Painter of Water-Color Blooms

Your correspondent, although a little late in doing so, would like to introduce to her readers, the very interesting and charming Mrs. Hope Haines, who recently opened the "Hope Shop" in Thornhill. Mrs. Haines was born in Montreal as Hope Darling came to Toronto with her husband the late T. R. King and settled in Weston, where they both became ardent gardeners. During convalescing from an operation Mrs. King who later adopted the pseudonym "Hope", started to paint flowers, and in the space of a few months painted over 100 individual pictures of more than 50 varieties of garden blooms. She later presented a pair to a very close friend, Mrs. R. M. Wansborough, who in giving a tea to which she was inviting some 200 guests, suggested she give a private showing. This showing was followed by a public showing at Malloy's Galleries. "Hope" later started painting Canadian wild flowers of which she had hoped to make a complete collection. The early set was broken up when the late Dr. James Goodwin purchased a great many. The fact that this artist has never taken a lesson in her life has amazed many people, including the late Augustus Bridle, art and music critic, whose complimentary press notices are among her most prized possessions.

About Books And Reading

By the Thornhill Librarian

There are many reasons why people live beyond the limits of big cities, the opportunities to watch and study the eternal miracle of the changing seasons, the summer bird visitors, and those that remain with us all the year, the flowers that cheer our walks from March to September. It is readily admitted that the best ties and mysteries of nature is in company with a well informed friend; lacking such a companion, we can turn to many books to answer our questions.

Mrs. Miriam Kent Passes Service Sat. At Thornhill

Notwithstanding the day's storm and the difficulties of traffic, the funeral service for Mrs. Miriam Elsie Kent, wife of Rev. Dr. E. E. Kent, minister of the United Churches at Thornhill and Carrville, was attended by an assembly which filled the Thornhill church last Saturday afternoon, November 1. Mrs. Kent died suddenly, at mid-week, at Western Hospital Toronto, which she had entered only a few days earlier.

In addition to the people of the two congregations to which her husband ministered, Mrs. Kent had many other friends in the Toronto area and in the country about Webbwood, Angus and Thornton, where Dr. Kent formerly held charges. Their sorrow was made the keener by the shock of her death's unexpectedness. Many beautiful floral offerings from church organizations and others spoke both of the affection in which Mrs. Kent was held and the sadness brought by her death.

At the brief church service Rev. Gordon Domm, minister of Bathurst United Church, Toronto, Past Chairman of Toronto Centre Presbytery of which Dr. Kent is present Chairman, paid moving tribute to Mrs. Kent as a woman, personality who would be remembered with affection for her own kindness and remembered with gratitude in various communities because of her devotion and faithfulness in the work of the church and her contribution to other good causes. Organ music for the service was played by Mrs. Winnifred Heath and the choir of the Thornhill church led the congregation in the singing of "Rock of Ages". As the funeral cortege moved to the Thornhill cemetery the clear, singing tones of the organ chimed carried appropriate selections over the air from the church tower.

At the cemetery the committal service was conducted by Rev. Fred Smith, minister of Oak United Church, Toronto, an intimate friend of the Kent family for many years. Next Sunday morning Mr. Smith will be the preacher at a service in Mrs. Kent's memory at the Thornhill church at 11 o'clock.

Palbearers at the funeral were members of the official board of the Thornhill and Carrville congregations. The honorary pallbearers were K. S. Duncan, W. A. Ladell and W. R. Linton, of Thornhill Board of Stewards and William George, Robert Middleton and John Oliver, of Carrville Board of Session. Active bearers from the Thornhill church session were Eric Shuiver, N. L. Morton, Gordon A. Crutcher, C. Grant Gibson, A. F. Martindale, and J. D. McGhee.

Surviving Mrs. Kent, in addition to her husband, are two daughters and three sons. The daughters are Shirley, now Mrs. Linton Timbers, of Milliken, and Miriam, at home, the sons Ernest, of Langstaff and Archie and Donald, both at home. Mrs. Kent is also survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Galley, of Robina Avenue, Toronto, but formerly of
