"Dear Mr. Editor"
Re: New Thornhill High School
Mr. Editor:
I have been following with considerable interest the various letters and news reports in your paper concerning the new Thornhill High School. From the comments I have heard I am sure everyone in this area, neighbours and friends, is vitally concerned. The final decision as to the type of high school constructed will be affecting our children for years to come. I know the ultimate plan will not be arrived at lightly as already much time, thought and discussion has been given to this matter by those in authority. I would like to offer my opinion and add support to the stand taken by Mr. Wilf Dean - that is, technical options should be available as well as a complete academic course. It also seems reasonable to expect that my children should have physical education facilities at least equal to those we took for granted over twenty years ago and so I must honestly add that a gymnasium also fits in with my dream of the perfect high school for Thornhill. However, I know practical aspects of the matter will be the deciding factor. But let us build thoughtfully and well for ALL the children looking forward to a well-rounded secondary school education. Sincerely yours, W. A. Ladell Pres. Thornhill Home and School Association.

Plan For Greater Richmond Hill Needs Your Support

An important announcement in last week's issue of The Liberal was that final approval had been given to the "Richmond Hill Plan". The way is now cleared for planned development and industrial growth. This is important news to every ratepayer in Richmond Hill and all interested in the development of the district. This is the day of planned development - in fact planned development is a "must." If a municipality doesn't have planned development in this day and age, it just won't have development. Thus by having an approved plan Richmond Hill now is in a position to greatly speed up its program of industrial development. A splendid start already has been made and we look forward with confidence to much greater development in the days ahead. The decks have been cleared for action and now united effort is needed to bring about the best results. Richmond Hill has been well served by those in public office, but in addition to their good leadership and united effort there must be whole-hearted community support. Everyone can make a contribution to the development of the Greater Richmond Hill by being a booster. Every community has some boosters - but there could be no stopping a community where everyone is a booster. That is what we would like to see in Richmond Hill. The immediate need is for industrial development. Wide-awake communities are competing with each other to share in the present industrial growth of Canada.

A merchant who wants to attract business first makes sure that his place of business is in order and attractive, and then lets the world know that he wants business. The municipality wanting industry today must first make sure its house is in order, in that it has available land, necessary services and an adopted plan for development. It then must tell the world that it wants industry. Richmond Hill has its house in order thanks to the vision, hard work and good leadership of its Municipal Council and Planning Board. It has available land with the necessary services and it has a plan. Richmond Hill also is fortunate in having a Chamber of Commerce ready to give every assistance in telling the world that we want industry. Recently the Industrial Committee of the Chamber issued a concise and attractive brochure giving in detail the statistics and information required by those interested in industrial sites. It already has had a wide distribution and there have been many fine compliments from leaders in industry and commerce. The fine work which has been done in giving Richmond Hill "a plan" and in laying the foundation for planned development merits the whole-hearted and active support of every citizen. With everyone a Booster we are confident that the next few years will see unprecedented growth and development in Greater Richmond Hill.

POVERTY AND CHARACTER
Not long ago, after a bank robbery in a Canadian city, a letter appeared in a leading newspaper, written by a man who thought he could explain the cause of crime. Here is the substance of the letter: "These bandits were probably men frustrated by poverty; if they had jobs this wouldn't have happened. Crime stems directly from poverty. Abolish poverty and crime would disappear." This sounds plausible, and because there is an element of truth in the statement it is often taken at par value. Nobody would deny that sordid home conditions do tend to depress and warp character. In any study of juvenile delinquency this truth is evident. This interruption caused a lot of amusement but I felt sure the man was right. The puns would do a big business. Work is not a curse; it can be a blessing. Two centuries ago, the poet, William Cowper wrote: Absence of occupation is not rest. A mind quite vacant is a mind distressed. There is such a thing as: 'The angel of Toil,' and the idea that continual freedom from work and responsibility would be the millennium is a delusion. Using the word in its widest sense it seems to me that our basic needs are spiritual and in that realm we must find our satisfactions. I am not trying to even suggest what form it should take but there are exalted ways of living which can be classified as spiritual and which bring serenity and peace. I feel sure the man who thought crime was caused by poverty was mistaken, but when it comes to find out the main cause, like many wiser minds, I am baffled. I do believe, however, there is something in what Augustine said, seventeen centuries ago: 'Lord, Thou hast made us for Thyself, and we are restless, until we rest in Thee.'

