Mr. Hunter, Nels, Peelar, Mrs. Arthur Rosendale, Nick and Bill Rand with Frank Hollingsworth, soloist, supplied the music. A pleasing bit of variety was added when Billie MacDonald of Concord, violinist and Buster Radley of Toronto, assisted, and called a few numbers unfamiliar to many but who, nevertheless enjoyed the new routines.

Mrs. Wright of East Toronto won the door prize and Mrs. Harold Dament and her partner, the spot dance prize.

During the evening, a triple birthday celebration took place in honor of Miss L. Bowes of Concord, Mrs. C. Boake and Miss Jean Ash of Edgeley. Eight birth day cakes were consumed by nearly 125 who stayed for late lunch.

H' Dament and family.

Edgeley Farm Forum assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Keffler on March 10 for the second study in the "International Relations" series under the heading "Customs Abroad."

The groups consider Great Britain their best long-time, over-all market. As Britain always has had to import food and raw materials and likely always will, it is good policy to cater to such a market. However, we must not forget that Uncle Sam is also a very good customer.

To develop and maintain markets in any country, we should know their needs and try to sell them high quality products. The members thought we should buy everything we possibly could from Great Britain to give her more dollars with which to buy from us.

Foot Note
Give yourself a pedicure? A "contrast" both will do wonders for weary feet. Immerse the feet for two minutes in hot water and then for two minutes in cold water. Repeat several times. Dry them thoroughly, allowing each toe to have its full share of the towel. To prevent ingrowing toenails, the nails should be cut straight across. Foot ease is the result of kindnesses like these.
