Public Speaking & Personality

Development

Are you one of the many people whose work or social activities require that you must from time to time make a public speech?

You don't have to answer because we know that everyone is called upon at some time or other. The point is did you, or will you make a good job of it?

The Richmond Hill Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring for your benefit as a community betterment project a 16-week course in Public Speaking & Personality Development.

This course is a must for people who like to make a good job of social work and should be rewarding in many ways to business people who want to get ahead. —Learn to think on your feet. —

This course is open to both Men and Women.

OPEN NIGHT NOVEMBER 23

Because this is something new we are making the first night free to all comers. Be sure to come and see if this isn't just what you need.

To be sure of a place, REGISTER NOW. Many have already done so. Contact Jim Baird, TU. 4-1125. Course Fee $15.00.

EDGELEY NEWS

CORRESPONDENT: Mrs. Raymond Stuart, R. R. 1 Maple Telephone Maple 110R3

W.I. The November meeting of the Edgeley Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Peelar Tuesday, November 12.

Beginning with a pot luck luncheon at the noon hour, the program consisted of a paper on "Polio" given by Mrs. Bert Cook, organ solos by Mrs. Peelar and a report of the Central Area Convention by delegate Mrs. C. H. Boake. The highlight of the afternoon was a Christmas candle-making demonstration by Mrs. F. Wicks of Markham.

On December 3, the W.I. members will have the school children as their luncheon guests in the Community Hall.

Farm Forum

The important part played by the farm wife as a partner with her husband was the subject of discussion in Farm Forum Monday, November 9, under the title "Partners All."

In the opinion of the groups, the attitude of the farmer's wife has a great deal to do with their success or failure in farming. Cooperation between a farmer and his wife is essential and should include frank discussion in all business and financial matters as two heads are always better than one. The wife should help with outside work when possible and conditions permit it, but she should not overdo it. If there are small children in the home, the wife's place is in the home. Both should make a will which simplifies matters in cases of emergency.

The farm wife should definitely try to keep informed on farming techniques and marketing problems so that she can take an intelligent part in the planning and management of the farm business. If anything should happen to her husband, the wife would then be in a better position to carry on the business.

This meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keffer, November 9, with discussion leader R. J. Darlington in charge of the discussion groups.

HEADFORD NEWS

Correspondent: Mrs. H. Acreman R. R. 2 Gormley, Ont. Phone Turner 4-2236

A number of friends surprised Don Barton last week when they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brillinger for a "stag" party to present Don with a leather club bag.

Headford Home and School Association met on Friday evening last for its Family Night and Bazaar. As it was a regular meeting, a brief business session was held, and this was followed by a program by the pupils, with songs by some of the older girls, and a piano solo by Irene Watters. Mrs. Freeman Barker showed some lovely pictures of gardens and flowers, and three reels of English pictures including the Coronation. Mrs. Vizely, the president, then declared the bazaar open. The various booths were well patronized, the sale of soft drinks by the school boys, and the bazaar for the small fry proving especially popular. The treasurer's statement has not yet been made, but judging by the response the bazaar was a marked success.

The next regular meeting will be on December 1, when the guest speaker will be Mrs. Dorothy Bowman, the famous physiotherapist. The committee has planned a program with a touch of Christmas for that night.

Social Notes
Mrs. Roy Simpson, Mrs. Walter Leuschner and Ron were guests at the Beaton-McCue wedding in Toronto on Saturday.

After an absence in the West of 46 years, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker, who formerly lived in this district have returned for a visit and are renewing acquaintances around here. They were guests for the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brodie and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wellman called on friends in Inlington Sunday.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. Elmer Leek in the loss of his aunt, Mrs. Hunt of Gormley. Mrs. Hunt, who has not been in robust health of late, passed away on Saturday last. Her daughter, Mrs. Willis Hunking, wife of Rev. Willis Hunking, is well known to the folk of this community.

It was decided on Sunday that the date of Headford Sunday School Christmas concert be set forward to December 11. Please take note of the change from December 9, as announced last week. There will be further notices.

