

Richmond Hill . . .

The Liberal is always glad to receive social and personal items for this page and a call to Telephone No. 9 will receive courteous attention. This newspaper will also welcome news reports about church organizations, women's and men's societies, lodges and other groups. While copy will be accepted up to Wednesday of each week, it is desirable to have it in earlier if possible to ensure its publication.

Large crowds enjoy the weekly matinee at the popular Richmond Theatre every Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

The lucky ticket which Miss Primrose Craigie held, winning her the Dodge car, was sold by Bill White of Richmond Hill.

Mrs. A. Hannaburg of Kitchener spent the week-end with her brother, Norm. Evans and Mrs. Evans and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mansbridge returned today after spending the past week in Long Island, New York with their daughter and son-in-law, Betty and Bernard Boesel.

J. E. Smith, M.P. and Mrs. Smith will be guests at the state dinner Saturday evening at eight thirty given by the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario and Mrs. Ray Lawson in honor of Their Royal Highnesses the Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

The Business and Professional Women's Club will hold its first meeting of the season at Summit View Drive-In Tuesday, October 16 at 8:30 p.m., and will take the form of "Canada" night. This conforms with the club's plan to name each regular meeting after a country represented by a B & P Women's Club. At this Tuesday's meeting each member present will give an account of her holidays.

In a challenging address Miss Mary Jane Scott, columnist of the Globe and Mail, urged her listeners to win friends and influence people for God, at an open meeting of the Presbyterian Evening Auxiliary held last week. Basing her talk on the 12th chapter of Daniel, Miss Scott stated that there was a wonderful job for Christians to do in humility and service, emulating Christ in the washing of his disciples' feet. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Russell Tilt and thanked by Miss Mabel Mackie. Mrs. Jean Osborne sang a much appreciated solo and Mrs. H. H. Mackay read the scripture lesson.

On Tuesday, October 2, members of the executive of the Ladies Auxiliary for Scouts and Cubs, met at the home of Mrs. D. M. Fettes, to discuss this month's meeting, and also to continue plans for the masquerade on October 26. Eight ladies were present and after all business was concluded enjoyed a social half hour and lovely lunch.

The ladies of the Auxiliary for Scouts and Cubs are reminded that tonight, Thursday, October 11, the regular monthly meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Public School auditorium. Mrs. S. Styan will be guest speaker, and it is hoped all members will be present.

Mrs. Glenn Thompson, Stouffville President of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, was guest speaker at the Thanksgiving meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church held at the home of Mrs. L. W. Zuefelt, Thursday afternoon, October 4. Mrs. Thompson, who has just returned from the Council Executive annual meeting held this year in Regina, told of the highlights of these meetings. She said that 60 cents of every dollar contributed to the W.M.S. budget went for work in Canada and further broke down the 60 cents showing how many cents went to each phase of the work. The report on the "Advancement" projects was very gratifying. All of the proposed advances but one have been completed.

OUR AGE OF UNREASON
By Franz Alexander
Doubting Thomas Hobbes, 17th-century sage, held human nature in low regard.

"Covenants without the sword," he said, "are but words, and of no strength to secure a man at all." Again, justice, equality, modesty, mercy "are contrary to our natural passions," he concluded, "without the terror of some power to cause them to be observed."

Modern psychologists and social scientists are not so pessimistic, and even the protagonists of systems contending that man is, and remains, essentially aggressive and amoral and that life is a rat-race, concede that the "terror of some power" need not be fear of an external authority but the individual's super ego or conscience — in Alexander's jargon, "the internal representative of environmental educational principles."

Luckily for his book, a revised edition of the one by the same title he wrote in 1942, the jargon or professional double-talk is restrained.

For Dr. Alexander, clinical professor of psychiatry at the University of Illinois, College of Medicine, Hungarian-born physician-soldier and researcher in psychosomatic medicine, has attempted a formidable task, and has drawn well-reasoned conclusions, and has presented them convincingly.

His job has been to follow man, the animal, to man, the unwilling social animal, then to trace social traits as shown in the small patterns of the family and the group up through to the size of nations. Here he examines whether man can, for his own sake, live in relative peace on the international scale.

He is not related with his findings. Through the book, the idea is advanced that education alone can solve the problems of humankind.

That's a long, slow business, and the peace-loving peoples of the world must use every makeshift to survive until the time when peace becomes something more than a truce, something stronger than the mere staying of the suicidal hand bent on man's destruction.

THE PAPER PALACE
By Robert Harling
The "Baron" in this novel of Fleet Street is one of the typical fictional publishers, suave, knowledgeable, a connoisseur of food, drink and women, cold, ruthless and a pander of sex and murder in his tabloid columns.

A hiring, a columnist who produces three or four paragraphs a day for consumption by the masses, is directed by his editor to try to discover the reason why the Baron chooses to write himself an anonymous obituary of a leading Communist.

The trail leads to Ireland, the Troubles, the Black and Tans and eventually, to the blackmail that won the Baron his start in the tough London daily newspaper field. The "chase" is suspenseful, as fast-paced and as inexorable as that of a first-rate murder thriller.

The climax, happily, has not been rigged, and leads to the banishment of the columnist to New York where he will be out of the Baron's way.

A realistic touch is given in the scene showing the editor, holding the whip-hand, laying bare to the Baron, the Baron's criminal past. Somehow, this editor, cynic though he is, has radiated an appeal, a beat-up idealism throughout the story. He has been aware of the Baron's viciousness, recognized the pap-feeding of the public, jeered at the slanting of the news. He is no Galahad, admittedly, but he is Right triumphing over Evil. So what does he do?

So in the showdown he has himself appointed Managing Director and Editor-in-Chief of the Baron's whole newspaper empire, that's what.

It's a rattling good story by the author of Amateur Sailor and The Steep Atlantic Climb.

Youngberg & Murchison Break Own Records In N.Y. Track Meet

Bud Youngberg, a junior entrant of Richmond Hill District High School in the annual North York Field Meet held at Aurora on October 3, broke the pole vaulting record he had set the year before. He raised his record 10 inches to make it 9' 6 1/2". Bruce Murchison, a senior entrant from Richmond Hill, also broke the 880 yard run record that he had set in 1949. This record was cut by 4 seconds to 2 minutes, 13 seconds.

Since Aurora and Richmond Hill were the only schools participating, each school was allowed three entries in each event. The two schools raced neck and neck in points throughout the day with the final results Aurora 243, Richmond Hill 208. Other records broken were by Geddes of Aurora, Intermediate Boys' Running Broad Jump, 18' 8"; Jerry Campbell of Aurora knocked one second off the Intermediate Girls' 60 yd. dash; Margaret Barber of Richmond Hill in the Junior Girls' Standing Broad Jump, 7' 9".

Honor Bride-to-be
Miss Betty Smith, daughter of J. E. Smith M.P. and Mrs. Smith, Lorne Ave., Richmond Hill, has been much feted prior to her marriage at the Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church on October 13.

Before leaving Ottawa where she served as a secretary to the Honorable L. B. Pearson, Canada's Minister of External Affairs, a presentation and tea was given in her honor. Other out-of-town entertainments included a luncheon-shower given by Mrs. Peter Burt, North York Township, and a miscellaneous shower by Mrs. John Smale of Lindsay. Miss Helen Stephenson of Toronto was hostess at a linen shower.

Friends in Richmond Hill who entertained in her honor were Mr. and Mrs. Ned Hill, Vaughan Road, at dinner, and Miss Shirley Paris, Church St., who opened her home for a miscellaneous shower.

Mrs. J. E. Smith and Miss Betty Smith were "at home" for a delightful tea last Friday afternoon.
