CARS ARE MY LINE

By Bud Lauria

Should it be snow tires or chains this winter? It may be a question of money, but there are other considerations too.

The great advantage of snow tires is that they are always with you. With chains, you can find yourself stuck after leaving them at home when the snow seemed to be clearing. Chains, as any experienced winter driver knows, aren't to be sneezed at. In deep snow, the sides of the chains give a lot of extra traction, and chains can batter their way through the ice to get you going on the most impossible road.

That same battering-ram action on the ice works another way. When the chains start pounding the bare pavement you can expect a pretty sorry suspension system in short order.

They've taken the noise out of the newer snow tires, and they give a better grip too.

The decision between chains and snow tires rests largely with the kind of roads you're going to be travelling: whether the snow is going to stay most of the winter, or pile up off and on.

If you really get stuck, you can usually ease yourself out by letting most of the air out of the back tires — and then crawl along to the next service station.

If you haven't lined up your winter transportation yet, you know where to come for the best selection of snug and well-groomed used cars. And right now is the time to start shopping.

Inhaling Immunity

A new method of inoculating fowl against Newcastle disease invites the attention of a King, His Majesty King Phumipol Aduldej of Thailand (right) watches as the vaccine is given intranasally. The vaccine was developed from a virus brought to Thailand by Dr. John Lancaster (second from right), a U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization expert from the United Kingdom. The new method has made possible successful mass field tests in an effort to wipe out the disease which is a scourge of the country's poultry industry. The cooperation of Thai farmers, who grow very fond of their barn animals, was gained when the painless inoculation was introduced.

Langstaff Baptist Church (Held last week)

The church was filled to capacity for the annual Christmas Witness Program given by the scholars of the Sunday School Department on Tues., Dec. 28. Teachers and scholars were commended for their efforts put forth as each class took its place on the platform to sing or recite something from the Word of God.

As always, the beginners class of tiny tots delighted the listeners with their singing of "Away in a Manger" and "Into My Heart."

It was gratifying to see the large number of students receive awards for faithful attendance at Sunday School during the past year. Two students, Bill Mann and Brian Corner, received special awards for perfect attendance.

Mrs. F. Caffen was called to the platform to receive a gift from the Sunday School. Mrs. Caffen had been a faithful teacher in the Sunday School for 11 years but had recently resigned because of ill health.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Carter were deeply grateful for the lovely electrical cooking equipment presented to them for Janitor service rendered during the past year.

A lovely plant was given to the pastor and his wife for their untiring efforts on behalf of the Sunday School. After the benediction, each child was given an orange and bag of candy bringing to an end a very happy time of fellowship.

The program was conducted by Stan Carter in the absence of Mr. Elwood McLean, who is recuperating from his recent heart operation.

The Vickers Viscount, TCA's new turbo-prop airliner is seen over Montreal as it nears the end of its delivery flight from England. Waste Tins Not Garbage Cans

The large containers placed on Richmond Hill streets by the Junior Chamber of Commerce are for the collection of papers and packages which otherwise would litter our streets. They serve a useful purpose and are very much appreciated by the citizens generally.

The containers are not receptacles in which to deposit garbage, and police are investigating recent complaints that they have been used for this purpose. Offenders when apprehended will be prosecuted.
