policy, the purpose of the organization and problems and suggested improvements. It appeared that a number of people were under the impression that the Langstaff Recreation Committee was a sub-committee of the West Langstaff Ratepayers Association because some of the members serve on both. The association has an entertainment committee of its own whereas the Langstaff Recreation Committee is answerable to the Vaughan Township Recreation Commission. When Mr. Fred Morris was asked by the Commission to arrange for a committee to be formed if Langstaff wished to avail itself of the grants and facilities available for recreation, representatives of the Langstaff Ratepayers Association and of the West Langstaff Association were invited to join to make it a truly Langstaff affair, not split by an imaginary line at Yonge Street. To avoid Decides On Policy A meeting was held of the board of the Thornhill Library Association last week to decide on the policy for the coming season. The treasurer reported sufficient funds to enable the library to continue under the present system. The possibility of the Library Association being changed to a Public Library that would be maintained by the taxpayers was considered. The library is interested in collecting early records of the district and would like to start a section devoted to Canadiana. A copy of "A King's Story" by the Duke of Windsor has been presented to the library by Mrs. Geo. Dean, in memory of her daughter Mary. We are most grateful for this donation and wish to thank Mrs. Dean.

 During the preceding season, no fewer than 19 public bodies working in the municipal interest have used the room for their meetings, and this service will continue.
 Since the library moved to its new location, the circulation has increased enormously and it is difficult to buy enough books to satisfy the demand. If any readers have books of current interest they can spare, they would be welcome. As our shelf space is limited, however, we would like to reserve the right to return or pass on any books that the Librarian feels would not circulate at this time.

On Main St. Maple The residents of Maple are noticing a difference in their main street as changes are taking place in several cases.
 A two storey addition 12' by 24' is being added to the Masonic Hall, this new space will house a kitchen, washrooms and afford additional hall space.
 Mr. Donald Allan who was formerly with W. J. Johnson and who at present, operates a butcher shop in E. Walker and Sons store is now completing his own butcher shop on the west side of Main Street.
 Also the building known as the Maple Villa has just recently been leased to The Bell Telephone Co. and the Post Office.