Mr. George McConnell of Alderwood and daughter Judy were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Acreman on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wellman were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wellman on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scholes and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pierce, all of Toronto, were entertained at dinner at the beginning of the week by Murray and Lorraine Acreman.

Wedding

Beautiful St. John's Church, York Mills, was the scene on Saturday, November 14, at four o'clock of the lovely wedding of Dorothy daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCue, and Donald Beaton, son of Mr. Archie and the late Mrs. Beaton of Mabou, Inverness County, Cape Breton. For the ceremony, conducted by the curate, Rev. Bagley, the altar was massed with white chrysanthemums. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite gown of diamante studded alencon lace and tulle over white satin, with a mandarin collared bolero and carried a cascade of Premier rosebuds and white chrysanthemums. Her finger-tip length veil was edged with lace and fell from a tiara of white. Her bridesmaid, Evelyn Dyson, was dressed in yellow organdy, floorlength, made with a berth; and carried bronze and yellow 'mums and pink sweet peas.

Kenneth Leuschner supported the groom. A reception followed at the bride's home on Soudan Ave., Toronto, with Mrs. McCue in navy sheer with corsage of pink rosebuds. For travelling the bride wore hunter's green. The couple will live in Richmond Hill.

RICHVALE NEWS

CORRESPONDENT: MRS. J. J. TAYLOR Telephone TU. 4-2269

The Flutophone Band with Donna Wainwright at the piano, under the direction of Mr. P. Kurita, played their instruments skilfully at the Richvale Home and School on Monday evening. They played two numbers, on a two-part song, and two of the group, Donna Wainwright and Robin Wood, favoured the audience with solos.

The announcement was made that two scholarships of $20 each would be given for the Grade 8 pupils, one for proficiency and one for highest academic standing. Attendance prizes for each grade, as in former years, would take the form of books to be chosen by the teachers.

Grade 6 won the attendance record for the month. It was decided to withdraw the December meeting.

Principal Ralph Brown introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. George Jackson, former Convener of Parent Education of York-Simcoe Council and Past President of Thornlea Home and School Association. Mrs. Jackson began by discussing helping points in bringing up "Our Best Friends — Our Children."

In her remarks Mrs. Jackson said that skill in family living is perhaps the greatest skill we can give our children, and that the more lightness we can bring to the job the greater our effectiveness in helping our children meet the world, as it is, with assurance. "In developing a give and take basis in the family we are helping to see through Johnny so that when he is grown Johnny may see himself through."

In any undesirable situation which recurs regularly it is time to stop and take stock of ourselves. "Why am I losing my temper continuously?" — for instance. Then when we think the thing through we can find out the cause and with perhaps some self discipline or making a change the unwanted situation is improved and corrected.

Three very readable books available without charge from Courtice Library which are a help to the enquiring parent recommended by the speaker were: All in the Family, Stop Annoying Your Children and Your Best Friends are Your Children. Following an impromptu three minute skit by members, the audience broke up into discussion groups.

Personals
Mrs. Ellen Bradshaw, Edgway Ave., arrived home Thursday night from an extended trip to Belfast, Ireland, where she was met at the boat by her three sisters whom she hadn't seen for 35 years, and 24 nieces and nephews. Mrs. F. E. Killam of Edgway Ave., who has recently recovered from a fortnight's illness, left on Sunday to visit her youngest daughter, Mrs. Waite in Willowdale.

Mrs. W. Porch of Carrville left for Montreal by train Monday morning, to meet her wife, who is returning on board the Ascania from a two months' sojourn in England, where she has been seeing all her family and relatives.

Mrs. F. Lockhart, Spruce Ave., was returning from a month's visit to her daughter in Windsor last Wednesday, when she sustained a severe injury to her shoulder near the collarbone. Just as she was getting into the automobile from the train, she fell out, and wrenched the muscles severely. A speedy recovery is hoped for her.

Mr. S. D. Gillies, formerly situated in Richvale, was the speaker at Richvale Chapel Sunday evening. Music was provided by the Bibleton Trio.

The Richvale Anglican W.A. is holding a bake sale at the home of Mrs. James Allen, 183 Spruce on November 26, beginning at 2.30 p.m.
