1st 12-Man Game High School Gridders Edged 16-12 At Orillia Friday Night

They say that participation in extra-curricular activities is just as much a part of education in the schools as the academic work. Last Friday night in a floodlight football game in Orillia, the Richmond Hill District High School Junior team was being edged in the tricks of the 12-man game. The local boys were edged in the last quarter and the final score in the exhibition was 16-12 for Orillia.

The Orillia Collegiate Juniors are at present running wild in the Georgian Bay District League trouncing all opposition by large scores. The green shirts from Richmond Hill were making their debut into the 'big leagues' and every boy was playing the first game of 12-man football in his life. Previously they had been dabbling in the 6-man game.

After the final whistle had sounded the Orillia coach who is in "the know" with regards to the calibre of C.O.S.S.A. Junior football stated that the Hill team should have little trouble in knocking off any of the schools of the district. The officials of the game also paid the team a few compliments on the smartness of its running attack, so it looks as if the local boys have made the big step with flying colors. Everyone admired the hard and clean performance that they put on last Friday night.

Well enough of the story behind the team's coming of age - what happened in the game? In the first half, Lloyd Grainger opened the scoring with a beautiful 60 yard kick that soared above the lights and over the fence. It is rumored that the ball landed in Lake Couchiching. Then Richmond Hill put on a terrific running attack with quarterback Neil Risebrough mixing his plays very well to shake loose his speed merchants, Ace Jones, Lloyd Grainger and Red Hart. They ran the ends and plunged quite effectively and finally on a reverse play Red Hart scampered 40 yards around the end with the entire Orillia squad in pursuit but Hart saw play in the distance and pulled away with ease to score. The convert by Rick Soderberg cut the uprights for the extra point making the score 7-0 for Richmond Hill.

Then came Orillia's turn. They dug down deep in their bag of surprises and pulled out the ancient outside kick play. For those who have forgotten just what this play is, here is briefly what happens. Any player standing behind the kicker when he kicks can run down the field and grab the ball without giving the opposition a chance to catch it. Orillia would send four men thundering down and the Hill backfielders, needless to say, were a little interested in their survival with the result that there were several fumbles. The Orillia squad picked up a touchdown via this method but were foiled in their convert attempt by Richmond Hill's Bud Lahonen who knifed through to block the kick.

In the second quarter, Orillia fumbled in their backfield and Rapid Robert Miner slipped through, picked up the pigskin and was away for an unmolested 50 yard excursion and 5 points. The convert failed and the half ended with the score reading 12-5 for the local juniors.

There is a certain play which the Richmond Hill boys will never get caught on again (we hope).

On Long Gains Give Blockers Credit
 Whenever you carry the ball for a good gain - whenever you kick or pass a good one - always be sure to give your blockers lots of credit, let them know you appreciate the important part they played in making your play a success. Tell them right after the play, don't wait until the game is over. By doing this you help their morale - they will feel that their efforts really mean something. This will mean better blocking, which in turn will mean bigger and better gains for you and more victories for your team.

Remember, membership in Sports College will help you do a better job for your school, club or district team - it does not compete with such activities - it helps you with them. Make sure that everyone in your district realizes you join Sports College to help you with your other activities. To join merely send a letter to Sports College, Box 99, Toronto 1, Ont., and say you would like to join.

Wear That After-Exercise Coat
 The average young athlete does not pay enough attention to protecting his health. For example when told to put on a sweater after exercise he is inclined to say "O. K." and then forget about it. This isn't smart because by not making sure his body is kept warm after exercise he is asking for trouble in the form of colds, stiff muscles and many other ills and injuries that occur when muscles cool off too quickly. Watch the "big leaguers" and see how carefully they take care of themselves - they know it pays big dividends!