TODAY'S QUOTATION
Our quotation today is from Isaiah 55: 'Incline your ear and come unto me; hear and your soul shall live.'

But what are we to make of the fact that in prosperous times, with high material standards of living and very little unemployment, crime is at a high level. Furthermore, it is well-known that many criminals come from homes where there is no poverty; often from homes of affluence. Frequently criminals are extremely well-to-do. Some have left vast fortunes. This is no eulogy of poverty - it is a serious social problem - but we must face the truth that many of the finest people in the world have been quite poor all their lives and, on the other hand, criminals have been rich and continued to be law-breakers, long after they became wealthy. Whatever else is revealed it seems evident that stark materialism has failed that human desires cannot be satisfied with material possessions. Human beings desire something deeper, richer,

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crisp, Janet and David, were guests of Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Crisp last week-end. Mrs. O. Brooke and Mrs. Clara McGee entertained guests from the U.S.A. last week. Isabel Hood has enrolled at the Ryerson School of Technology in the Domestic Science Course. Mrs. John Wilkins was guest speaker when Headford W.I. held its September meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gray were guests of Braedon Farm recently. Messrs. Norman Reid and Leslie Hood attended the United Church Laymen's Conference which was held at Wildwood Inn, Sparrow Lake, last week-end. About 50 young people from Oakwood Baptist Church attended a corn roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jones on Monday evening. Church News Last Sunday morning the Junior Farmers mixed quartette sang at the church service. Members of the group are Joyce Campbell of Markham, Eldred King of Stouffville, and Ted and Mary Gough. A christening of wide interest took place, when the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John McWilliams was baptized. Mr. McWilliams mother had come from Scotland for the event. Anniversary Next Sunday Headford Church Anniversary will be held at 8 o'clock. Brown's Corners Sunday School will meet at 9:45 and members will join in the church service at Headford. W.M.S. W.M.S. members and friends met at the church for the monthly meeting. Mrs. Wm. Rodick was in the chair, and Mrs. S. J. English at the piano. The Devotional Periol was conducted by Mrs. Walter Brunnum and Miss Rhea Scott. Mrs. C. J. Russell began the review of the book, "Where'er the Sun." Mrs. John Black was appointed Literature Secretary. The ladies agreed to cater for a men's Club banquet to be held in the church on September 30. It was tentatively decided to call off the bazaar originally planned for this fall - this is still open for discussion. Following the formal closing of the meeting the ladies adjourned to the parlour where the committee served tea. Bales-Boyington Following the marriage of Doreen Boyington and Oliver Bales, which took place last Saturday afternoon in Victoria Square United Church, a reception was held in Buttonville Hall. Members of the Women's Institute served the wedding supper to approximately 100 guests. The bride's table centred with the wedding cake was beautifully decorated with bowls of large chrysanthemums in pastel shades. The tables seating the remaining guests were decorated with rose petals, confetti and late garden flowers in pale shades. Around the room were banded baskets of gladioli and asters. The bride was lovely in a gown of ivory satin with a slight train. Her fingertip veil fell from a matching ivory cap. The three bridesmaids, Mrs. Kenneth Bennett, Mrs. Clifford Cox and Miss Jessie Boyington, sister of the bride, were gowned in melon pink, of ballerina length, with matching triple banded headresses and gold brocade shoes. Next Saturday a wedding of interest to the community will take place in Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church when George Hooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hooper, takes as his bride, Miss Joan Bourne of Richmond Hill. Among those who have entertained for the couple are: her bridesmaids, who held a shower at the home of the groom's family; Mrs. R. Tilt of Richmond Hill, a shower; Bell Telephone office staff, a presentation; Presbyterian Church choir, a presentation; Miss Doreen Bennett of Richmond Hill, a shower. The Junior Farmers held a presentation party in Buttonville Hall for George and Joan and Jack Wiggins entertained at a stag party. W. I. Activities Instead of holding their regular September meeting, Buttonville W. I. members paid a visit to the Newark Market Aid Folks Home Thursday evening of last week. They were most enthusiastically received, and had a pleasant time singing old time songs and distributing small gifts among the residents. The round up of the evening went on until the Summit Restaurant for refreshments.

