When the school children begin to ask about the C.N.E. it is time for the Women's Institute to make reservations for a bus, or buses, to take the members and their families to the annual expedition to the Exhibition grounds. At the meeting which was held at the home of Miss Blyth Burrows last week, it was decided to change the day of the community visit to the Exhibition to Music Day, and this year that day falls on Thursday, September 3. Last year three buses were required to carry the passengers from this village. Mrs. Len Robb has been in charge of reserving the transportation, and making the required reservations for the past seven or eight years, and she will look after the arrangements for Music Day. She asks that everyone who intends to go to the Exhibition with the group must let her know of their plans by September 2, at the latest. The bus will leave King Corners at 1 o'clock and will return at night, after the Grand Stand performance. Anyone who dreads the trip to the Ex. because of the parking and difficult transportation, will never drive their own car to the grounds again after they have once gone in comfort with the community group.

Service Station
 It has been announced by Highways Minister Doucett that the first gasoline and service station on Highway 400, will be erected this year at the interchange King Side Road and the Barrie Highway. The contract and lease was awarded to the Shell Oil Company, which will build a gasoline station, with equipment capable of clearing the roads of stalled cars, and making emergency repairs. There will also be rest rooms and a restaurant where a minimum of 20 persons may be served. The colours of this station, and three others which are contemplated for the near future at cloverleafs, will be green and white, irrespective of the familiar colours used by the oil companies who will own them.

INCH - HILL
 The wedding of Miss Agnes Jeanne Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill, Nobleton, to Mr. Douglas Lyman Lee Inch, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. G. P. Inch, Hamilton, was solemnized on Saturday afternoon, August 15, in the Anglican Church, Nobleton. Rev. W. A. Westcott, Malton, performed the ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Miss Frances Agar, Nobleton. Before the service and during the signing of the register, Miss Nancy Lyburner, Hamilton, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through The Years."

Mr. Hill gave his daughter in marriage. The bride's handsome gown of Coronation lace, was fashioned with a lace bodice and scalloped peplum over a bouffant net skirt, which touched the floor. The all white bridal ensemble was completed with a net illusion veil, finger tip length, which was fastened to a dainty net headdress. The cascade bouquet which the bride carried, was made of white gladioli and stephanotis.

The attendants wore matching ballerina length gowns of turquoise net over toast taffeta, with head-dresses of turquoise net trimmed with pale toast ostrich feathers. They wore turquoise shoes. Their yellow toned gladioli and mums, and English ivy, were carried in natural straw baskets. The maid of honour was the bride's sister, Miss Shirley Hill. The bridesmaids were Miss Audrey Inch, sister of the groom, and Miss Phyllis Trusdale, both of Hamilton.

The best man was Mr. George A. C. Simpson, Hamilton, and the ushers were Mr. James P. L. Inch, Oakville, and Mr. Ronald Warren, Belleville.

At the reception, the guests were received at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother wore a gown of dusty rose lace and crepe, with hat and accessories of navy blue, and a shoulder corsage of Sweetheart roses. Mrs. Inch, mother of the groom, chose Alice blue lace, with deeper blue accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

Later, the young couple left on a motor honeymoon to the Maritimes. For travelling the bride wore a silk shantung suit of toast shade, with a paddy green hat, sequin trimmed, and matching green and tan accessories.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Inch will live in Toronto, while Mr. Inch is attending Osgoode Hall.
