A. C. Huston performed the double-ring ceremony amidst a setting of ferns and yellow, bronze and white chrysanthemums.

The soloist, Mrs. Allan Orr, sang "O Perfect Love" and "A Wedding Prayer." Miss Coral Perkins was organist. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a strapless gown of applique net over taffeta, the skirt ending in a train. Over the gown was a lace redingote, the collar of which was trimmed with pearls, her finger-tip veil was caught to a coronet of pearls and she carried a cascade of red roses, fern and white chrysanthemums.

The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Al. Rope of Toronto, who wore an olive green shot taffeta waltz length gown with matching jacket, headress and mittens.

The bridesmaids were Misses Grace Boynton and Margaret Canning, sisters of the bride and groom, who wore rose and gold shot taffeta waltz-length gowns with matching jacket, headress and mittens. The attendants carried cascades of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and ferns. The flower girls, Misses Carol Bilyea and Margaret Sandile, cousin and niece of the bride were gowned alike in floor-length rose shot taffeta dresses with matching headress and mittens. They carried nosegays of pink roses and carnations and ferns.

Enters Photo Competition

Amateur Photography is a great hobby, especially if carried through from photographing your subject, making your own developers, processing your film to making enlargements in a home-made dark room. Mr. Roy Paul of Spruce Avenue Richvale has enjoyed this same hobby for many years, and for the first time entered some of his prints in a competition. On Wednesday, October 13, one of his entries which has been accepted in the Hadassah amateur photo contest was published. We wish him every success in the judging of the photographs submitted.
