Chamber Of Comm. Hope Park Will Aid The Parking Problem

The Richmond Hill Chamber of Commerce met last Monday evening to take some action on the acute parking situation in the business section of the village. A report was given on the meeting between member Ross Cox and George Elliott, owner of some vacant property on Arnold St. Mr. Elliott was agreeable to renting the site for the sum of $200, a year providing taxes did not increase too much over the present rate. He also included a 30-day sale clause in his offer. Members of the Chamber of Commerce felt that if their organization or the village council improved the land for parking the 30 day sale clause would be a great risk, however, no further negotiations were possible until the council had been consulted. Parking space at the Richmond Theatre and the Sunoco station have been offered to the village to help in the parking problem and for additional parking space. Member Len Rice pointed out that these three areas would meet the present needs and all were within two blocks of the whole shopping area. He contended that it would be a mistake to rent sites when land was at their finger-tips. All the members were of the opinion that parking facilities should be better provided. Art Uren moved that a committee be set up to study the parking situation and then request council to pass a by-law restricting Yonge St. parking to one hour and also, in order to assist parking facilities in the park, ban parking on Lorne Ave. The motion was seconded by Mr. Uren and carried. The committee is made up of Stan McNiece, George Fenwick and Alec Clarke. Bob Smith, Stan Tinker and Bob Craigie are to make up the committee to draw up a series of by-laws to form a constitution. It was decided that president George Hill will be the official representative at the Chamber of Commerce conference in Toronto in October. The members resolved to meet on the fourth Tuesday of each month and the next meeting will be October 28.

Not Affected By Industry By-Law Hydro Considers Building On Pugsley And Roseview In Hill

Richmond Hill village council, which met at a joint meeting with the Planning Board Monday night, ruled that the village industry by-law which stipulates that a building to be used for industrial purposes must be set back 100 feet from any highway, would not affect a proposed new HEPC development on the corner of Pugsley and Roseview Avenues in this village area classed as industrial, since the Hydro would build offices, a store house and garage if it purchases the land. Discussion on the subject was started by E. C. Gordon, representative of the Williams Estate which owns the property, and A. R. Williams who were present at the meeting to talk over certain restrictions on the Williams land in that area. The Hydro is negotiating with them for purchase of the said area and wants to find out definitely just what the ruling is in its case if it decides to buy the land. The lot which the Hydro is considering buying is 125 feet deep and is L-shaped, on the east side of Pugsley and the north side of Roseview Avenues. "We wouldn't class this proposed development as industry," said councillor Rice who is also a member of the Planning Board. Clerk Lynett made it quite clear that the Hydro was not asking for the property for a power transmitting station.

E. Kohler Judges Show Thornhill Horticulturists See Films Of Holland's Flowers

Thornhill and District Horticultural Society held its September meeting and show at the United Church Hall when members were privileged to hear C. A. Cruickshank, specialist on bulbs, speak on tulips and show his film "Spring Charm."

In this film which is about the bulb flowering season in Holland, Queen Juliana and her daughters are seen walking through the gardens of Keukenhof admiring the bulb plantings and the carpet bedding made not of plants, but by cut flowers placed in the ground in various designs. There were parades of decorated vehicles with slow motion photography showing the opening of the tulip flowers and some slides were held and arranged this popular spring flower. Questions were answered by Mr. Cruickshank regarding the culture of various bulbs. This was most timely since gardeners will soon be planting their bulbs for next spring.

E. Kohler, who kindly judged the show gave his comments on his judging and much may be learned by exhibitors and members from his helpful remarks. A successful sale of plants was held and more than seven lucky people went home with prizes from the draw. Prizes included vases, baskets of flowers and pears donated by Mr. Kohler.

Prize-winners of the September Show were as follows:
Rose: R. Whately, Mrs. A. Martindale, Mrs. R. Healey, Chrysanthemum: Mrs. Martindale.

Foliage arrangement for mantle: Mrs. Martindale, Mrs. W. Banks, Mrs. J. Gribble. Flower arrangement for coffee table: Mrs. W. Banks, Mrs. G. Crutcher, Miss Shaw, Basket of Chrysanthemums: Mrs. Crutcher.
