Maple New Champs Vaughan And District Softball League

The Maple team became the Vaughan and District League champions on Sunday afternoon at Maple when they beat the Elia boys 4-0. After a stirring 3-1 game defeat, Maple tied the series Wednesday night at Elia. A good crowd attended the final game and both teams played excellent ball.

Maple led all the way with 2-0 at the end of the first inning and 4-0 by the end of the 4th on Taylor's home run with one on base. Elia had enough men on base to win half a dozen games, but it seemed that they just couldn't make it. Earl Law stopped Maple from getting more runs when he took over in the 4th inning by hurling superb ball.

The cup was presented at the end of the game. Harold Dament, the league president, made the presentation to Manager Herb Joslin, who in turn presented it to Captain Stan Foster.

A benefit game between the Maple Champs and the All Stars will be played at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at the Maple Playground in aid of Tom Mashinter who was injured this summer while playing on his team.

Mangotich & Team Lose To Diamond & His Friends

by Quintin Wight

Something must have brought that enraptured look to Gori Ed's classic features. Maybe it was those two nasty kneedrops of Diamond's wrestling at the Hill. However, back to the beginning —

Diamond, Jensen and Harry Szalet were the first to appear in the ring, followed by Al Orlando and Antonio Rocci, plus a leopard cape that seemed to be inhabited by someone strangely resembling Mangotich. The two referees, Johnny Logan and Bobby Jordan made up the official end of the retinue.

So began the first round. Harry Szalet had the misfortune to find himself alone in the ring, and he was thoroughly worked over for the first 5 minutes. However a little illegal aid from Diamond and Jensen brought him back to the land of the living which was unfortunate for all concerned. The spectators were also entertained by a spirited rendition of the 'Anvil Chorus' played by Al Orlando upon the skull of Diamond. He used Rocci's knee as the hammer and really gave it hot kicks for a while. He was sabotaged with a sneak attack from behind by Jensen though, and choked into a fall.

In the second round, the heroes flashed the mighty sword of wrath and tossed Diamond and Szalet out of the ring on their collective ears. Then Orlando's musical talent came to the fore again, as he and Rocci took turns at producing various chords and tones by ramming Diamond's petite head bone into the frame work of the ring. Then Orlando took over on Szalet, and played a solo, running up and down the scale with an adaptation of Suli Samara's Conk Bonk. Szalet evidently didn't feel so good, for he lay down for a rest (with help from Orlando) and was counted out by the referee.

Then came disaster, accompanied by two kneedrops from Diamond with Mangotich the recipient of these favours.

Diamond and crew left the ring in fine style, but were met by a welcoming committee of citizens, who appeared to want a blood donation. I don't know if it was the way they asked for it or not, but Diamond didn't seem to like the idea, and they headed for the dressing room. They didn't get very far through the timely intervention of several other wrestlers, ended what had looked like a real old fashioned necktie party. Les Lyman walked off with the prize of clothing, donated by Mel Paris of Richmond Hill, after finishing Baron Waldo Von Sieber off very tastily. He took the first fall with a combination head scissors and shoulder stand, and the last with neckbreaker kneedrops (legal style). Von Sieber took the second fall with body slams.

The first preliminary was won by Mario Pasha, when he fixed Don George with an aeroplane spin and body slams.

Pinecrest Speedway 'Wreck-Em' Races Are Thrilling To The Fans

For sheer mayhem, the "wreck-em" races at Pinecrest Speedway are in a class all by themselves. So successful have the bang-and-bash clashes been that this Friday, September 26, a full evening of the smashing and grinding of metal will be on the card. Regular racing will go as usual Saturday night.

Already, 35 wrecks have been entered in Friday's competition and several more are expected. The object is to crash and careen about the track until only one car is able to operate. Elimination

Unionville Junior B's Looking For Sponsor

It is reported that Unionville Junior B hockey team is anxiously waiting for a sponsor for the coming hockey season.

A meeting of the club was held this past week at the home of the secretary, Glen Kennedy. It is rumored that there might be a possible hook-up here with a Major League. A decision must be made soon however, since five of last year's clubs in the Big Six have already entered.

If the team enters the League Don Trurn, a member of last year's Jets, has been suggested for coach. Grant Nighswander has been mentioned as a likely manager.
