S. S. No. 6 Vaughan Township The annual school meeting of S. S. No. 6 Vaughan was held on Wednesday evening, December 26, in the school with a very good attendance. The election of trustees for the year of 1952 took place with George Sanderson, the retiring trustee being re-elected for another three years. Dr. Phil McFarlane and Alex Forrest are the other trustees finishing their term with William Noble as secretary and treasurer.

During the past year a new lighting system was installed in both rooms which has proved a great improvement over the old type. A lively discussion took place on enlarging the school or building a new one, as by another year it is felt there will not be adequate room. It was left over for the ratepayers to decide.

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of Vaughan S. S. No. 3, Carrville School was held Wednesday, December 26, 8 p.m. Mr. Reg. Macey was chairman for the meeting and Mr. Cliff Nunn acted as secretary. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mr. Brian Bailey, the secretary of the school board and were approved. The financial, health and inspector's reports were read by Mr. Bailey and approved by the meeting.

The trustees report was given by Mr. J. Barton and Mr. Bailey and the trustees had three recommendations to be approved by the meeting.

1. That the people wholeheartedly support the erection of a portable building.

2. Insulate the attic of the present building.

3. Buy a projector for the school. The secretary's salary will be $85 for the year.

This year saw Mr. Stanley Wood's term as trustee completed and he stated that he did not wish to stand again. Mr. Reg. Macey was elected trustee for three years. There were only 18 ratepayers present at the meeting but it was a very interesting and informative meeting.

Mrs. Wm. Ferguson is coming to replace the senior teacher, Mr. A. Sohm who is ill. We welcome Mrs. Ferguson to our school again but are very sorry that Mr. Sohm is not as well as his many Carrville friends would like to hear. He is to be out for two months at least.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Oliver and daughter Helen of Richmond Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wilson of Toronto spent New Year's Day with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bartop.

BASKETBALL DIFFICULTIES

Small town athletes, particularly in Canada, always have had to surmount difficulties in their drives to become champions.

Frequently the reason has been lack of proper practice facilities but many of the world's greatest athletes overcame them with lots of ingenuity and fortitude. Take the case of Joe Fulks, now one of top professional basketball players in the United States.

Fulks came from a small mid-west town. He loved basketball but wasn't good enough to get on any teen-age team. To make matters worse he couldn't even afford to buy a ball to practice with. But he soon found an answer to the problem.

A nearby high school had an outdoor basketball court. The school coach's biggest problem was keeping the basket rigging repaired. Every morning when he got to school it was chewed to bits. One evening he remained at school and watched. It wasn't long before he saw Fulks practicing on the court with a make-shift ball — a house brick. To save his court and his nerves the coach gave the lad an old ball and let him practice at will.

Now there's no reason why you basketball players should practice with bricks — besides it wouldn't help you very much with dribbling. But it does point out the need for practice, even if your facilities demand ingenuity.

Now here are a few tips on proper basketball techniques:

Passing
If you are to become a standout basketball player you must develop your passing ability to a high level. As in shooting, the basketball passer must hold the ball lightly, with the fingers, not the hands. Relaxation plays an important part in passing, as it does in shooting, because if your fingers and wrists are stiff and tense you will not have complete control of the ball.

The chest or push pass probably is the most commonly used passing device in basketball. Practice it carefully because it is difficult to master.

To get into passing position set your feet comfortably apart, about eight inches, bend your knees and lean forward slightly; keep your elbows close to your sides and make sure they are relaxed; hold the ball at chest level — out six inches; place your hands on either side of the ball, your fingers spread and your thumbs behind the ball; then push the ball with quick accurate snaps of the wrists toward the receiver.

And remember, if your receiver is moving you must pass ahead of him so that he may take the pass without breaking stride.

An extremely useful pass for the short player or one who is checked closely is the bounce pass. Here is how it is done:

Hold the ball as you would for a push pass but make sure your body is crouched slightly and begin the pass from your waist. Aim your pass so that it reaches your receiver on its first bounce. It should bounce chest high.

More fundamentals: Generally speaking, aim your passes at your receiver's chest; lead the receiver if he is moving so he won't have to break stride and be sure to pass to the side of your teammate that is away from his guard; don't telegraph passes, learn to fake and feint with your eyes, body or even the ball. But most of all relax before you pass and get plenty of wrist and finger action into all your passes.

Keep fully informed of all Sports College activities by listening to Sports College on the air every Saturday afternoon. This coast to coast program is heard on the Trans-Canada network station in your area. The Head Coach and other staff members of Sports College will keep you informed on the latest developments in the world of sport from endurance to intricate hockey and basketball techniques.

EVERY DAY: Remember that the Coming Events column is a cheap and effective way of telling others of your dance or bazaar or other money-making event. It's an effective way, too, of making sure of good attendance by reminding members of date of meetings.
