Seek Site For Gas Station

Representatives from the Shell Oil Co. met with the Vaughan Township Council last Monday to request that an amendment to an existing by-law be passed to permit the Shell Co. to erect a service station on the south corner of Thornhill Ave. and Yonge Street. The Council registered no objection to the plan but recommended that the Shell Co. contact property owners concerned for their reaction. Deputy-Reeve Albert Rutherford commented that he felt it was a good idea to encourage a good clean type of commercial assessment in the township.

New Motel Planned On No. 7

Vaughan Township Council has received a request for approval of a 15-unit motel to be erected on No. 7 highway at the south-west corner of the 6th concession on the Stephenson farm. An earlier request was turned down because of lot size, but since the owner has complied with the building regulations, there is every indication that approval will now be given.

RAISING GRANDMA AS A PET?

Over-coddling of an elderly person is not always good for him or her. It can also be hard on the family, if they live together. Most old people would like to make their own decisions and to get around by themselves. They enjoy small responsibilities, if they are normally healthy. With the best intentions, loving relatives may be mistakenly giving the old person an impression that he or she is past usefulness in the world.
