Open House

Miss Eva Dennis, principal, and the teachers of King School, S. S. No. 2, Miss Doris Patton and Miss Ethel Thomas, held open house at the school on Friday night. It was a very successful evening, and the seventy or more people who were present were impressed with the fine improvements to their school. The rooms are so clean and bright, and in such pleasant colors, that the ratepayers are to be congratulated for sponsoring this fine new addition to King. The trustees, Dr. John Barrie, Mr. James Keens and Mr. A. W. Peck spoke briefly, also Mr. Charles Howitt and Mr. H. B. Galpin. Mr. Elton Armstrong congratulated the village on their beautiful school, but lamented the condition of the road nearby. He assured that if a delegation was formed to approach the council they could expect improvement to the road.

The rooms were decorated with chrysanthemums and a beautiful basket of these flowers, a gift from the Aurora Building Co. was placed in the spacious hall.

The Women's Institute of King provided the refreshments that were served later. The tea table was covered with a lace cloth, and decorated with yellow mums. Mrs. James Keens, Mrs. John Barrie, Mrs. A. W. Peck and Mrs. Ray Burt poured tea and coffee. Their assistants were the girls of forms 7 and 8, who looked very smart in their blue tunics and white blouses.

King Brownie Pack

An invitation is extended to all those interested to join the local association of the King Brownie Pack. The yearly fee is $1.00 which is used for the benefit of the pack. The next meeting will be held at the Anglican Rectory on Thursday, January 10, 1952, at 8 o'clock. Because the pack is newly formed and supplies are needed for the girls, donations would be very much appreciated. Kindly forward them to Brown Owl, Mrs. Marion Lang, R. R. No. 1, King.

Donald M. Findlay was on a business trip recently to Regina and Moose Jaw.

Winners

Art Riggs of Rigwood Farm, Richvale, and King City Cold Storage, was a winner at the Royal Winter Fair. He showed his Buff Orpington and New Hampshire cockerels and won a third prize for each bird. Mr. Riggs has won many awards for his fine poultry this year at local fairs.

King City Elections

An election will be held in King City Masonic Hall on December 3, from noon until 8 p.m., to elect three trustees for the Police Village. It is so long since an election was held for the purpose of electing trustees, that none of the older citizens can remember if there had ever been one. Crawford Wells says he has no recollection of such, and James Patton says it must have been before his time, if ever.

Declarations have been received from five candidates, Wm. E. Carson, Crawford Wells, Donald M. Findlay, James Armstrong and Wm. Barker.

Mr. W. E. Carson is known as the "Mayor" to his associates. He has been a councillor since moving to the village from his farm on the 4th con., seven years ago. Mr. Wells has been in the council frequently since 1917, when he was not yet on the voters' list. At that time he helped to get the Hydro put through to King. With Mr. Ross Walker, who is ill, these two have been trustees for the past few years.

Donald M. Findlay is a newcomer to King, having lived in the village 3½ years. He is a corporation lawyer with the Maclean-Hunter Publishing Co. of Toronto. He is president of the Canadian Legion in King. During the war he served for five years. In 1944 he was wounded in France while serving with the Imperial Army as one of the 30 officers loaned from the Canadian forces. In November of 1944 he returned to Canada in a cast, and spent a year in Chorley Park Military Hospital. In his nomination address he stated that he knew that every cent spent affects the mill rate, but there were improvements to the village that could be done without raising taxes. Improvements such as a clean-up, paint-up campaign, the enforcement of the curfew, cheaper fire protection rates, and so forth.

James Armstrong, whose home, "King Villa" is in the extreme south end of the village, had a well defined program. He sponsors proper lighting on the streets, speed signs to the approaches of the village, better garbage collection, improved sidewalks, a stronger voice in township council, tax commensurate with improvements, abolition of trailers from the village. Mr. Armstrong has lived in the village for 1½ years, coming from Toronto, where he is employed as sales manager with Chocolate Products Co.

William Barker, who 50 years ago came to King from England, and who has lived within 2½ miles of the village in all these years, was for 7 years on the Township Council. He promises to manage the affairs of the village faithfully while in office. He sees no harm in trailers, as housing accommodation must be provided for men while working in the vicinity.

Thankoffering Meeting

On Wednesday the Thankoffering meeting of Eversley Church was held at the home of Mrs. T. L. Williams, and 45 people came from St. Paul's Church, 9th con., St. Andrew's at Strange and locally, to this very pleasant afternoon. The hostesses included, besides Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Art Brown, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. James Ball.

The main speaker was Mrs. Douglas of the Toronto Presbyterian. She gave a thoughtful Thanksgiving address, taking as her text "Enter into His Gates with praise, and into His courts with thanksgiving." Mrs. Adamson who also came from Toronto, was a delegate to the Presbyterian Assembly held at the Old Kildonan Church, Winnipeg, last year. She told interesting stories of the early pioneer missionary work in the West, and of the founding of Kildonan church. This church has beautiful stained glass windows dedicated to these old pioneers. Everyone speaks highly of this pleasant afternoon.

Bill Brown, Archie, Carl and George Cadden, were hunting on the south shore of Manitoulin Island last week. They returned to King with four deer.

Mrs. Charles Johnston, Sylvancrest, spent this week in Mount Royal, P.Q., visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cheesbrough in their new home.

Last Tuesday, November 20, when Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dainard celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary, they were the dinner guests of Miss Annie McBride. Miss McBride served a delicious chicken dinner in honor of the anniversary. The Dainards are living in the trailer at the south end of the village while Mr. Dainard is employed on the road work.

Teencrafts

On Saturday afternoon a number of teen-aged girls were invited by Lady Flavell to her home, "Kingswood." The purpose of the meeting was to foster an interest in handicrafts, and as the girls were so enthusiastic they decided to become an organization under the name of Teencrafters. An election of officers was held and Lady Flavell was named Honorary president. Suzanne Grew was elected first president. Gladys Johnston is secretary and Mary Jane Walker is treasurer. The work convenors are Anne Specht and Norma Wells, and a senior advisory board consisting of Mrs. J. L. Grew, Mrs. Ivan Specht and Mrs. Charles Johnston, was named. The meetings will be held every second Saturday at the home of Mrs. I. Specht. Mr. Douglas Boyd of Richmond Hill, who is famous for his fine metalcraft, has promised to be the first to instruct the girls in this craft, and he will be at their next meeting. Those present were Suzanne Grew, Anne Specht, Mary Jane Walker, Dolly McFarlane, Norma Wells, Barbara Specht, Ruth and Ellen Wilson and Gladys Johnston.
