"Faith in the Future"
 The bronze horsewoman, high on a marble-faced pedestal, is a new landmark at the East River Headquarters in New York of the United Nations. The statue named "Mir" (Peace) is a gift from the Government of Yugoslavia to the United Nations. In unveiling the gift, Ambassador Joza Brilej, Yugoslavia's Permanent Representative to U.N., said that the gift symbolized his countrymen's devotion to the U.N. Charter and their faith in the future of the Organization. The above view was taken looking westward from the United Nations gardens. In the right background New York's famous Chrysler skyscraper can be seen.

Church Break-In
 It is difficult to imagine the sort of person who would break into a church with intent to rob, but the fact remains that such persons exist.
 Periodically, Brown's Corners Church members find on entering the church that someone has broken in and created havoc.
 Last fall the Sunday School projector was stolen, as well as two dish pans. Then last week another break-in occurred. Nothing of value had been left at the church, so this time nothing was missing, but a thorough search had been made, probably for money, and furniture was overturned and records scattered. This it seems to us, is the lowest form of petty larceny and should be discouraged by police intervention.
