Wins Cooking Honours at C.N.E.

Mrs. William Windas, King City, won further honours for her fine cooking when she was one of 335 exhibitors who entered their most mouth watering morsels at the largest cooking contest ever held at the Canadian National Exhibition. Mrs. Windas won 1st prize for her lovely clear red currant jelly, as well as prize of $20 for her tea biscuits, earlier in the daily contests. Another well-known cook, Mrs. George Hately, won 1st prize for her cocoanut macaroons, at the final contest. Two years ago she won the same prize for macaroons. Mrs. Thomas Dibb, Maple, came first for her shortbread.
