Children of the district met at the home of Mrs. S. R. Patterson to hold the Christmas meeting of the Davidson Mission Band. With Christmas carols and stories told by Miss Ellen Boynton and John Rodick establishing the Christmas spirit, a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. Rodick and John Rodick; World Friends secretary, Nancy Brown.

Games were played during the social period and prizes were won by Cynthia Easton and Gar Nelson. Refreshments were served.

The only change in slate of officers was that of secretary for Missionary Monthly. Miss R. Scott will take this duty during the absence of Mrs. E. Walton who will spend the winter in Florida.

The church parlors had been given a festive air by the committee in charge, with a candle-lit nativity scene and beautifully decorated Christmas tree. The devotional service on the Christmas theme was conducted by Mrs. N. Reid, Mrs. K. Stotts and Miss R. Scott. Refreshments were served.

W. I. Meeting
Mrs. Dora Pralet was hostess to Institute members when they met at her home on Thursday of last week. Mrs. Pralet and Mrs. M. Sherman welcomed the guests. To insure promptness a draw was held at 2.30 p.m. which was won by Mrs. A. Miller. The speaker was Mrs. Lloyd Stonehouse who gave a most interesting historical sketch on the town of Font-hill where history was made during the early 19th century. Mrs. John Wilkins entertained with election selections. Gifts of candy and Jam were brought for inmates of 999 Queen W. and these were turned over to Mrs. McGimpsey for distribution.

During the business meeting it was decided to serve a luncheon to the Ayrshire Breeders' Assoc. on January 12 at Buttonville Hall. Euchre parties will commence at Buttonville Hall on the evening of Monday, January 11 and thereafter be held every second Monday. Best wishes were extended to Mrs. Pralet who leaves soon to visit her home in the Channel Islands.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Purves.

When the business was concluded, Mrs. Pralet and Mrs. Sherman served delicious refreshments.

Neighbourhood News

Best wishes for a happy holiday season to the staff of the Liberal and to all our readers. We are happy to note that Mr. Walter Brumwell and Mr. Elmore Hill are progressing nicely since their return from hospital.

The best wishes of the community are extended to Jocelyn Easton whose marriage to Mr. Joseph Daut takes place in the Brown's Corners Church, January 16, 1954, at 7 p.m.

White Gift Sunday
Rev. Dr. Wesley Hunisett was the guest speaker on Sunday at Brown's Corners Sunday school. With him, Dr. Hunisett brought a group of boys who formed an orchestra. The gifts which were piled high around the tree as a special Christmas offering, will be given to the Fred Victor Mission for distribution. Gifts of money were received and this will provide hymn books for a United Church post in the Arctic.

Concerts Coming Up
The young fry of the neighborhood are lending their voices to Christmas songs and memorizing recitations like mad in preparation for the church concert which will be held Friday evening of this week, and for the Buttonville school concert which will take place in the Hall on Monday of next week. Anyone who has attended these programs in former years will be on hand, we know. For those of our readers who have not had the pleasure, we can assure them it is a sure way to catch the Christmas spirit.

MENU STANDBY

With a little experimentation salads can be an exceedingly versatile item of the daily menu. Most important, they are the source of necessary nutrients. Most vegetables are, through force of habit, boiled, often with too much water and for too long a time. By combining different kinds in their raw state, a new taste treat is produced. Grated or sliced, some of our vegetables such as carrots, turnips, asparagus and cabbage, are good additions to a salad.

Farm Forum

What training are rural young people getting to prepare them to take their place as citizens? The future of the world will be in the hands of the young people of today and the future of Canada will rest with the boys and girls now growing up. Of these, about 20% come from farms. Are Canadian rural youth programs preparing our farm boys and girls to take on the tremendous responsibilities they will have to face as citizens of Canada and the world? That is the big question the Farm Forum considered when they discussed the topic "Citizens of Tomorrow" on Monday, December 7.

(1) Do you think the 4-H Clubs and other youth programs in your province have been successful in producing community and farm organization leaders?

(2) Some people say that if a young man is a good farmer he is making sufficient contribution to the community without taking part in farm or other community organizations. What do you think?

(3) How can the interest of young people be developed in such problems as Canadian public affairs and international relations? In Edgeley, most of our farm organization leaders have had training in Junior Farmer and other youth organization, it was stated at the Forum meeting which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Keffer, Maple. A good farmer should and will feel a responsibility to the community and take part in whatever organizational program he feels he is capable of, such as those of Farm Forum, Junior Farmers and the Federation of Agriculture. We need good farmers and we need good leaders but the Forum members find that it is sometimes difficult for one person to be both.

As our young people will be most directly affected by decisions at the national and international levels, it is our business to make the discussion of the problems of today interesting for them. This, the Forum found, is being done as our young people study and write on national and international relations in High School. When interest is stirred they gain further information by reading, listening to radio broadcasts and viewing films. Perhaps the greatest interest is aroused when these subjects are discussed intelligently in the home. The Forum members think it is the duty of parents to encourage their children to take an interest in these matters.

Social and Personal
We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. N. Peeler on the occasion of their 15th wedding anniversary, December 17.

At the annual meeting of the Women's Association of Edgeley United Church, held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Stone, Thursday afternoon, December 10, the existing slate of officers, except for the secretary, was returned to office to serve for another year. Mrs. Fred Hendry succeeded Mrs. James Bagg as secretary. The other officers are: president, Mrs. Arthur Avery, and treasurer, Mrs. Garnet Keffer. Mrs. Eldon Fierheller conducted the election of officers.

UXBRIDGE : O.P.P. Constable Slim Wilton fired five warning shots at a car over the week-end when the 20-year-old driver of a car would not stop for questioning. The officer was investigating some cottage break-ins in the area when he noticed the parked car start up.