Advertising - Your Invitation To Business

We never apologize for repetition of the advice - deal in your Home Community. Richmond Hill and district communities are well served by modern stores and well equipped business-places operated by well qualified and responsible owners. These Home-Community business people have interests in common with everyone who lives here or has a stake in the community. They help pay local taxes, support our schools, our churches, our charities, and our public institutions. Money spent here with them, helps them help everyone else build up this community. Local business places give good value and good service. You can deal with them in confidence, and in comfort free from traffic jams and traffic hazards. Local business places have so many things in their favor that we wonder they ever have cause for concern about business going to the big city stores and shopping centres. One reason is that too often local business places neglect to keep a growing community adequately informed of the goods and services they have to offer. Business people in this district have an excellent opportunity of keeping a fast growing community well informed of their goods and services by advertising in "The Liberal." This newspaper which has been the Home Paper of the district since 1878 is read by more than 10,000 people in the trading area every week. People will deal wherever they want to deal. A merchant's problem is to make people want to deal with him. After making sure of an adequate supply of goods and services, a good way to make people aware you want their business is to invite them to your store or place of business. Merchants and business people who advertise in The Liberal are saying welcome to the thousands of people in this growing community. They are well equipped to serve you and invite your patronage. Patronize our advertisers and you will be helping yourself, and helping your Home Community.

SEPTEMBER 14, 1933
Improved street lighting is being planned for the village. Yonge St. north of Richmond Hill is to be widened. The Reeve has received encouragement from the Relief secretary that local unemployed men may be used on the project. Mr. Benjamin S. Bernard passed away at his home in Detroit after a week's illness. He was an early resident of the village, living in the house now occupied by the Moodie family. The fall lacrosse season will open next Monday night when the Camp Borden Fliers play the first game here. Right Wor. Bro. J. H. Rerrington, Past District Deputy Grand Master of Toronto District C, was presented with Grand Lodge Regalia recently. SEPTEMBER 8, 1938
Bush fires were very prevalent during the dry spell. Last Sunday, hundreds of men were fighting the fire in Vaughan Township and considerable damage was done. The farm buildings of Mr. A. Cameron on the 8th Concession had a close call and were saved only after a lot of hard work. The thermometer recorded 98 degrees on the Observatory in Toronto, on Friday, a higher temperature than has been recorded since 1854. The Metropolitan management may now be said to be fairly starting on the extension of their railway line from the village to Bond's Lake. They have made use of a freight car to haul a large number of ties from the south as well as carts, shovels and other implements necessary to the construction. Work has also commenced at the power house which will be built at the lake between the present roadway and the water. It is proposed to put in a 1500 horse power generator so that very heavy loads may be hauled over the line. A large force of men will commence grading in a few days. The company is anxious to extend the line to Aurora and Newmarket but it is understood they would like those towns as well as the townships of King and Whitchurch to exempt them from municipal taxation. SEPTEMBER 10, 1931
The new two room addition to the Langstaff School was officially opened by Reeve George Kellam. The total cost was $2,750.00. Vaughan township has set the tax rate at 6.2 mills, a drop of 2 cents from last year. Unemployment in the township totals 87. A sidewalk project has been revised to provide work. R. L. Stiver of Unionville has brought a corn stalk measuring 15 feet 1 inch to the Liberal office. For Sale: 50 foot lots on the Markham Road, $150. each.

Rev. E. H. Umstead preached to a large congregation Sunday evening September 20 when the members of the Masonic Order were special guests. The text for the evening was "The Greatest of these is Love," I Cor. 13:13. Rev. C. H. Bowman assisted in the service. Special music was rendered by the church choir, with Mrs. Roy Clegg at the organ. The soloist was Mr. Roy Clegg who sang "Teach me to Pray."
Shower
A community shower was held in the Masonic Hall, Maple, Monday evening, September 14, for Miss Doreen Jenner. Many useful and lovely gifts were received. After opening these Doreen assisted by her fiance Orval Keffer and Eileen Kyle, thanked everyone very graciously.
Maple United W.A.
The W.A. of Maple United Church was held in the Sunday School room on Wednesday, September 16. Mrs. Harry Jackson was in charge for the month of September. Mrs. Norman Robson and Mrs. Cyril Dyson took the worship period and Mrs. Roy Clegg and Miss Margaret Ramsay rendered two piano duets.
A special feature of the evening was Mrs. George Barker and Mrs. Freeman Barker both of Headford who gave an interesting talk on the arranging of flowers and showed colored pictures. Many articles of handcraft which each member brought in were on display. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge, which brought to a close an enjoyable get-together.
